Good weather good crowd at Lougheed annual fair

A large crowd saw the parade, held at Lougheed Fair last Saturday, August 13th. Attendance was much higher than last year. The day's first event started off with a beautiful parade, which was headed off by Parade Marshal, Mr. Ken Clouston, followed by The Legionettes Flag Carriers and then Coronation Band, next Senior Citizens beautifully decorated float. Everyone was all decked out for the occasion. Followed by open top car, carrying the three levels of government, Mayor and President, followed by numerous floats, novelties (town and car) decorated bicycles, donkeys pulling carts, beautiful horses, etc. The parade was led down main street and in around town. A Potluck Breakfast was held at the Museum which was also a big success and everyone enjoyed it. Then Coronation Band played again at the noon hour break. The afternoon entertainment consisted of fast ball games and hard ball, and lots of other entertainment for the young and old. The Senior Citizens on their float drew tickets for King and Queen. Mr. Jim Jackson won the King's and Mrs. McCune the Queen's. Congratulations. The Overall Exhibits were up from last year and beautifully displayed at the Curling Rink. The evening wound up with a Bar-be-que Supper at the Arena. A dance was held at the Community Hall with the Polka Kings playing. A good time was had by all. Mr. Tim Forberg from Edmonton was down last week visiting with his parents and took in the Fair.

Grant received a Master of Education degree. He received his Bachelor of Education degree from the University of Alberta in 1969. Grant and wife Ethel live at Box 90 in Newbrook. He is a 1959 graduate of Prairie High School in Three Hills.

CHEQUE FOR AGRI-PLEX — Dorothy Stubbs happily receives a cheque for $400 from Al Myers of Burger King in Camrose. It is the 4th year Mr. Myers has made this donation on behalf of Colonel Marjorie Sander's Charitable Organizations. The funds for the donation is a percentage of chicken sale by the Camrose firm and is made available to such worth while projects as the Agri-Plex in Killam.

Sedgewick mayor, Bill Johnson, officially opened the Tennis Courts, August 11

Sedgewick Tennis club officially opens courts

"Tennis is not a team sport, but a gentleman's sport," said Sedgewick mayor, Bill Johnson, at the opening ceremonies of the Sedgewick Tennis Courts August 11.

Mr. Johnson, during his remarks, recollected of days past when the County of Flaxstaff was just an area in Alberta where tennis was a popular sport. He showed to the crowd of 20 people a plaque presented to his brother when he lived at Strome for his tennis playing ability.

President of the Sedgewick Tennis Club, Dave Tanton, welcomed everyone to the opening ceremonies. He added to his remarks a list of the people, club, organizations and businesses that donated time, money, equipment and materials for the building of the tennis courts.

Carol Arntzen, representative of the Sedgewick and District Agricultural Society also added her words of commendation for the job well done in the construction of the Tennis Courts.

Mayor Johnson hit the first ball to Doctor Meer to officially open the courts to the public for use.

A Tennis Clinic will be held Sunday, August 21st.

Socreds to enlist Sykes?

The Social Credit party's hopes to make a comeback and regain representation in the cities are on the rise as a result of a chance to sign up Calgary Mayor Rod Sykes as an election candidate.

Sykes, Calgary mayor since 1969, will not seek a fourth term in civic office. But he doesn't want to abandon Alberta politics and "very likely" will seek a seat in the Legislature, as a Socred.

He is the first prominent urban leader with claims to a large following to step forward for the opposition party in years. Socred leader Bob Clark is elated and almost bending over backwards to keep Sykes interested.

Sykes scored civic election triumphs in 1969 and 1971. His victory margin shrank in 1974 but his political fortunes were far from ruined and he hung on for a third city term which will end this fall.

Clark said recruitment of Sykes and more local figures in Calgary and elsewhere will "enable us to more than crack the Tory stranglehold in Calgary and Edmonton."

Sykes says he has been a Socred supporter for 15 years and a member for 10, the period which saw the party decline from a government to present status as a four-member opposition to 69 Conservatives.

In the 1975 provincial elections, Peter Lougheed's Tories defeated the last four Calgary Socreds as to capture all the city's ridings, along with the entire state in Edmonton and the rest of Alberta's major urban centres.

Clark described the 45-year-old Calgary mayor, a strong and independent personality whose civic office tenure has sometimes been stormy, as "an unproven" and "outspoken". Sykes made it clear he won't accept a passive role in the legislature. Clark responds that he sees a need to relax traditional party discipline for all but rare, formal votes on confidence in the government.

"MLAs have to have more elbow room. We're not going to get the kind of people we need in the Legislature if they can't be their own men representing their constituencies first, and party people second," said the Socred Chief.

Sykes, drawn to the house by flaws he sees in the present administration and reluctance to waste his long business and civic experience, could be trying for a seat within a year, in a byelection.

The opportunity may come in Calgary Mountainview, a potentially welcoming inner-city constituency, if the incumbent Tory, John Kushner (an old Sykes ally in civic politics), retains the federal Conservative nomination for Calgary east.

Clark meanwhile says Sykes is one of a number of credible, attractive potential Socred candidates who will surface by the party's annual convention this year, scheduled for Nov. 4 and 5 in Red Deer.

He points to two who are already nominated and making names in their ridings: teacher Bob Mills in Red Deer, and Fred Fischer in Innisfail, a leader of the Red Deer River dam resistance.

Come Alive... "THE CHALLENGE OF THE MISSION"

A good number of you reading this article are already giving systematically and some sacrificially to the needs of missionary work around the world. Then there are some who perhaps are giving occasionally and then others of you who have never caught the vision of missionary need; nor experienced the great blessing that God bestows on those who are faithful in the needs of His work throughout the world. It is impressive to note that the thing which weighed most on our Saviour's heart as He was taking His departure, was the world of sinners for which he died, and the very last request He made of His friends was that they should "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature". Missionary giving to some may mean the giving of themselves, being willing to leave friends and loved ones and take the glorious gospel message to those in other lands. To some it may mean faithful, regular financial support to those who have been willing to go. There is no greater thrill than to receive a letter from a missionary telling of how God has used your gift in reaching hundreds with the saving message of the gospel. To others who are not able to go to a mission field nor give financially to support those who have gone, it may mean faithful to the needs of His work throughout the world. It is impressive to note that the thing which weighed most on our Saviour's heart as He was taking His departure, was the world of sinners for which he died, and the very last request He made of His friends was that they should "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature". Niehaus family hold reunion

Quote "If we were able to see up into heaven today, I am sure Stephen and Mary Ann Niehaus are celebrating and rejoicing with us at this Mass and family reunion" and quote. These were the words of father McKenzie on Saturday July 30th, 1977 when some 260 relatives of the Niehaus family gathered for the celebration of the Mass of Joy in Our Lady of Fatima Church, Strome, with Father Joseph Brummer as celebrant and Father McCarthy and Father McKenzie as concelebrants. Father Brummer is a cousin and resides at Three Rivers, Michigan, U.S.A.

A letter was read from Bill James Rausch of Phoenix, Arizona (cousin of the family) expressing his regrets at being unable to be present, but sent his blessing and said his thoughts would be with us at this special occasion. Little did Stephen and Mary Ann Niehaus (Garding) know that their descendants would reach such numbers when they left Stearns County, Minn. in 1900 to make their home in Alta. They and their five sons of that time, John, Ben, Al, Mack, and Andy settled at Grand Lake for a year before coming up to the Heister-Strome area. In the first five months they were born, Laura (Ziesel), Leonard, Joe, Katy (Marta) and Marian (Miller).

Stephen and Mary Ann resided in the St. Peter's area (south of Strome) until their time of passing. Mary Ann predeceased her husband May 18, 1940. Stephen passed away April 15, 1957. John and Marie reside on their farm south of Strome, Ben and Valeria in Strome, Al and Mary Ann at Chiricahua, Vancouver Island, Mack and Frances in Heister, Andy and Rose in Millet, Laura and Bill in Strome, Leonard and Florence in Dayland, Joe and Esther at Sorrento, B.C., Katie and Charlie in Calgary and Marion and Leo in Camrose. All ten children of the Niehaus family were able to be present for this week end of celebration.

After Mass, all proceeded to Stearns Sports Ground where a bountiful pot luck supper was held outdoors. The selection of food was unsurpassed. Much merriment, reminiscing, picture taking, renewing old acquaintances and making new ones were the order of the evening when all gathered in the Elk Hall. Young and old enjoyed dancing to the music provided entirely by members of the family. The dances opened with the ten brothers and sisters with spouses on the dance floor. The generation gap was visibly absent when grandchildren were seen dancing with grandparents and vice versa. The evening closed with lunch and coffee, tired feet but a feeling of contentment.

Sunday morning dawned bright and beautiful to start the second day of our reunion, the smell of panakes, ham, coffee, and juice brought everyone out of their trailers, tents, etc., smiling to the meeting room of the skating rink where the breakfast was served. A cap-city crowd was on hand. Every one seemed bright eyed and bushy tailed, but perhaps not all after their fun and games which lasted until the wee hours of the morning. At noon, a turkey dinner was served at the Drop in Centre to the senior members of the family and Father Brummer. Happy Birthday was sung to Ben and Birthday cake was served. Throughout the day, games of horseshoes and ball provided entertainment for spectators and participants alike. In one of the games R.C. cousins challenged the Alberta cousins. Much laughter and boing could be heard from the bleachers as the guys and gals did their thing, several sprained knees and ankles, etc., left some doubt as to when the players last played ball. Who won? Several long time friends of the family stopped by to visit and enjoy lunch and coffee.

The cattle were purchased from these breeders by Mr. Dave McNally of Canadian Cattle Consultants Ltd. Mr. McNally is well known in beef cattle circles in Western Canada through his work with Canadian Cattle Consultants Ltd. and previously with Western Cattle Consultants. Mr. McNally is assisted in his work at Canadian Cattle Consultants by Mr. Cy Hayes of Calgary who is well known in beef cattle circles throughout Canada.

PDM Services Co. Ltd. was formed in December 1976 and in March 1977 exported three plane loads of Canadian Holstein cattle to Korea. These cattle were 800 lb. bred Holsteins and were exported from Edmonton. Because of the success of this particular shipment, further orders have been placed with PDM Services Co. Ltd. and the present shipment is one of these.

The principles of PDM Services Co. Ltd. are Mr. Dwight Smith-Gander, President and Mr. Hall Park, Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Smith-Gander is a well known Gelbvieh cattle breeder from Strome, Alberta. He has been in the cattle industry all his life and operates a large feedlot and farming operation at Strome in addition to being a purebred Gelbvieh breeder. He is Past President of the Alberta Gelbvieh Association. Mr. Smith-Gander recently visited Korea and looked at the cattle industry there to broaden his knowledge of the exporting field.

Mr. Hall Park is Korean and now lives in Canada. He has been involved in the importing and exporting field for the past ten (10) years. From 1966 to 1972 he was involved with the success of the Korean Dairy Industry in their purchase of approximately 8000 head of pedigree Holsteins from Canada. This purchase was brought about by the granting of a one million dollar loan from the Canadian Government to assist the Korean Dairy Industry.

Mr. Smith-Gander advises that the present shipment of Simmental cattle marks the first large importation of beef cattle to South Korea. Up to this point in time, cattle imports to Korea have been mainly Holstein Dairy cattle. With the improvement of the standard of living in South Korea the demand for milk and other dairy products is increasing tremendously. Because of the high standard of health and quality of Canadian cattle, they should be in wide demand in Korea and other foreign countries.

MICROWAVES AND FOOD PRESERVATION

Last year if you inquired about using your microwave oven when preserving, you would have found it was not advisable. The main reason behind this was that we had no recommended times to give out. But good news! The General Electric people have produced some information on using the microwave oven for food preservation. For more information on this topic, I'd like to share a new column written by Betty Birch, D.H.E. at Stettler.

If you are one of the lucky ones with a microwave oven, you might want to try a little experimenting this year with blanching, making jam, jellies or relishes. Canning should not be done in a microwave oven because the heat is not high nor constant enough.

Blanching vegetables in the microwave is not a great deal faster than the conventional method except that you do not need to wait for large kettles of water to boil. One big advantage in blanching in the microwave is that you can use your kitchen stays open.

As with any frozen preparation, vegetables should be good quality at peak condition. Wash, peel, slice or dice as you normally would. Best results are achieved if you do only about a pound of vegetables at a time. Use 1 1/2 or 2 quart casserole dish that is suitable to use in your oven and add water as per the chart below. Cover the casserole and use the high power setting on the microwave. The vegetables should be lightly colored when they are finished. Plunge them immediately into ice water and cool thoroughly. Drain and package for the freezer. Salt should not be added during blanching. Blanch as follows:

1 lb. Asparagus (1 1/2" pieces) with 1/4 cup water for 2 1/2 - 3 1/2 min.; Beans with 1/4 cup water for 3 1/2 - 5 min.; Broccoli with 1/4 cup water for 3 - 5 min.; Carrots - sliced - with 1/4 cup water for 3 1/2 - 5 min.; Cauliflower with 1/4 cup water for 3 - 5 min.; Peas with 1/4 cup water for 2 - 4 min.; Spinach with no water for 2 - 3 min.; Squash with 1/4 cup water for 2 1/2 - 4 min.; Turnip with 1/4 cup water for 2 1/2 - 4 min.

Corn should be cut off the cob to blanch. Do the amount from about 4 ears at a time. Add 1/4 cup of water. Cook 4-5 minutes. Cool by setting casserole in ice water.

Halibut through blanching, open the oven and stir to ensure even heating through out.

You may also wish to try jam or jelly in the microwave. Most recipes have periods to shorten cooking times. I have a grape jelly and peach jam recipe for the microwave oven. These are 377 or writing Box 270, Sedgewick.

The new signs of our times.

On September 1, road signs in Alberta and across Canada will shift to metric.

Miles will be converted to kilometres - feet to metres - miles per hour (mph) to kilometres per hour (km/h).

Telephone and speed limits will not change. The only thing that does change is the way in which they're measured.

A few signs have already been changed to metric measurement, but on September 1, you'll see signs of it everywhere.

NEW CHAMPION — A mistake was made in the report the Community Press received on the Harlequin Amateur Rodeo. The person receiving the trophy for All Around Champion is George Candlish of Dayland, not Ralph Bedson, as mentioned. We are sorry for any inconveniences this may have caused.

DAYS LAND

The winner of the Dayland Legion Raffle for August was Ken Spiller of Edmonton. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hill, Lorraine and Leon spent the weekend of August 6th in Kerbert, Saskatchewan. They visited with Mrs. Caroline Robinson, Carl and Everett and family. They also renewed acquaintances with relatives and friends during Jamboree Days, also taking in the Demolition Derby, Rodeo, Chariots and Chuck wagon races.

Mrs. Anna Boggs spent a week in Las Vegas with her daughter, Alice and son-in-law Doug Thompson of Edmonton. Mrs. Dorothy McDevitt and her daughter Leslie from Calgary spent a week in Las Vegas and another week in Vancouver and Victoria, B.C.

Mrs. Steve Turry accompanied her sister-in-law Mrs. Fred Komparde of Barhead and her niece Mary Anne Komparde from Tiley on a holiday to Las Vegas.

Eleanor Davidson and her sister Velma MacLean from Hamilton, Ont. spent a few days last week at Killam visiting their sister and brother-in-law Muriel and Bill Brodie.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Bradley from Clifford, Ontario visited their cousin Allen Pryor and Mrs. Pryor. They also went to Edmonton to visit Mrs. Mae Pryor.

Here to visit the Koehli families and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Larson were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Arillaga from San Mateo, California. Mrs. Arillaga is a niece of Sam Koehli and a cousin to the other Koehli's. This is their second trip to Alberta and Dayland.

Sympathy is extended to the Harmer families on the passing of their mother, Mrs. Mary Harmer. The funeral was held in the Ukrainian Church in Dayland on August 11th.

The Goal of criticism is to leave the person with the feeling that he's been helped.

THE BIG ONE — Allen Pryor of Dayland proudly displays his two big Northern Pike catches on a recent fishing trip to Turtle Lake, Saskatchewan. The large one on the right weighs 16 pounds and the other one 12 pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Pryor went up to Turtle Lake to visit the Nolans and the Blatts at their new summer resort and enjoyed a good time.

NATURAL HISTORY NOTEBOOK

PRESENTED BY THE NATIONAL MUSEUM OF NATURAL SCIENCES, OTTAWA

ARCTIC WOLF

CANIS LUPUS ARCTICUS

Smaller and lighter than the southern wolves, the arctic wolf ranges over much of the north of Canada. It is found in small packs, wolves hunt co-operatively using strategy to defeat the prey species.

A large wolf can bring down and kill an adult caribou with a single crushing bite to the neck.

Survival of pups depends on food supply and many die young. This wolf numbers are expected to be the result of a cull. Though wolves were once shot on sight of Arctic bases, now only the few hunters kill them. The furs are sold or used for parka trim.

I'm PROTECTING My GRAIN from THEFT with GRAINFETTI®

GRAINFETTI®—small bits of paper, each containing a number—is a product to identify stored grain as a modern means of providing a preventive measure to grain theft.

GRAINFETTI® is an idea developed by police, in co-operation with the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union, to deter theft of stored grain.

The tiny, numbered pieces of paper should be mixed with the grain and, in particular, sprinkled over the top of the bin in the granary.

Care should be taken to assure that numerous slips of GRAINFETTI® would be included in any quantity of grain stolen—whether augered from the bottom of the bin, shovelled from the top or removed by punching a hole at truck-height in the side of the granary.

Stolen grain, by itself, cannot be identified in court, while in transport or in someone else's grain storage bin. But—"numbered" GRAINFETTI® identified grain is a definite proof of ownership.

GRAINFETTI® is sold only in five-pound (250 g.) quantities and each order has its own individual registration number. Once sold, this number belongs to the purchaser and remains his property. This number will not be used again unless the original purchaser re-orders.

Should your personalized GRAINFETTI® supply be stolen, the number would be cancelled and it would be of no use to anyone.

Authorized agent for GRAINFETTI® in this area is...

The Farm Family Award was established by the Edmonton Exhibition Association in 1968 and this year were fortunate to be chosen for the award by the Sedgewick Chamber of Commerce. We were welcomed to Edmonton with a coffee party where we met the other families from 9:00 to 10:00 at which time we started our tour of the city.

Our tour guide was the AHE from St. Albert, who gave us a little bit of history on the buildings we passed on the way to City Hall. There Mayor Terry Cavanaugh greeted us from the city and also gave us a little of the history about our fair capital of Alberta. We were given coins from the city as we left the Council Chambers. We then toured the Provincial Legislature and Muttart Conservatory which was very interesting and well worth the time. We were then honored at a delicious luncheon with Premier Lougheed and the Honorable Marvin Moore, Minister of Agriculture greeting us at the door. The rest of the day was spent at the Exhibition enjoying the sites with our family.

The Austin Arstman family would like to thank the Sedgewick Chamber of Commerce for nominating our family for this award and the honour of attending K-days representing our community as Farm Family of Alberta. Gratefully we thank you.

Rosalind wins Forestburg 2-day hardball tournament

The Forestburg 2-day baseball tournament was held on Saturday and Sunday August 13th and 14th with nine teams competing for the prize money.

On Saturday, Sedgewick received the bye so had no game until Sunday. In the four games that were played Rosalind beat Healer in a one-sided game. Forestburg beat Castor, Waskesau won over Camrose and Fort Saskatchewan beat Drayton Valley.

The first two games on Sunday only went 5 innings with Fort Sask. beating Sedgewick 11-4 in the first one and Rosalind winning 14-0 over Forestburg. Waskesau then played Fort Sask. in a close game which resulted in a 4-1 win for Fort Saskatchewan.

The final game was close with Rosalind taking top money by defeating Fort Sask. 7-5. Clouds rolled around and a few rain drops fell, but some of the games were held up. So the fans were able to enjoy another pleasant baseball weekend.

HARDISTY NEWS

On the weekend of August 4 David and Linda Hooper hosted a family reunion at their cabin at Hardisty Lake. It was the first time in twenty years that all members of the family had been together. The party consisted of twenty-three, namely Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hooper of Quilom Beach, Leonard and Yvonne Hooper of Fort Smith, and Dale Reynolds of High Level. Dorothy Anne Marsh of St. Albert, John and Marg Hooper of Winnipeg. Of the fourteen grandchildren ranging in age from six to sixteen, all were present except the two eldest Reynolds boys who were at Hockey School in Penitence. The weather co-operated very well so that water skiing, canoeing, and games for all ages were enjoyed, and of course, "Remember when..." was the best of all. Many thanks are due to the John Swinkarski's for the use of their cabin and boat, Milk Sim for the canoe and photography, and the Dennis Schmidts for their cabin. A special thanks goes to David and Linda whose hospitality made the get-together so successful.

Sunday, August 14th saw the John Gokas entertaining a few friends to a Souled Supper. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. David Hooper and girls, Mr. and Mrs. Hally Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Will Buelow and family, Mrs. Paul Dion and Brent, Bill Robinson and Di-ann McMahon.

NEW SIGNS FOR ALBERTA COMMUNITIES

Alberta Transportation started a Facility Signing Program for rural communities in April, 1977.

The community signing program is intended to assist the motorist by advising him of the availability of various services in towns and villages along our primary highway system.

The signs, designed in two components, will be approximately 12 feet by five feet in size and carry the name of the community in the upper component and up to six separate but attached, different facility signs on the lower section. The facility symbols will indicate the services available and, where possible, national type symbols have been adopted. The signs available are: Gas, Food, Lodging, Picnic Sites, Museums, Campgrounds, Golf Courses, Police and R.C.M.P., and Farmer's Market.

Riters Ramblings

"No Web For The Widow"

"Say Audrey - I wonder whatever happened to Elizabeth? Before Harold died she used to have such fun at all the dances, barbecues, dinner parties and evening card games. She used to go fishing and camping on weekends, and now she just stays at home - all alone!"

"Well Ida, maybe it's because she is not invited out anymore. After all, whenever we go to dances, we have an even number going with us, whether it be just four or twelve. The same holds true at barbecues, dinner parties and card games. I mean - how are five men going to carry on a well-rounded conversation with six women?"

"Oh come on now Audrey! You know yourself that the men are always together in one room talking about their work, while the women are in another discussing something else!"

"Well I suppose you're right! But as for weekends at the Lake, if Elizabeth and I were to go out on the lake fishing, Henry would feel like a third wheel for a couple of hours. He would have nothing to do but lie around in the sun in the peace and quiet."

Idn't want her to think that we invited her out of sympathy or pity, it would be entirely different if she were dating someone."

"There you go Audrey. If your reasons are warm and friendly, she isn't going to misinterpret anything. Why does she have to have a date in order to be invited. You just said you like her as a person. Isn't that reason enough?"

"Well anyway Ida, her children are all grown up and gone to the city to work, and her husband is gone. Maybe she's better off staying at home. I'm sure she can find something to do in her spare time. Heck! If she really wanted to go to a dance, she could take tickets at the door, and if she wanted to go to barbecues, the people putting it on are always looking for someone to serve or work at the cash register. There's lots of weddings and banquets she could cook for and serve at, and there's always a bazaar coming up she could bake, crochet and knit for. There's really lots to do if a person wants to get out and mix with people."

"You know Audrey - you haven't missed a dance or barbecue in years! You always seem to have such a swell time. Tell me! What would happen if George suddenly died, and all of your friends stopped inviting you to social functions?"

"I hadn't really thought of it before Ida. I imagine I would feel very hurt, but terribly lonely!"

Hardisty yards judged in contest

Judging for the 1st Annual Hardisty and District Chamber of Commerce, "Beautiful Yard Contest", took place Sunday, August 17th. Judges for this event were Ann and Ray Fontaine of Hingham and Grace Kells of Hardisty. First place went to the Dion family, second to Ann and Joe Saraga, and third to Joie and Wes Pedlar. Landscaping has been described as being the frame for the picture, and judges found these three yards to be outstanding in all of the various landscaping points that they were looking for. The three top place winners all displayed excellent landscape planning, and obvious good care and hard work. Placement of shrubs and healthy well maintained lawns and beautiful displays of flowers were points in common to these three homes. The yards of Marion and Ian Harrison, Martin and Fay Madden and Bonnie and Les Whidden also caught the judges eye and were given an honorable mention.

The Dion family will have their name inscribed on a large plaque, which will be on display shortly at the Town Office. This plaque will eventually display the names of the first place winner over the next several years. In addition, the three winners will receive a framed color photo of their winning yard, to hang in their home. These pictures will be presented at a fall meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. In accordance with the rules of this contest the first place winner will be ineligible for the following two years, thus, giving more people the incentive and chance to try for the three winning spots in following years.

The judges felt that many of the yards displayed good planning, but fell short in the maintenance and care department, although it was also agreed that gardeners in Hardisty face a special problem because of poor soil conditions, and mention also was made of the extremely dry condition which have prevailed this summer. Obviously the winning yards have taken extra care with soil improvement, fertilization and watering. One thing that the judges felt would improve many of the yards would be the addition of more flowers to add that touch of color to the landscape, so these things should be kept in mind when planning for next years competition. A drive or walk past any of the winning yards would indeed be a pleasure to one of these lovely summer evenings.

The congratulations of the Chamber of Commerce and especially the Beautiful Yard Committee goes out to the Dions, Saragas, and Pedlars, with the hope that the competition will be even keener next year. Special thanks to the judges for their fine job.

Many fans enjoyed two days of exciting Fastball which featured many close games at Agri-Days on Saturday and Sunday.

Space does not permit me to give all of the results which led up to the Sunday evening finals. Both of these games were won by 1 run. In the A Section, the Viking Coyotes won over Movecambe 6-5, while the Wainwright Oilers took a 10-9 decision over the Irma Lancers in the B final.

In the Ladies Fastball, Wainwright won over Edmonton in the A Division while the Loughheed Rockets beat out the Sedgewick Coggratines in the B Section in the final.

On Sunday in the six team Baseball Tournament, Loughheed beat Killam in the first game. Sedgewick was out over Forestburg in the second and Roanald beat Hardisty in the third. Loughheed received the bye into the final game, so Sedgewick played Roanald in the semi-finals. Sedgewick came out of that the winners then went on to meet and beat Loughheed in the final game.

Saturday was fine and sunny, real ball weather but Sunday was cool and overcast. However, the weather didn't seem to affect the game or the spectators and ball enthusiasts had two really full days of entertainment.

AGRI-QUEEN 1977 — Anita Davidson of Loughheed was crowned Queen of the 1977 Sedgewick Agri-Days by last year's queen, Shelly Smolatz.

During the crowning took place at the Colburn on Saturday evening before a capacity crowd. Anita and all the runners-up did an exceptional job this year and are to be congratulated.

Our club on August 10th held their meeting at the home of Marlene Simpson. In attendance were six members and two visitors. The President opened the meeting then welcomed the visitors, Mrs. Jodyella, Verna Stiel and my baby James.

The previous minutes were read and adopted, there was not any correspondence. The Treasurer gave her report. A number of box clubs were bought from our supply box. The roll call was answered by giving 'Advice to a Bride to Be' There was some very good suggestions given, amusing and otherwise.

A motion was made and carried that we buy prizes for all contestants that we have.

The next roll call is to make a "Garden Courage" of vegetables or flowers and wear it of course there is a prize for the most original. The next meeting to be at Mrs. Bernard Markwardt's home.

It was a very good meeting still a member even if she has moved to Provost. So we will look forward to a nice dinner on fall day, Sept. 10th.

Melba read a poem - "Have You a Friend? Helen S. also read one "A Short Course on Human Behavior".

Helen S. also gave us a contest. Name the names of towns in Alberta that correspond to pictures cut out of magazines. Well some how our brains don't correspond with the pictures. After she read the answers, you realize how dumb one can be. Melba was the winner.

The meeting adjourned and then the hostess assisted by co-hostess Melba, served delicious buns and salad, then a three-tiered Birthday Anniversary and Welcome Cake decorated by professional decorating which looked artistic and tasteful.

Etta was the raffle prize and Christine the lucky tag on prize. Keeping In Touch

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION

As a taxpayer, your money is collected by Revenue Canada. Your tax dollars are then divided amongst some thirty federal government departments where bureaucrats make judgments on how the money will be spent. A great deal of this money is allocated to the writing of reports, the commissioning of research studies, the surveying of opinions or in general, building of a body of information.

The unfortunate fact, however, is that most of that information is virtually impossible for the public to come in contact with and utilize.

It's a perplexing scenario. It is your money being used by the government, channeled through your bureaucrats to work for you, but you can't determine the results.

This past year I was a member of a Sub-Committee of Canadian-American relations that was to Washington, D.C.

My role on the Committee was to analyze and present a position relating to the Canadian-American trade dispute. Day after day my researcher pored into the Canadian Department of Agriculture for information for our position paper. On successive occasions I overheard him answer to the questions - who are you? why do you want to know? what will the information be used for? who else will know? then finally he would be channelled to another level of the department. Then quite by coincidence it was discovered that much of the information we were seeking was shared with the United States Department of Agriculture. On a lunch we phoned to the American Embassy on Ottawa and outlined the questions to which we were seeking an answer. Ironically, literally within hours, several phone calls were returned from Washington to our Ottawa office with members of the American Civil Service feeding us information about Canadian agriculture paid for by Canadian taxpayers.

The above example underscores what freedom of information is all about. One Alberta Member of Parliament has been a glowing example of what a dedicated opposition backbench Member can do when he single-handedly puts his mind to championing a major national cause. We should all salute Peace River's Member of Parliament, Ed Baldwin. For 10 years he has been working on a Freedom of Information Act. It now appears it may be on the horizon.

While the Green Paper of Freedom of Information commits the government to nothing and does not go as far as most citizens would like, it nevertheless is a start. If Canada were to enact a Freedom of Information policy we would be a decade and a half behind the United States and a full two hundred years behind Sweden, who introduced such legislation in 1778.

The demand for a Freedom of Information Bill does not presume that the government is run by evil or corrupt people but rather recognizes that most of our Civil Servants are decent, honest men and women who have become intimidated by their limited license to manipulate the leaders of power. In order to protect themselves and their work, public materials become shrouded in secrecy.

As an illustration of the importance of such legislation, the United States Justice Department in 1975 answered 21,000 requests for information under their legislation that would not have otherwise been answered. Moreover, each of the 50 States have "Sunshine Laws" which require that all the public business be conducted in public.

There is a place for secrecy. I am well aware of such a necessity in cases of national security. However, when doctors cannot find out about the results of medical studies that were done by the Department of National Health and Welfare, with taxpayers money for presumably the good of all Canadians, then surely our country has broken down in its efforts to keep in touch with the people it presumably is supposed to serve.

JAMS AND JELLIES
PROBLEM: Excess Foam Forms While Jam Is Boiling.
PREVENTION: add 1/4 tsp. butter to the jam while boiling to reduce foaming. This practically eliminates the skimming operation.

PROBLEM: Excessive Scum Formation On Surface Of Jam or Jelly.

PREVENTION: This can be reduced by using ripened fruit and by following recommended directions exactly.

PROBLEM: Jelly Is Syrupy.
PREVENTION: This is most often caused by an excess of sugar. Could also be caused by insufficient pectin, insufficient acid, over-ripe fruit or cooking too slowly.

PROBLEM: Weeping Or Syneresis Occurring In Jelly.

PREVENTION: This occurs with the more acid fruits and is due to too much acid. Also if the layer of paraffin is too thick, the storage area too warm or the storage temperature fluctuates weeping may result.

PROBLEM: Cloudy Jelly.
PREVENTION: Do not squeeze the jelly bag. Keep jars and jelly hot throughout the filling procedure. Pour jelly quickly into jars. Do not use too much pectin (fruit that is too green will have too much pectin).

PROBLEM: Fermentation Of Jam Or Jelly. This Product Is Not Edible, Discard It.
PREVENTION: Jelly and jam glasses should be well sterilized before filling to destroy all yeast and mold spores. Then check that each container is adequately sealed and store in a dry, cool room.

ARCTIC WOLF

CHAS. WILSON ARCTIC

Smaller and lighter than the southern wolves, the arctic wolf ranges upward over most of the tundra in Canada's Arctic. Roaming singly or in small packs, wolves hunt cooperatively, using strategy to catch the swift caribou - their major prey species.

A lone wolf can bring down a caribou or an adult caribou with a single crushing bite to the neck.

Survival of pups depends on food supply and many die young, but wolf numbers are adjusted to fit the availability of prey. Though wolves were once shot on sight of Arctic packs, now only the hunt hunters kill them. The first are sold or used for parka trim.

King - Salano exchange vows

A lively afternoon wedding was held in Hardisty, June 18, 1977 at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, where the Wendy Marie King became the bride of Mr. Hugo Salano.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George King of Hardisty. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Salamon Salano of Edmonton.

Bouquets of pink peonies and white daisies, decorated the church for the ceremony performed by Father McKenna.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother. She wore a long white satin gown, the bodice and long train were of chastity lace. Her waist length head piece was trimmed with white pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

The brides attendants, Miss Connie King, sister of the bride and Miss Jeanette King, niece of the bride were identical eleven-year floor length gowns of pink and mauve polyester crepe. They carried bouquets of white caranations and mauve daisies and wore pink hats.

The little flower girl, Miss Denise Salano, niece of the groom, wore a pink floor length gown trimmed with white lace and a pretty pink hat.

The ring bearer, Miss Marie King, niece of the groom, carried a basket full of flowers to match those of the bridesmaids.

The groom's attendants were Mr. Christopher Armstrong and Mr. Doug Young both of Edmonton, friends of the groom.

They wore matching black suits and black ties, to match the pink stripe black suit the groom wore.

Mother of the bride wore a sleeveless floor length gown of blue polyester satin. Her corsage was of pink ranunculus to match the roses in her dress. Mother of the groom chose a lovely floor length red polyester. Her corsage was white and yellow rose buds.

God father, Mr. Don Gerard of Edmonton witnessed the signing of the register.

The reception was held in the Church Hall, Mr. Wayne King (brother of the bride) performed the duties of Master of Ceremonies.

Shower for Pat Coates

In the Loughheed Community Hall on Friday the 19th, the Rockettes hosted a lovely shower in honor of Miss Patricia Coates.

Approximately seventy five relatives and friends attended. The Hall was tastefully decorated in pale yellow.

Carol Larson, emcee for the evening welcomed everyone, and told in a few well chosen words, some of the highlights in the life of Patricia.

A short, but very nice program followed. A poem by the late Tom McCracken was read by Rita Storchak.

A melody of musical selections suited to the occasion was played and sung by Kay Roudsage, a reading by Ellen Patterson and after the problems she had endured thru the day, it is lucky she was able to be with us. Musical selections by Olive and Caroline Lien.

Patricia was presented with a beautiful corsage by Carol, before taking her place at the dainty decorated table with her attendants. Doug's sister Myrna Acres sitting in for Christine one of the bridesmaids, unable to attend, sisters Sharon Ann, Jackie and Mary Lynn, assisted Patricia in opening the many great beautiful gifts which were passed around. A bar of 2oz soap with a note attached from Patricia's uncle, which read "Heard you were going to a shower, so thought you would need this," cute thought. Carol thanked all those who helped put on this lovely shower, and to the W.I. members, Kay, Ellen and Rita who took part in the program.

Patricia graciously thanked everyone for coming and extended an invitation to her wedding and reception on September 3rd. Joining the girls for lunch were Mom, Dolores Coates, Doug's Mom, June Rose and Grandma Coates.

The Rockettes served a lovely lunch and are to be commended on their efficiency.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

Levesque told 'no way'

Premier Peter Lougheed has told Quebec Premier Rene Levesque that Alberta wants no part of his latest independence proposal for Quebec.

Lougheed said he was not a receptive audience for his proposal of expanded provincial involvement in Canadian foreign trade policy, especially in areas involving the United States.

The premier opened his trade war years ago with pressure for a better deal on petrochemical deals for the west. Following his tour to Russia and Europe earlier this year, he added grain sales to the list.

The Alberta premier said that the "vast majority" of Canadian Quebecers included, were more concerned with the security of their jobs and incomes than with the ill limited possibility of an independent Quebec.

Killam Aqua Aces do well in provincials

August 27th and 28th saw several swimmers and parents from the Killam Aqua Aces Swim Club journey to the Provincial Finals in Grand Prairie.

The relay team of Glen and Lee Black, Kim Friedrich and Stu Wilson won a bronze medal in the 18-14 boys group, while the relay team of Robbie Borth, Kerry and Steven Bue, and Brad Friedrich brought home a bronze in the 8 and under boys category.

PRESERVING WINTER BOUQUET
There are many methods of preserving flowers and other objects for a beautiful winter bouquet.

The methods are easy to learn. There are 4 recommended procedures: air-drying (hanging upside down), pressing, silica gel, and glycerine treatments. The method you choose will depend on the use for which you are drying the plant.

Regardless of how it is dried, a plant should be kept as natural as possible in shape and color.

GLYCERINE METHOD
Autumn and fern leaves, lily and bulbous are successfully treated with glycerine to keep them soft and somewhat leathery in appearance. Cut leaves when they are just beginning to turn, before they dry on the trees.

Katherine Cantlon describes the method in the Brooklyn Botanic Garden Publication "Dried Flower Designs". Strip the leaves from the lower 4 to 5 inches of the stem. Woody stems should be crushed or preferably split with a sharp pruning shears with the water-conducting tissue is exposed, enabling the stems to absorb the glycerine mixture more readily. The split at the base of the stem should be 1 to 2 inches long.

Make the mixture of 1 part commercial glycerine (available from many drug stores and florist supply houses) and 2 parts warm water. Stir vigorously, as the glycerine is heavier than water. Place 4 or 5 inches of the mixture in a clear glass container. Glass containers are used because they are convenient for checking levels.

Mark level of mixture on the outside of the container with a water-proof pencil. Place prepared branches directly into the glycerine mixture so that cut ends are covered.

Plants take up water faster than the glycerine in the mixture. Water is also lost by natural evaporation. As the mixture goes down in the containers it must be replaced up to the pencil line with a mixture of 1 part glycerine to 4 parts of warm water, or by the addition of warm water only. Check the level of the mixture frequently, allow for recirculation of air around the material, and don't crowd or cover foliage. An ideal temperature is 75 to 80 degrees F.

Inspect the progress of absorption of glycerine should stand in the glycerine is variable — three days to three weeks. When the leaves have reached saturation, an oiliness is felt on their surfaces. Some leaves exude droplets of the mixture, and many will often change color. The foliage should feel leathery and soft.

For information on the other methods of preserving your winter bouquet, write P.O. Box 270, Sedgewick, or phone 384-3737.

Keeping In Touch

TAKING THE DEAD

Finance Minister Donald Macdonald has said he is moving to bring life insurance policies in line with the Income Tax Act as it applies to other cases where income has been deferred during the lifetime of the recipient. Mr. Macdonald points out that the law presently provides that income shall be taxed upon the event of the person's death. This applies not only in the case of annual cash earnings but also in situations of capital gains tax, the registered retirement savings plan, and deferred income under Canada Savings Bonds.

The Minister has made the claim that when the government is moving towards taxing income on life insurance, it is simply being consistent in policy formations.

The proposed tax would apply to policies that make a payout after March 31, 1977. Needless to say, insurance companies are up in arms. It obviously bears a considerable threat to the whole insurance industry if in addition to having to purchase persons of the benefit of various life insurance they must also point out that the benefits accrued are, in all likelihood, taxable.

More unfortunate, however, is the principle in question. There was a time when capital gains was looked upon as a non-taxable identity. However with the government spending a larger and larger percentage of the gross national product.

loved ones without fear of punitive measures from the State. Secondly, there is the more general question as to whether or not the preceding principles have in themselves been justified. The capital gains tax has long been seen as a retirement fund for farmers and small businessmen. It was their method of keeping pace with inflation.

Perhaps the better way for keeping in touch with Canadians is to allow a greater degree of freedom and independence. Obviously any government that wants to take care of its citizens from the cradle to the grave, will also use up taxing you for that same duration. Life with dignity; life with self-esteem; are founded upon a feeling of freedom and independence that is derived from at least some sense of independence.

GREENACRES by Glen Werner

WINTER WHEAT IN FLAGSTAFF??

Fifteen years ago to suggest that Winter Wheat be used in the farm's cereal and silage rotation in this area sure would have brought one's mental competence into question. However improved varieties and chemicals as well as farming practices have required that we take a second look.

Over the past few years a few innovative farmers have tried winter wheat. The results looked promising and requests for more information were received. As a result the Agricultural Services Committee of the County of Flagstaff encouraged farmers to try some winter wheat and observe what the results would be.

The past year saw several fields seeded, and the results are just now beginning to come in. In most cases the yields are ranging from 25 to 40 or more bushels per acre. Also most farmers who have had winter wheat feel it's equal to or better than the spring wheat that they have on similar land.

Nevertheless, before everyone rushes out and seeds winter wheat, several points should be made. (1) The results that we've seen over the last two years MAY NOT be representative. Some say the winters were excellent for winter wheat. Others say they were difficult for winter wheat. (2) The best variety, "Bundance" which we have at the present time, may still winter kill. (3) Although winter wheat has a C.W. grade it must not be mixed with C.W. Hard Red Spring. (4) In spite of improved chemicals, plant diseases and weeds may still cause high losses. Good management is important. (5) Preparation of a good seedbed and soil seedling is important. (6) Seeding time is important, and usually occurs right in the middle of harvest.

Some one who would like to take a slightly higher than normal risk may find that a good deal of winter wheat will not only offer some additional profit, but also divide some of his spring and fall work load. If you agree such a person, here are a few points to keep in mind.

1. Seed a variety that is winter hardy. "Bundance" (Newstar) will be available next year.

2. Seed into a firm seed bed - straight into rapped stubble which received Treflan last spring is ideal.

3. Seed 25-40 MM (1 - 1/2 inches) deep, and preferably into moisture.

4. Use only phosphate fertilizer (11-40-0) this fall.

5. Make sure seed is treated as it gives added protection against disease.

6. Seed no earlier than Sept. 1st and no later than Sept. 15.

7. If you must graze it in fall, graze only lightly - no grazing in spring.

8. Nitrogen fertilization may be done next spring.

9. Weed control may be necessary, and can be done quite simply with chemicals.

10. Be patient next spring! Winter wheat starts slower in spring than fall rye (idea) - plow it up until the end of May if you must!

Finally, winter wheat does not supply an answer to poor crops because of poor crop management. However, given a normal amount of care and management, it can provide an additional alternative so necessary in this diverse and dynamic age of agriculture we live in.

Galahad and District News Items

Mr. Bill Wise was a Pastor visitor on Sunday attending the Service at All Saints Church and the Pot Luck Farewell dinner for Rev. and Mrs. Colet and family who are returning home to Newfoundland. The Rev. Colet attended the Anglican Synod held in Banff and took a service while visiting Mr. and Mrs. Barney Peters.

Persons who wish to register for Flaga Staff Further Education should do so by September 15. You can get in touch with Mrs. Fuller at 688-2884 or put your name on the list at the Galahad Post office.

Mrs. Mary Stewart and Mr. Keith Stewart of Halkirk and Ed Shilling, also of Halkirk were afternoon guests of Mrs. Eva Doan and Mrs. Muriel Wright on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Christ and family motored to Drumheller on Sunday, August 21. Sunday Christ remained in Drumheller where he is attending the Drumheller Hockey School which is being held from August 21 to August 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gamroth, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herbert Jr. and Mr. Frank Herbert Sr. of Devon were guests of Donald's mother, Mrs. Prue Gamroth over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Adams, Darlene and Gordon and Mrs. Martha Kemp of Forestburg, Mrs. Dorcas Bergel, and Mr. Edwin Kuebler were Sunday evening supper guests at the home of Mrs. Muriel Wright and Mrs. Eva Doan.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnott of Redmond, Oregon were guests of Mr. and Mrs. David McGowan. Mrs. E. Ferguson accompanied Mr. Joan Oberg of Forestburg.

Members of the Merna 4-H Club went to Brooks and toured Lakeside Feeders and the Horticultural Society.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kuebler on the birth of a son on August 27, 1977. Proud Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kuebler.

Gerald Bergel, Ron and Colin Gamroth, Norman Tulpner and David Bergel have just returned from (Aug. 23 - Aug. 28) a 4 day canoe trip, starting at Rocky Mountain House to Drayton Valley. This trip was sponsored by Preventative Social Service.

Monday, August 22 saw a trio of Galahad old timers visiting the village. They were Rene De Smet of Edmonton, Archie Campbell of Lamont, Alberta and Ed Campbell of Whitehorse, Yukon.

The Campbell brothers had not been in the Galahad area since they left with their parents and other members of the family in 1943.

They called at Kay Pascoe's home where Archie and Ed were welcomed old school days with their former teacher. Pete and Alta Willis joined the group and a lively discussion followed about Galahad and its people of the early days.

We learned with regret that Mr. Campbell, Ed and Archie's mother was a patient in the University Hospital at the time of their visit here.

It is always a thrilling experience when former Galahad folk call. But time is so short, we are only permitted to visit such a short time to recall old times and learn about the folk who once helped populate the Galahad district when farms were smaller and homes and families more plentiful.

Mrs. Jean Mannerfeldt of Red Deer will be a guest of her parents for the weekend. She will attend the Scheeler - Pehn wedding.

Mrs. Everett Farrell and children left Galahad on Thursday to join Mr. Farrell at Edberg where he will be in charge of the U.G. elevator.

SEPTEMBER 1

CANADIAN HIGHWAY SIGNS SHIFT TO METRIC

All road signs in Alberta and across Canada will change to metric Sept. 1. Essentially, speed limits will be the same — it's the measurement that is different.

Think Metric.

Forget about miles and miles per hour.

But if you must convert, multiply the number of kilometres or kilometers per hour by 0.6. That will give you the approximate number of miles or miles per hour.

For example: 90 km/h x 0.6 = 54 mph.

Helpful Hints

If your speedometer is not already in kilometers per hour you can easily mark it with a grease pencil. Issues or even a piece of tape.

km/h	30	40	50	60	70	80	90	100
mph	19	25	31	37	44	50	56	62

Use this conversion chart for reference. Proper conversion lists in various forms are also available. Check with your retailer.

Some road signs are already in metric. September 1 you'll see signs of it everywhere.

Riters Ramblings

by Flagstaff Creative Writers

In the midst of yesterday

Today I walked with the shaggy kings of the past. With the mighty buffalo who thundered and roared, fought and played, and died a hundred years ago across the very lands we've tried to tame.

Was going to look at the crop. The skies were overcast, grey and chilly. Small showers had dampened the earth but the fields were beginning to ripen, and I wanted to see how close they were to harvest.

I instead I found a little path through poplar trees and prairie wool, sprinkled with golden, white, purple and blue flowers, suppley hedges and silver willow. The grass was waist high at times and sticky wet but I followed the almost hidden trail.

Trees stretched their branches over my head and spattered me with rain droplets from quivering leaves until I entered a small clearing and found it. A buffalo wallow. A small dip in the gentle hollows of the land. A place where those magnificent shaggy beasts once rolled and pawed and kicked the dust over their huge, humped bodies.

Double ring ceremony at Camrose

Sheila Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Palmer of Killam and Frederick, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schumann of Camrose were united in marriage July 29, 5:00 p.m. in a double ring ceremony performed by Pastor Bob Kitchin at Grace Lutheran Church, Camrose.

During the organ prelude by Sheila's aunt, Mrs. E. Pradette of Edmonton, guests were ushered to their seats by Sheila's cousin Ernie Palmer, and by Fred and Sheila's friend Jim Smith. Friends, Dorothy Dwyer and Brenda Kraus, dressed in floor length formal gowns, lit the candle in the sanctuary, setting the scene for the candlelit ceremony.

Sheila entered the church on her father's arm to the strains of "Trumpet Voluntary". She looked radiant in a floor length gown of polyester satin with lace-overlay bodice and lace-trimmed "angel sleeves". The square neck line was enhanced by a gold collar. Fred's gift to his bride, a "blushing" veil with lace applique and a full length chapel veil fell from her lace-covered Juliet cap. Sheila carried a cascade bouquet of coral ranunculus and yellow daisies. Sheila's gown, veil, and headpiece were sewn by her sister Becky.

Rae Smith, Ellen Owen, and Ellen Spady, friends from CLC, assisted as Sheila's bridesmaids; they wore four length gowns styled similarly to the bride's, of floral coral-pink cotton, with matching picture hats. Colonial bouquets of yellow ranunculus complemented their gowns.

Fred wore a smart tuxedo of chocolate brown pinstripe, vest and bow tie, cream shirt and ivory jacket with chocolate brown trim. His boutonniere was a coral ranunculus. Fred's best man was his good friend, Randy Johnson, his brother Rudy Schumann, and Sheila's brother, Ron Palmer. They were tuxedoed identical to the groom and each wore a coral rose on their lapel.

Mrs. Palmer wore a coral gown of polyester satin with bone shawl and matching chitch bag. Her corsage was of white roses. Mrs. Schumann's gown was of mauve and white tulle and her corsage was of pink ranunculus.

After being given in marriage by her parents, Sheila joined Fred and together with their bridesmaids and best men, they advanced to the altar. At this time Becky, Sheila's sister sang "The Wedding Song" accompanied on guitar by her friend David Cunningham. As the couple knelt at the altar, Debbie Nester sang the beautiful "Lords Prayer". During the signing of the register, another sister of Sheila's, Donna sang a lovely rendition of "Ave Maria" in German. Both soloists were accompanied by Mrs. Pradette at the organ. Then, to the triumphant notes of "The Bridal March", Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schumann left the church to be met and congratulated by relatives and friends.

A reception was held at the Moose Hall in Camrose. Lloyd Palmer, Sheila's uncle gave the toast to the bride to which Fred ably responded. Randy Johnson toasted the bride and groom, and Rae Smith replied with thanks on behalf of the other girls. The head table was centered by a round three tiered wedding cake, decorated in coral and white, carrying out the coral color theme. The cake was baked by Sheila's sister, Mrs. Jean Brennan, and decorated by Mrs. Ruth Prichard.

During the reception the bride and groom changed into casual outfits.

Out of town guests were from Winnipeg, Edmonton, Medicine Hat, Westlock, Mayerthorpe, Killam, Strome, Sedgewick, Forestburg, Galtland, Australia, Germany and Hong Kong.

bride and groom received a telephone call from Sheila's sister, Shirley from Trenton, Ontario. Shirley, her husband and family had just arrived in Canada after having lived for the past 4 years in Lahti, West Germany. They were 2 hours and 3000 miles apart of being able to attend Fred and Sheila's wedding.

After the reception guests enjoyed themselves visiting and dancing to the music of Sparky Hoffman's orchestra. Sheila played banjo for Sparky the last few years and the bride was roared into playing her "special" "In The Mood".

Before leaving on a camping trip to Banff and Jasper the bride and groom changed into casual outfits.

Out of town guests were from Winnipeg, Edmonton, Medicine Hat, Westlock, Mayerthorpe, Killam, Strome, Sedgewick, Forestburg, Galtland, Australia, Germany and Hong Kong.

Riters Ramblings

by Flagstaff Creative Writers
Early fall from the air

The impression received while flying over the country side in a light plane is that one is inspecting a patchwork quilt. But what a quilt! As fall approaches it is rich with harmonious colors, surprising textures and delicate stitches; the squares are separated by tufted lines of fence rows. As we pass over the first elevated field the drab base color seems to have been embroidered with ruler-straight beige chain stitch that falls free. Then we observe a patch of fresh blue-green with rows of lighter hue - late oats. Everywhere the squares and oblongs are interspersed with the soft velvet of grassland.

Next a large area of greeny-go with which is not quite ripe wheat shimmering in the west-ering sun. Now the creek appears, and we follow its course like a polished and twisted steel band almost looping back on itself time after time on its tortuous way across the orderly squares, bordered by friendly bands of green chenille of every shade. Here is the first field of ripe, and another one comes into view that the swatser has just begun to lay in rows of the richest chenille of all. Here and there the sweep of golden velvet is broken by irregular patches of soft green shag some of them framing, surprisingly small shining silver mirrors. Sometimes the swatser has sown delicate outlines around and around these before taking off in precise straight seams. Below is something different: a fresh green velvet strewn with darker knots of embroidery bay leaves; next a stretch so flat and smooth that the fluffy rows go in prim straight oblongs with perfectly suited corners, all in deepest gold.

Rolling country comes in sight, with artistic curving sweeps of chain stitch following the curve of hill and dale. The river hills, from the height we see them, seem to be in low relief and covered with cut velvet in vague patterns of red and buff with soft green in the hollows. Microscopic insects seem to be crawling here and there - would you believe - corn? A mosquito circling thread in a cow trail. Beneath us, an exceptionally large dark patch of corduroy turned to a lovely tape by the setting sun, adjectives a well-dressed field of summer fallow. In contrast to it, is a pale beige flannel, ripe oats, undoubtedly. Mini-tory farm buildings cozy and bright within fluffily shivering trees belts, surrounded by postage stamp gardens and meadow micro-machinery and grasses give life to the scene. The paler line of an old trail shows across the dark corduroy and the pale row-straight year of a pipeline passes near.

As we lose altitude in preparation for landing the squares become larger and suddenly are grass, grain and brush again. But the feeling of peace and beauty lingers.

Meet the Smiths:

Community minded family. Thieves? A public menace?

The Smiths are basically a good family. They care about their community and their future; they support local events and charities and enjoy their sport... they could be any Albertan family. Occasionally, one of the family collects a road sign for a room wall. It's not stealing, you understand; just a bit of 'fun', and nobody in the family really minds.

If someone in your family wants a 'STOP' sign here's an easy way to get one at the cost of a letter. Just mail this coupon to Alberta Transportation marked 'STOP Sign Poster' and we'll send you one. That way, you get your STOP sign and the road signs they put.

Benny and Myrtle Koford and Shylo of Fort McMurray and Solvay Koford were home for the Labor Day weekend with their parents Mr. and Mrs. John Koford.

Mrs. Anna Boggs returns from a holiday spent with Florence and Oliver Boggs on their farm west of Carleton Place. She also attended the wedding of another brother-in-law Donald Boggs in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Pryor were visiting their son Gordon and family in Prince George B.C. last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hock and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Don Corbett and family at Macerrie, Sask. and other points over the long weekend. Orlean Mielke and Emily Hill went out to have coffee with Phyllis Gabrick and help her celebrate her birthday on Thursday afternoon.

Helena and Nan Paulgaard have moved into their new home in Uren and Mary's and husband are on the farm. The Sunbeam Club met September 11th in the Daysland Hall for their first card party since the holidays. There were 34 members present and 5 tables of whist, 2 played crib and 2 played croquet. The ladies' score went to Mrs. Catherine Green and low to Mr. Stan Court. A lovely lunch was served by the ladies in charge. During lunch they all sang happy birthday to Emily Hill as it was her birthday.

DAYSLAND HOSPITAL AUXILIARY MEETING The Daysland Hospital Auxiliary meeting was held Thursday evening, September 8th. The President Vera Gaudet opened the meeting as we repeated the Auxiliary Prayer and she gave a welcome back to the members. There were 7 members and 3 visitors present. Dorothy McDevitt read the minutes of the last two meetings in the absence of Eleanor Davidson. Emily Hill gave the treasurer's report for June, July and August and as we were low on funds we made a motion to hold a bingo in the Community Hall on October 27th. To date we have collected for 205 cookbooks. Mrs. Woods brought the rug for us to use. The patients are doing the work on it and it looks very nice. The meeting adjourned. Then the Hospital Administrator Mr. West gave a talk on the Disaster plan that they are planning for November 2nd at Daysland. He also talked on his work of the hospital which was interesting. We were then served a lovely lunch and coffee.

The Daysland Kindergarten Executive and teacher held a

THE PIPELINE DEBATE

Last month the government came to a decision on the Northern pipeline - a decision which will have immense importance for all Canadians in the years to come. The final choice of the Alaska route by Cabinet represented, not so much the culmination of a coherent national planning process that began ten years ago, but rather the last stage of a twisted political path which still leaves many uncertainties about energy needs and methods for meeting them.

After ten years and 300 million dollars of preparation, the decision was made, as the National Energy Board candidly admitted, without knowing all the facts. The route chosen, which runs along the Alaska oil pipeline as far as Fairbanks and then follows the Alaska Highway, remains far less well understood from environmental, social and economic perspectives than the Mackenzie Valley. In addition, the line through which Canadian gas may ultimately

Daysland pioneer passes

On August 30, 1977 Arthur Stanley Sampson, an education pioneer away at the age of 83 years.

Arthur was the youngest son of Oscar and Amelia Sampson. He was born at Daysland, Alta. on October 30, 1918 and later grew up on the homestead near Melville, Alta. where he attended school. Later he went to the Lavee school district. He was always active in sports. In the community and with his cheerful manner, made many friends.

He was united in marriage to Violet Bard of Kiama, Alta. and made their home in Camrose. Later they moved to Edmonton where he was employed as a travelling for Continental Grain Co. and Hanna Saus. They lived there until his fatal accident near Spirit River that left his wife Violet and her sister hospitalized there.

He leaves to mourn his loving wife, Violet; one son, Rod of Edmonton; two daughters, Bill (Don) Levis and Mrs. Ed (Joyce) Brutter, both of Edmonton; four grandchildren; three brothers, Guy, Melford, and Vernon; three sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Elmqvist and Mrs. Doris Powell, both of Hardisty; and Mrs. Olive Powell of Highwood. He was predeceased by one brother, Laddie.

Funeral services were held Thursday, August 31 at the South Side Memorial Chapel. A hymn, "How Great Thou Art" was beautifully rendered by a relative, Mrs. Christine. His other favorite hymn, "Abide with Me" and "Amazing Grace" were sung. Reverend H. Erickson officiated with interment at the Mount Pleasant Cemetery. Patterson Funeral Directors were in charge of arrangements.

Many fine tributes showed high esteem by friends and relatives. He will be sadly missed.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for sympathy extended to us in the sad loss of our beloved brother and uncle. Thanks for visits, many cards and memorial donations in his memory. Your kindness will be remembered.

Violet Sampson and family Melford, Guy and Vernon Sampson; Doris and Olive Powell and family; Myrtle Elmqvist and family

The pipeline is an immediate necessity. However, at overall and comprehensive energy strategy is what is required, keeping in touch with the 21st century.

PREPARATION OF GRAIN

NEW FLOOR STORAGE

If the rain ever holds off, you could, if you get the 1977 crop lifted, a lot of grain will start flowing into storage bins again soon. To protect the stored crop from insects, mites, and weather, proper preparation of the bin is required before storage.

Probably the first step one should take in preparing the empty bin is to weatherproof it. As M.G. Dolinski, entomologist with Alberta Agriculture, points out, insects will not thrive and multiply in grain with a moisture content below 14.8%. It is therefore essential to patch all holes and seal any cracks which would allow water entry. This denies insects the damp conditions they seem to thrive in.

Once the bin has been weatherproofed it should be thoroughly swept out to prevent insect infestation from last year's crop. It is a good idea to burn or bury these sweepings and any piles or spills around the bin site since most insects will travel to newly stored grain, preferring the warmth and moisture. It is also a good idea to avoid storing grain in bins next to infested animal feeds. Storing new grain on top of old grain is not recommended since heating usually results.

With the bin now weatherproof, clean and empty, spraying the inside walls, floors and top plates is an effective means of preventing infestation. Eith or a pyrethrin-piperonyl butoxide spray is effective. Both sprays should be applied at 1 gallon per 1,000 sq. feet. Thus it takes just over 1/2 gallon to treat a 1,000 bushel granary.

Finally, one may want to treat the grain itself as it is augered into the bin. A 1% malathion solution applied with a pressurized sprayer as the grain enters the auger tube or as discharged from the spout is recommended.

It must be remembered (that insecticides are dangerous and that precautions recommended on the label should be adhered to.

A last point to remember is that bins should only be filled to the top plates to provide crawl space and allow for ventilation.

With a weatherproof, clean, insect-free bin, and with periodic checks over the winter for heating or insects, there is no reason why the full value of the harvested crop should not be realized at the time of delivery.

Strome C.W.L. elect new director

Sept. 5, 1977 was the monthly meeting of St. Peter's C.W.L. Strome. 79% of the members were present for the meeting. We also had one visitor and the new director Rev. Father Victor Perron was in attendance.

The meeting opened with the recitation of the rosary and the League prayer. Masses for September are 3 standard Masses for Peace, 1 for the sick of the parish, 1 for favourable harvest weather, 1 for school children, 1 for Father Etkin and 1 mass for Vocations.

A letter was received from Arnold Malone, M.P. in reply to our letter regarding the abortion literature in schools. So far no reply has been received from Mr. Julian Kunkin. We are going to write him and jog his memory.

Some of the plans for the next future are a Turkey Bingo Nov. 7th, 1977, and a Marion Centre drive Oct. 1, 1977.

Special Thank you to everyone who donated so generously to the Farmer's Market values Mrs. Mildred Triaka gave a very interesting reading, "Why Is The Church Changing So Much?"

The attendance prize was won by Mrs. Leona Gledeman. A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses Mrs. Doris Purpington and servers were Mrs. Leona Hauser and Mrs. Elleen Niska.

GREEN TOMATO RECIPES Green tomatoes even if they are caught by the first light frost can be used.

"Mature greens" - those which are about to turn color and often with a white spot under the blossom end - will ripen at cool temperatures (56-70 degrees F), either in sunlight or shade. The tomatoes could be spread out in the attic or porch if not too cool. Or you may wish to line them on a window sill so the sun won't burn them.

"Immature greens" won't ripen and will often rot if kept too long. It is best to use them soon after picking as possible.

Green tomatoes are not as rich in vitamin A or C as when ripe, but they are still considered as good source of vitamin C.

Some ways to use green tomatoes:

1. Fry or broil them by cutting in 1/2 inch slices, dip in beaten egg, then flour or bread crumbs and cook until tender and brown. Sprinkle with grated cheese if desired.
2. Quarter and add with other vegetables to meat stew.
3. Stuff green tomatoes with buttered bread crumbs, top with cheese and bake or scallion alternating layers tomatoes and bread crumbs and top with grated cheese.

Green Tomato Relish - 6 quarts (about 38 to 40 medium sized) chopped green tomatoes

1/4 cup salt
1 1/2 quarts chopped onion
3 cups chopped red sweet pepper
1 1/2 cups chopped red sweet pepper

3 cups sugar or honey
1 1/2 quarts vinegar
2 tablespoons whole mixed pickle spices

Mix tomatoes and salt thoroughly. Let stand overnight; drain. Combine with chopped onions, greens and red peppers, sugar and vinegar. Put spices loosely in a cloth, white cloth. Tie top tightly, and add to tomato mixture. Bring mixture to boil; boil gently with spices for 1 1/2 hours or until thickened. Stir frequently. Remove spices bag. Pour relish into hot sterilize jars, fill jars to top and seal. Store in a cool, dark place. Makes about 6 pints.

For further recipes using green tomatoes write Box 270, Sedgewick or phone 384-3737.

MONUMENT TO A PIONEER FAMILY

On a quiet country road in the Bruce district near some very old buildings stands a handsome monument which I think is unique. It was erected in honor of a pioneer couple who homesteaded here in 1905.

Sixty seven years later their sons came back to their birthplace and erected this marker. This is the inscription, which tells the story well:

"In summer 1905 Thomas Priest Hall visited and filed homestead claim on the S.E. 1/4 28-45-15-W4 and purchased the W. 1/4 27-45-15-W4, returned to his native Missouri and married Mable May. In April 1906 he shipped a boxcar of settler's effects to the new homestead 100 yards west. In June, with one Mable drove a one horse buggy across bald prairie from Camrose, the nearest railroad to be the third woman in the township. Their home was modern to the point of having hot and cold running water in kitchen sink and bathtub, gasline ceiling lamp and barbed wire telephone connecting 11 neighbors from Bruce to Holden.

Tom drilled hundreds of water wells from Waterwright to Edmonton, from Strom to St. Paul. They raised two sons, Thomas P. Jr. and Robert M.

and buried two infant sons on the brow of the hill to the right. The family moved to Michigan in 1908. However Max's will ran directly through this site and was closed by buried wire on the second occasion of Indian camping next to Mable's garden in 1907.

"May we remember and honor all pioneers who suffered the rigors of duty below weather on these lonely plains. Erected 1972 by descendants."

What a wonderful way for these men to remember their parental (this is an example to be followed before the memories of pioneers have faded forever.

As a matter of local interest, the very considerable amount of cement work was done by Kilham Transit Mtr. transported to the site where Robert and Thomas Hall worked for days to complete this memorial.

I know this family long ago and can vouch for the accuracy of the facts. Only in one respect was Camrose the end of steel in 1906!

Anhydrous Ammonia on the map and in the soil

Anhydrous ammonia is the nitrogen fertilizer that you place in the soil at root zone depth. You can put it on this fall when you have more time than you will next spring, and it will be in exactly the right place to feed new-born seeds as soon as they germinate.

Check the map and find the Pool point nearest you where anhydrous ammonia is available now for fall application. Your Pool man can help you with custom application equipment, too.

Hardisty family holds reunion

Hardisty Lake was the meeting place for the descendants of the Bill and Gus Kobitzsch brothers, on July 1st.

Some 100 relatives renewed old times and cousins became acquainted at a family gathering at Camp Kelo July 1st.

On Saturday at a dinner catered by the O.O.R.P. in the Elks Hall the families honored the 70th anniversary, having been 70 years in May that the Kobitzsch brothers with their mother and father came to Hardisty and Walter Kobitzsch having been among the original homesteaders.

Mrs. Marie Kobitzsch was honored, being the oldest living Kobitzsch.

A huge anniversary cake was presented by the Dodd's children and flowers presented by John Quintan to Grandma Kobitzsch.

Special guests and old friends were Elms Erickson of Edmonton and Ellen Joling and Mrs. Mrs. Anderson of Kamloops.

Open House followed the dinner, with more than 60 friends attending.

The music for dancing by Powell's Orchestra was greatly appreciated. The following is a poem Gus Kobitzsch's great granddaughter Shirley Ann Lickuk wrote: Ode to the Kobitzsch's 70 yrs.

In 1907 they took a little trip From sunny California To the wild west.

They took a covered wagon And they took a lot of bread They headed out for Hardisty To start the best homestead.

There was Great Grandma and Grandma Kobitzsch With their two sons, Gus and Will Gus' wife and three small kids.

What a story they'd have to tell, Seven decades later, we gathered in the hall. For a family reunion, We really had a ball.

Everyone was there, The young and the old You should have heard the tales

And the stories that they told Many years of Toil and Tears Of sunshine, laughter and tears.

From their resting place on top of the hill They shall be forever still. CARD OF THANKS

Thank you to the Ladies of the O.O.R.P., Powell's Orch., & the ladies that served midnight coffee. Sincerely appreciated by The Kobitzsch families.

IN MEMORIAM

RENSHAW — In memory of Vincent Renshaw who passed away September 11, 1976. Those whom we love go out of sight. But never out of mind. They are cherished in the hearts of those they leave behind. Loving and kind in all his days. Upright and just in all his days. Sincere and true in heart and mind. Beautiful memories he left behind. Ever remembered and sadly missed by the Family.

COOKSON — In loving memory of my dear husband Thomas who passed away on September 6, 1975. God saw the road was getting rough. And the hills were hard to climb. And who closed your weary eyelids. And whispered "Peace be thine". Calm and peaceful he is sleeping. Sweetest rest that follows him. We who loved him sadly miss him. But trust in God to meet again. Lovingly remembered by my wife Elsie and family, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

NEBB — In loving memory of Cliff who passed away Sept. 16, 1968. Quietly remembered every day. Sadly missed along life's way. Just to be with, he will always be. Treasured and loved, in our memory. Lovingly remembered by Marv and the family.

OUR TOWN IS DYING

Are you helping to kill it, by shopping in the larger towns and cities?

If so — sit for a moment and think of what you are doing to yourself, your neighbors, your young and old kids.

Think carefully of what it would be like to live in any town that has no little grocery stores or other small businesses. You say, "Why not close the doors for good?" after all he doesn't always have fresh fruit, the particular out of most you never make the water till the well runs dry. This applies to many businesses — you'll never miss the doctor, the grocer, the barber, the minister, the baker, the farmer, the dressmaker, the dentist, the carpenter, till they are all gone.

"And my goodness, his prices my dear: do you know I can save a can of beans 8 cents cheaper in the city? And we get ice cream, something you can't ever buy here."

"Would you believe it, I saved $100 on groceries the last time I shopped in the city?"

Now everyone wants to stop to the city and save $2.27, but wait! — you're not telling it like it is. It cost $15.00 for gas and oil, it cost $34.00 for the fuel and the children's because you saved so much on groceries you insisted on eating in a classy cafe.

While the kids stated they want to shop for new jeans, you decide to buy another pant suit to hang up beside the eight suits you already have.

And Dad isn't hanging around, he needs a hair cut and a few repairs and a couple of new tools.

Why not get these now? Then after a days hard work of saving so much money, you might as well have a snack for the road. Don't gas up and get the spare tire fixed while the kids buy soda pop and chocolate bars.

Meanwhile the home town businesses are hanging on by their teeth 'til they can't bear the pain any longer, so they quietly close their doors. Some will move away, some will become disillusioned and others will just give up and go on welfare.

Soon the towns starts raising taxes. They have no choice, they're lost business and home taxes which helped pay for schools, sewage and water, hospitals, police force, garbage removal and road repairs.

Farm property devalued, you have to go miles to get repairs, you run your schools, so they lose your school grants and you've lost a future generation to the bigger towns and cities.

Some day you wake up with a sore throat, you need your tonsils out. Two bed people, the hospital closed its doors last month and the doctor left town last week.

You have to get to a doctor now. Take a taxi, "What's a taxi?" Take a bus, "Golly, he bus?" Take a car, "We got a car but no gas!"

Before you know it, the grocery store has closed, the beauty shop has called it quits, the dress shop sold dresses instead of jeans, the barber left, the drug store took off — families have to leave town to find work leaving a glut of houses behind.

JOB PRINTING
You can have your business cards, letterhead, forms, etc. printed in 24 hours.

Former area minister receives service award

In April of this year a "Distinguished Service Award" was presented to 80 year old Rev. W.A. Peterson a retired minister, now living in Oliver, B.C. Application for the award, from the Church of the Nazarene was made on Rev. Peterson's behalf by the Prince Albert Nazarene Women's Missionary Society. Rev. Peterson was the pastor of the Loughed Nazarene Church for 8 years during the later part of his ministry.

The award reads, "In appreciation of outstanding services and sacrifice as a Home Mission Pastor and evangelist in retirement a continued ministry to elderly and shut-in people - an inspiration to all who know him."

"Bill" Peterson was born in Dec. of 1896 on a Iowa homestead, one of a family of 10 children. He came as a young man with his parents and brothers and sisters to Wood Mountain, Sask. and there at the age of 59 he left the farm to answer a call into the ministry.

Rev. Peterson spent these years working on the home mission field in small towns and communities from the coast of B.C. to as far East as Ont. and North to Yellowknife in the North West Territories.

Partial retirement came at the age of 65 when cataracts and a heart attack forced him to leave the management of his own church. He continued to serve his church whenever and wherever he was sent by filling in when their ministers were away from their pastorate. A second heart attack 3 years ago at the age of 77 left him under doctor's orders never to preach or play his cello again.

Dedicate Church this Sunday

Dr. George Coulter, former pastor in Loughed, shall be the guest speaker for the dedication of the new Church of the Nazarene in Sedgewick on Sunday, Sept. 25 at 3 p.m.

Dr. George Coulter is a General Superintendent in the Church of the Nazarene with offices at the international center of the denomination in Kansas City, Mo.

He was re-elected to a second 4-year term in 1968, and was elected to an initial 4-year term at the 19th General Assembly of the denomination at Portland Oregon in 1964.

Prior to his selection for the highest office in the church, he was executive secretary of the Department of World Missions for four years in the denomination. Earlier he served 12 years as superintendent of the original Northern California district which grew to 152 churches with more than 12,500 members. The district was divided into three districts in January, 1968.

Dr. Coulter began his Christian work as a pastor in the church of the Nazarene in Loughed, Alberta in 1964. He was born in Ireland and at the age of 11 came to Canada with his parents.

He earned a bachelor of arts degree at Northwest Nazarene College, Nampa, Idaho. Pasadena College, Pasadena, Calif., conferred an honorary doctorate degree upon him in 1962.

The public is cordially invited to this service.

There will be changes in regular service times for Sunday, Sept. 25th only. The Worship Service is at 10:30 a.m. and the Evening Service is at 7:00 p.m.

Two members of the U.C.W. were present at our meeting held on Sept. 12th. A motion was made to change the date of our meetings to the first Wed. of every month. We decided to hold a turkey supper again this fall. This will be on October 16th between 5-7 p.m. As we are holding a clothing drive for Bissel Centre so if anyone would like to donate excess clothes they might have we would appreciate having them in the basement of the church by November 15th. The meeting closed with a lovely lunch served by hostesses Connie Hahn and Hat Hauck.

The September meeting of Our Lady of Fatima C.W.L. meeting at the Elk's Hall on Monday, September 12th, with Lorraine Lorenz as hostess. An acquaintance get together has been planned for our new Pastor, Fr. Perron on Sunday evening.

The greater part of the meeting involved some new ideas for projects, that our organization could be doing, these will be given full consideration and confirmed at a future meeting. We hope all you ladies will be at our next meeting to voice your opinion.

Theresa Stiel was the ladies attendance prize. Following adjournment, lunch was served by the hostess and assisted by Theresa Stiel.

Daysland and District News Items

The Daysland and District Agricultural Society C.C.A. approved Rodeo was held Sept. 18, 19th with a good crowd in attendance at each performance. Six events were open to entries, with a total of 254 entries being received by deadline time on Wednesday.

Stock was supplied by Block Bros. Rodeo Stock Contractors of Rosalind, Rodeo Cowmen, by McLean from Granville, B.C. provided a lively and entertaining performance each day. Sandy and Leanne Short, mother and daughter trick riding team from Delisle, Sask. gave a fine performance on Friday evening due to a death in the family. Sandy and Leanne were unable to perform on Saturday and Sunday.

Following are the winners in each of the six events. It should be noted that many of the rodeo participants are in the top ten in the C.C.A. Standing in 1977, which shows the high quality of riders that were in attendance at our Rodeo.

Goodwill Club Report

On September 14 at the home of Mrs. Bernard Markwart at Provost, the ladies of this club gathered together for a business meeting.

The President welcomed our guests, the previous minutes were read and discussed and then the Treasurer gave her report. It was decided that we purchase a gift for Mrs. Zimmerman, because she was so kind as to purchase so many chicks in the U.S.

Correspondence consisted only of a receipt from U.S.C. of Canada for our donation. Christine thanked the ladies for the cards and gift she received when in Calahad Hospital.

Birthday money was put into the birthday jar by 36 members and "Happy Birthday" was sung to them.

Our next meeting is to be at Etta's on October 18th, with Laurie Nordstrom to be our co-leader. We are inviting Diane Bourne, the home economist to talk, demonstrate and show slides on crafts: possibly Christmas cards. The Roll Call is "What I like about this month".

Mary A. read a reading entitled "Simple Pleasures". She also had a contest - "Mixed Matches" of persons' names. Helen S. was the smartest and got the most correct and Mable Markwart the lowest, both receiving very useful prizes.

Our Roll Call was to wear a home-grown "Garden Costume". Marlene won the prize for the most beautiful and arranged costume of flowers, leaves, plastic and ribbon. There were other lots that were very well displayed, even to the lone cauliflower.

Helen S. won the lucky tea cup prize and Mrs. Sharon Arlt won the hostess prize. Mary A. adjourned the meeting and the hostess, co-hostess and the little girls served a very delicious lunch. The table napkins were so cheery saying "Glad you Came". It was such a terrible rainy gloomy day, but we all made it rain or not and thoroughly enjoyed the beautiful fall season all the way.

Congratulations too, to Betty Rotheiser on winning the World Globe in the draw at Tom Boy Store.

George Stuart spent a few days at Stately with grand daughter, Sharon and family.

The new lady waiting on customers in the Drug Store is Mrs. Grace Kella.

More little newcomers have arrived in Hardisty. Congratulations to Jim and Julia Chu on the arrival of a young son on August 5th and named Gene Ming Chu. Also, a little girl arrived at the Rod Boyd home on Aug. 24. She weighed in at 5 lbs. 14 1/2 oz. and her name is Nicole.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Schelcher, (Laura Renahaw), of Spruce Grove are proud parents of a young daughter, born Aug. 26, weight 8 lbs. 4 oz. and her name is Leanne Marie, another great granddaughter for Grandma Schelcher in Strone.

Work is still being done on Wally Steis's dining lounge and he hopes that before long it will be open to the public.

Congratulations to R. Harrison on winning the Elks bingo blackout of $120.00 and to make sure that she was not left out.

Mrs. R. J. Harrison won a nice sum on the 10c bingo. Not very often that a couple win the big ones together like that.

It was nice to see Gary Johannessen of Red Deer area in town. He says he still finds his work very interesting.

Visitors to Hardisty over the weekend were Jack Trupp and fried from Edmonton visiting at the George Mills home.

Also seen at the Farmer's Market were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Harding of Vancouver Island. Mrs. Harding was the former Mizil Gadd and lived in Hardisty.

Elsie Parkin had her sister Linda Reeson and brother John visiting from Kenna, Arada.

Edna Woodcock of Camrose, was another visitor to the Farmer's Market. More people seem to be attending all the time so it is a very popular place for a couple of hours every Saturday.

Supper guests at the home of Isabel Nelson last Wednesday, were the Ken Blackwells and Gladys Goodrich. We all had to help Allen Lawson celebrate his birthday as he joined the "over 60" club.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mat thews, Jim and Bonnie, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Tillman, Bernice and Ivan all attended the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil White's son, Gary, which was held at Lacombe.

Virgil White is Bernice and Erma's brother and lives in Rocky Mountain House.

The usual card party was held at the Drop-In Centre, Sept. 17th with enough people for 6 tables and we would welcome a few more as someone is always left out.

Winning prizes were Ladies High G. Terry and low was Doris Powell. Gents high was Bertha Chapman and George Matthews low. We wish to welcome Mr. Lavis of Wainwright who was a newcomer to our party and we hope to see him back again sometime.

Mr. Lavis was visiting with Mr. and Mrs. George Jechells. Sympathy is extended to Esther Nelson and her family on the passing away of her son Lorne, who spent many months in hospitals in Edmonton and Hardisty the last year.

We are glad to note that once again Hardisty Hospital is looking for volunteers in the 14 to 18 years group, both boys and girls and passing this course adds a few more credits to their school program.

We send sincere sympathy to the S. Martineau family of Hughenden on the sudden passing away of his wife, Arada, who should have had many more years to live.

Your reporter felt quite honoured while in Kenna, Manitoba, as Miss Canada's grand mother, 83 years young, came over to see me and to show me a picture taken in Prince Albert of herself with John Drifflinger.

Miss Canada was one of Freda Blackwell's Brownies when they lived in Prince Albert.

Glad to have a letter from Mrs. Kitty Martin, who has been in Kenna to visit her son Doug Maxwell who has been retired there. She was visiting Rex Pelton who used to live in Kenna and hoped to go to Vancouver before returning home to Edmonton.

The countryside is so beautiful now but all the farmers are biting their finger nails as this wet weather has done at lot of damage to swathed crops and everyone is hoping for dry weather.

Marion and Ed Drager celebrated their 45th Wedding Anniversary August 26. Family and friends took them out for supper and ended the evening with cards at Jeanette Morans.

Marjory Drager and Georgina Craig of Calgary, left Sunday for a trip to New Brunswick to spend a few weeks with Bert and family.

Evelyn and Dwayne Rorick and girls of Grimshaw spent a week visiting at the Darryl Braunsens. Dwayne was a former assistant for the Wheat Pool here.

On the weekend of Sept. 11, Pastor and Mrs. Abel took a trip to Melior, Sask. There Mr. Abel was to be the speaker. But on arriving they discovered that their dates were wrong. It was the following weekend they were expected to be on the Sept. 18th. weekend. Pastor Abel went again. This time he left Mrs. Abel at home to speak to a goodly number gathered for the morning service, on "Casting all your care upon Him".

The Sept. 11th service was a blessing as Evan Kaechele from Bashaw brought the message.

Mrs. Kaechele was also with him at the service.

The Credit Roll Regatta is now in the Church, and two babies are enrolled. One is Timothy Peter Kirby (the four th) and the other is Clinton Stutter. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Edland from Port Alberni came to visit the abels, but since the Abels were away that week and the Cliff Poters entertained them. They waited for the Abels to come back from Melior, Sask. and thus got in a visit with them. We welcome Janis Abel back, after her trip to Oregon, Illinois. Welcome, Janis during Sunday School on Sept. 18th, the church celebrated their Alabaster Box opening. Pennies and other monies saved were emptied into a large cardboard church. These monies will be used to help build churches and hospitals. Dale Bort favoured us with a little song to impress upon us the fact that it takes pennies to make dollars.

Please keep in mind that the Dedication of the new Nazarene Church in Sedgewick is on Sept. 25th. You are welcome. There will be three services at 10:30 a.m. at 8:00 p.m. and at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. George Coulter from Kansas will be speaking.

Mrs. Jessie Clark and Mr. A. W. Russell won prizes for the highest scores while Mrs. Susan Russell and Mr. Neil Djos were awarded consolation prizes at the Senior Citizens Wednesday afternoon Card Party at their Drop-In Centre. There were 4 tables of whist players.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lane of Gore Bay, Ont. and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weeks of Toronto, Ontario spent a few days visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lane last week. We welcome their niece in Hardisty, Mrs. Lois Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Howells and children of Edmonton spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Howells.

The sympathy of the community is expressed to Mrs. Ed Djos and Mrs. Gordon Muirhead on the passing of their son, Mr. Richard Kirkman of Tofield. The funeral took place on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rod MacKinnon left last Thursday for a stay in Hanna.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Bratland (nee Beth Muirhead) and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Samuels (nee Kay Muirhead) of Calgary spent the weekend here at the Muirhead homes. Mr. Bratland left on Sunday night for St.

John, New Brunswick to take up his new position as Atlantic Regional Director for V.I.A. Mrs. Bratland is staying here until she leaves to join him.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Stuart of Edam, Sask. visited at the Larry Trust home over the weekend to take in the graduation of nephew Derek who was home from Calgary for the occasion.

Mr. Arnold Malone was the guest speaker at the Graduation Exercises at the High School Gym at 8 p.m. on Saturday. The biggest crowd I've seen yet at Graduation turned out to see 68 young people receive their degree recognition as Central High graduates.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bowen and daughter, Trudy, and Mrs. Barbara Bowen and children, all of Edmonton, were weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Djos and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lindhale.

Mr. David Swaneart of Los Angeles left on Monday morning after spending over a week here visiting with his relatives.

Mrs. Betty Persa of Edmonton and Mrs. Eunice Salomonson of London, England were weekend guests at the Eldon Ferrier and George Anderson homes. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Wickens of Edmonton joined the company on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Simons, Mr. and Mrs. Red Culbert, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lindquist and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stevens were in Thorby on Saturday to attend the wedding of Sandra Bottineau.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hellenstein (nee Sandra Bottineau) who were married in Thorby on Saturday. Sandy was born here and lived here as a little girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Farquharson and their children from here and from Fort Saint John and Miss Carol Farquharson attended the wedding of their niece, Miss Sandra Bottineau in Thorby on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Fall returned on Friday from a trip of a little over a week spent visiting cousins in Binford and Hunter in North Dakota.

Mr. B. Lindemann was a recent visitor with his sister, E. Munro and family.

Dennis Ullist of Alton, Alberta was down visiting late Anna Arbuckle.

Re-Further Education

There may have been some confusion in the fees charge by Further Education in last week's ad. Fees listed are for the entire course.

Capacity crowd at dedication

A capacity crowd filled the Sedgewick Church of the Nazarene in worshipful dedication of the new sanctuary, enjoying the challenge of Dr. George Coulter's message "Walls are not Enough". The overflow congregation in the church basement much appreciated being able to view the service on closed circuit television.

Mayor William Johnson, on behalf of the town and council of Sedgewick, expressed it as a miracle that such an undesirable piece of property had been changed into something beautiful and wished the church success in accomplishing the same mission among people.

Rev. Richard Conrad conveyed greetings from the Provincial Ministerial Association and the Lutheran congregation sent a beautiful bouquet of flowers for the sanctuary.

Lamar Grant, church secretary, gave a short history of the church and read messages of congratulations.

Chiff Potter, church treasurer, reported that the church was dedicated debt free and expressed gratitude to God and to the local congregation for their united service. Thanks was given also to Bob Teers, Fred Edgerton and Ross, and Du-El Block.

Louis swanson presented a plaque which read, "Presented to Chiff Potter in appreciation of his work as general contractor for Sedgewick Church of the Nazarene."

Tribute to the Lougheed Pastor of 1934 to 1936 and guest speaker of the day, Rev. George Coulter, was given by Warren Waite.

Special music was provided by a male quartet from Red Deer and John Swindells of Camrose.

Former pastors participating were Rev. Russell Quantz and Rev. Roy Kaahol. Greetings were also read from Caroline Granger Fleming, Rev. and Mrs. Peterson and Rev. and Mrs. Russell Borge.

WINTER PROTECTION FOR STRAWBERRIES

Strawberry plants growing in areas of Alberta where the early winter snowfall is light, and where the snow melts early in the spring, should be protected with a straw mulch.

The best straw to use is that from a wheat or oat crop that was free of weeds and properly threshed. The plants should be covered to a depth of 3 to 4 inches. This depth would take between 3 and 3 1/2 tons of straw per acre. The straw should be spread evenly over the bed, either by hand or with a straw-cutter spreader if there is a large area involved. The time to apply the mulch is, when the temperature drops to 10 degrees C and stays there.

It should be removed in the spring after the danger of a severe frost has passed and when the plants begin to grow. Although a delay in removing the mulch will delay blossoming, it is better to sacrifice early blooming rather than to risk the results of a severe spring frost. The straw that is removed from the plants can be left between the rows to help keep the weeds down.

Information on recommended strawberry varieties, general strawberry culture, irrigation, chemical weed control, blossom removal, harvesting, bud renovation, control of insect pests and diseases in Alberta, pick-your-own operations and growing strawberries in barrels is contained in a publication entitled "Strawberries in Alberta". It is available from the publications office, Alberta Agriculture, Rural, Agricultural Building, 9718-107 Street, Edmonton, T6K 2C8.

DAMP GRAIN:

The current moist talled a bout topic, second only to the weather, is what do we do to get the crop in, and how can we handle all that damp grain? Beyond waiting, and wishing for a dry spell, there seems little one can do. However, there are several alternatives available.

DRYING:
If the grain is 30% moisture or less, drying may be a good alternative. There are 3 basic types of dryers on the market: the in-bla batch dryer, portable batch dryer, and the continuous flow dryer. Within these basic types, there are several variations based on grain volumes, movements and best resources.

When considering a dryer, there is no one type which is superior to any other. Each has its advantages and disadvantages. A dryer should be selected on the basis of its location, volume required, portability if necessary, fuel source, and type of grain to be dried. A publication is available from our office which can help in selecting the right dryer for your needs.

A point to consider when purchasing a dryer is that such a purchase be made from a licensed dealer in Alberta. Of ten a cheap model, either new or used, that was imported from the U.S. may not be the best buy when service or replacement parts are needed. A purchase is best made through your local licensed dealer who can help you determine the dryer you need, as well as, help determine the need for any local or provincial hook-up permits.

ACID PRESERVATION:
A second alternative for grain is the 22% or less area to acid preservation. The cost per bushel is similar to drying when fuel cost plus capital cost are considered. The application of the acid is done when the grain is placed in storage, and often an applicator may be rented from the Company supplying the chemical.

A point to note with acid treatment, is that the grain can not be sold commercially, nor used for feed. It is the weather, is what do we do to get the crop in, and how can we handle all that damp grain? Beyond waiting, and wishing for a dry spell, there seems little one can do. However, there are several alternatives available. These products and their applications are available by contacting Federated Co-Op Ltd., Cargill Grain Co. Ltd. or Celanese Canada Ltd.

SILAGE STORAGE:
Grain exceeding 22% moisture may be preserved by storing in a silo. However, because packing is required, a moisture content above 25% is preferred. Grain should be treated like silage as far as packing is concerned. To facilitate better packing, the grain should be hammered with a hammer mill or rolled.

Once the grain is well packed in the pit, it should be covered and treated like silage. Once the pit is opened, a minimum of 2" of feed should be removed from the face of the pit.

Further information on the storage and use of high moisture grain for feeding is also available from our office.

100 pheasants released

On September 12, Mr. Ed Schaber, Fish and Wildlife Officer, with the assistance of several of the Fish and Game members released the pheasants that the Iron Creek Fish and Game Assoc. had raised this summer. A total of 100 pheasants were released in 8 different locations throughout the area.

The club received 104 birds late in July which were about 6 weeks old. The mortality rate was very low, 3 birds lost from unknown causes and 2 from collision with posts. We say thanks to our pheasant caretaker for a job very well done. Plans are now being made to increase the size of our pheasant rearing facilities to handle 200 birds next year.

Mr. Schaber also informed us that Owen's pond had been stocked with 3000 trout of catchable size on the 15th of August. They will make some fine fishing for you this fall. The weighing stations for trophy competitions are at Andy's Hardware in Loughheed and Sedgewick Co-op Service Centre.

Mrs. Adamson celebrates 95th

September 24, 1977 was a very happy day for Mrs. A.W. Adamson when she celebrated her 95th birthday in her own home with her family and many friends, and was thrilled with the happiness and kindness shown.

Coming to Canada from Iowa in 1911 she has resided for 66 happy years on the farm home formally known as "The Newlands" in the Sedgewick District. "Grandma" as she is affectionately known to many, wishes to thank her family and many friends for the beautiful cards, flowers and gifts she received, making her birthday one of the most memorable.

It is the sincere wish of the community that this grand lady may enjoy more years of good health and happiness and the pleasures of life of which she is most worthy.

Nursery to Grade 3 are in the United Church, Grade 4 and 5 are in the Presbyterian Church and Grade 6 is in the Anglican Church. As before, juice and cookies are being served to the children after school by parents and other interested people.

Due to the influx of students and shortage of funds it was decided to hold a bake sale on Nov. 5 to raise money for supplies needed.

A special family service is planned for Oct. 30 in the United Church at 7:00 p.m. It is hoped that the Church School Students and their parents will be able to attend.

Old time hymn sing

Four of the Sedgewick churches are combining for a unique activity on Sunday, October 16th. The event will be an old time hymn sing and is to start at 7:30 p.m. in the Anglican Church in Sedgewick.

Mrs. Kay Routledge will provide organ accompaniment and Alan Cookson will assist with music on an electric piano.

Sponsoring the event are the Anglican, United, Lutheran and Nazarene Churches. Coffee will be served. Each of the four ministers from the four churches will be giving short talks during the hymn sing. Why not take an active part in this old fashioned way of giving thanks?

Corporate incomes taxes to be reduced?

LEGISLATURE REPORT

Premier Peter Lougheed has revived an almost forgotten but major commitment to overhaul the province's share of corporate income taxes to foster industrial diversification with made-in-Alberta incentives.

He served notice that the legislation, unveiled in the Legislature April 2, 1974, will be honored during a lengthy speech to a "think west" business and economics conference in Edmonton.

Lougheed said that the key question behind the long-awaited initiative, originally described as "fundamental" for government economic strategy, remains its timing.

He predicted that a program could be introduced in 1979 or 1980. The next election is expected in late spring, 1979.

Personal income taxes were reduced just before the last voting, in March of 1976.

Delays are attributed to recent preoccupation by Provincial cabinet members with the job of at last preparing legislation to create an Alberta auditor general.

The auditor-general, a major financial reform which has been promised since 1971, will be proposed to the Legislature this fall.

Meanwhile, the administration remains committed to opting out of Alberta's long-standing agreement to let Ottawa collect the provincial share of corporate taxes.

The province only sets rates. Federally determined taxable incomes, deductions and incentives are said to fall short of meeting Alberta needs and returning fair shares of out of province firms' profits.

A 1976 position paper outlined a long list of proposed concessions for entrepreneurs establishing new operations which qualify as "resident" and "incentive" companies in Alberta.

But Lougheed said the government isn't committed to details of the proposed system yet. He added that as a result of the 1976 reductions, Alberta's personal income taxes are about as low as they can go unless Ottawa cuts its share.

In addition to tax reform, ways of putting the multi-billion dollar Heritage Fund to productive use continue to be a government preoccupation.

Lougheed said that his cabinet would consider methods of using the fund $2.2 billion as of last March 31 and growing by about $1 billion a year, during an annual three-day "taxi retreat" starting Sept. 29.

Possible programs of helping established firms assistance for expansion in the province through lending will be reviewed.

The government knows of no sure way to help would-be industrialists get much-needed "venture" equity ownership money for new enterprises but would welcome suggestions, Lougheed said.

The fund is a key part of a six-point economic strategy which also covers agricultural processing, petrochemical development, participation in northern development, recreation and tourism, and financial institutions.

SOIL TESTING:

For less than 5 cents an acre, a farmer may know how much fertilizer and what kind to apply to his fields for next year's crop.

WHO SHOULD SOIL TEST

... Every farmer who utilizes his fields for the production of grain, oilseeds or forages, both summerfallow and stable fields as well as, hayland and pasture should be tested.

WHERE SHOULD ONE TEST

Soil tests shouldn't be taken from problem areas and used to determine recommendations for the whole field. Samples should be taken from average representative sites of the whole field. The field should be about 50 acres or less, and of the same management, i.e. summerfallow or stubble, not a mixture. If problem areas exist within the field these should be sampled separately as the problem may be defined. Samples for the field should not be taken from the sloughs or top of hills only. The whole field should be represented in the sample.

WHEN SHOULD ONE TEST:

NOW! Even if the crop hasn't been taken off yet. Drive or walk between the swatches and sample the field in a representative way. The soil temperatures are low enough now that very little change will occur in nutrient levels between now and next spring. Putting off the sampling may mean that the ground will be frozen, when one gets to it. Sampling frozen ground is not recommended as it usually is not representative.

WHAT SHOULD ONE TEST.

All fields intended for next spring's planting. In sampling, now is testing for essential nutrients like nitrogen, phosphorus and K (Potassium). If previous samples have never been taken, sampling to find out what is below the 6" depth is a good idea. 0-6, 6-12, 12-24, are the 3 most common levels of sampling.

Hayland and pastures should also be sampled to determine nutrient levels and requirements.

HOW TO TEST:

As already mentioned, samples should be representative. The best way I have found to take samples is as follows: 1. Obtain a sampling tool, which can be pushed to the desired depth.

2. Take 25-25 samples from a field no larger than 50-60 acres, and place in a wash tub or large bucket. Use a 1/4 ton and ride on the tailgate. It sure saves the legs and back!

3. Mix samples well in tub and take out a representative sample - half an ice cream pail.

4. Dry sample immediately on newspaper in dry place, not in oven or direct sunlight. (Most samples in warm truck or house will give incorrect results when dried later).

5. Take a representative sample from dried soil and fill soil sample box.

6. Submit box, completed information sheet and $2.00/sample to Soil and Feed Testing Lab. Kits are available from our office free of charge.

One last thing, when you get your results back, study them. If you need help, please call.

KaleidoscopeENCOURAGEMENT

The following is an article that was written by Nadine Vestor, Adult Agriculture's Family Living Specialist.

A misbehaving child is a discouraged child. A discouraged child does not feel good about himself; we say he lacks self-esteem. So says Dr. Rudolf Dreikurs in his book "Children: The Challenges".

Many of us were raised to believe that we should not tell our children how we expect them to behave. We think they are just they become convinced. The dictionary defines convinced as having too high an opinion of oneself. Have you ever known anyone who truly thought too highly of himself? Most convinced behavior is set to mask self-doubt.

Let us look at some ways of telling our kids how special they are or of "encouraging" them, to use Dr. Dreikurs' word. A child is born with a desire to learn, to become skillful, to be useful. He also comes equipped with a desire to please those on whom he is dependent. So, we have a racer already in motion; we just have to learn to steer him and to apply the brakes occasionally.

First, never do for your child what he can do for himself. If it is doubt, let him try. Mistakes are learning experiences. Give him alternatives if he is having difficulties. "Maybe you could tuck in the sheet like this before putting on the blanket."

Perhaps you might try doing the bottom button first and working up. "I know you are frustrated, perhaps if we did it together." Since children learn by imitation, they need to have the opportunities to watch you and to practice. Yes, this takes time.

Then, tell your child what he did right. Do not make vague pleased noises. "Isn't that a good boy, aren't you clever?" that tells him you are pleased, but about what? Say, "You really made that pillow fluffy and soft when you plumped it."

"You got all the covers off the floor and onto the bed." The bedspread really covers the bed now." (never mind the lump!) "Since the bowls have been washed, we can make that cake." Notice any improvement, any progress, however small and comment - do not assume he can read your mind!

Now let us look at some discouraging messages. "Why can't you be more careful?" The world if he could: "You never finish what you start." "Your eyes are bigger than your stomach." "Why must you be so clumsy." "You are so lazy ..."

when I was your age, I had to milk six cows." "You missed this spot" (ignoring the rest of the shiny clean floor). "Let Mom do it for you." "Hi, Fats" or "Hi, bugy Boney" - any nickname based on a negative characteristic is a put-down.

Most teasing is hostile. Just listen the next time you hear teasing, and you will hear the victim defending himself.

B.F. Skinner taught pigeons to play ping-pong by rewarding the behavior he wanted them to repeat. Take a hint from him and tell your child what he is doing right. Tell him how wonderful he is. It is good for him.

Nadine Vestor, will be coming to Sedgewick to discuss various points made in Dreikurs' book. The workshop will be held November 9, 10, 13, 9:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. Cost is $11.00. Please Helen Whitten at 384-3606 to register.

BAZELWOOD GOODFEE KLIN

Our September meeting was held at the home of Vi Metz, with nine members present and two visitors, Grandma McClelland and Molly Ferrybough. The meeting was called to order by our president, Kay Cox. The visitors and members were welcomed.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and the correspondence was taken care of. We had a discussion on our coming Tea and Bazaar and also about new material. Jags, Margaret Denham and Corrie handed in money for our new quilt. Kay handed in a set of finished tea towels and took two more sets to finish. Alma got the Hostess gift, a lovely box of note paper. Breitra was the birthday girl.

The meeting was then adjourned by Alvina and seconded by Joy. The hostess served a delicious lunch followed by a lovely birthday cake, which we all enjoyed very much.

The next meeting is to be held at Essie Drager's, October 18th.

"Some people call me a paper boy. But I'm really a small businessman. And I need a good safe place for my money. A place like the Credit Union, where they have a special savings account with good returns and the money is always there when I need it. Pretty soon I'll be able to buy a ten-speed."

"My friends put their money in the Credit Union too. We think it's a neat place. It suits us fine."

Town of Daysland council minutes

Notes from Rept. Council Meeting:
The meeting was held on Monday, September 12th, 1977 at 7:00 p.m. in the Town Office. Present were Councillors Dan-berger, Hensley, Sather, Larson and Taranger. Mayor Lisack presided.

At a Public Utilities Board Hearing Mr. Crowley had been informed that, due to the rise in the provincial support price of Natural Gas, a 4.5% per Mcf increase would be in order at this time. This has subsequently been confirmed by Board Order E77141. The Town's new Natural Gas Rate will therefore be $1.2995 per Mcf used with the monthly service charge remaining at $3.00.

Mayor Lisack advised that the Alberta Housing Corporation had no further news on the results of the Senior Citizen Lodge/Nursing Home survey but should have some information by the end of the month.

The new chlorinator is now working well, some complaints about the water were received but have now ceased. The skunk problem had lessened but was still with us. No trap has been supplied by the County yet, we will make more requests for a trap for the use in Town.

A report was made on the Disaster Services meeting held on September 1st. Eighteen people attended including some from Alberta Disaster Services. Stan Harbin went through the Peacetime Disaster Plan with comments from various people along the way. He then showed a film called "Blow", short for Bolting Liquid Expanding Vaporizer Explosion, on the increasing possibility of accidents involving explosive liquids and gases, which do travel by train and along the highway with greater frequency these days. There will be further Disaster Meetings arranged to finalize the myriad of small details pertaining to our plan.

Nothing further had been heard re the replacement of the pine trees on Main St. A general discussion was held on the merits of replacing the trees and Council would that they be replaced at this time. This has subsequently been confirmed by Board Order E77141. The Town's new Natural Gas Rate will therefore be $1.2995 per Mcf used with the monthly service charge remaining at $3.00.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cooper left Daysland September 5th by car for a trip to Niagara Falls. A few of the many points of interest were: A canal eight feet deep, harbour cruises at Thunder Bay Terminal elevators, Tour of the Ankylosaur mine and one through an iron mine 400 feet under ground. We then arrived at Niagara Falls September 15th, where we stayed for 3 days. Here we took a 3 hour tour by bus to points of interest, then took our car and visited many places again. TWO NEW CANADA SAVINGS BONDS

A GREAT CHOICE

This year, Canada Savings Bonds offer you a great choice. There's a new Regular Interest Bond that pays interest each year. And a new Compound Interest Bond that re-invests your interest automatically, earning interest on your interest.

SAFETY, INSTANT CASH AND A GOOD RETURN

Both new bonds retain the great features that have helped to make Canada Savings Bonds the favorite investment for millions of Canadians over the past 31 years. They're a safe, secure investment. They're instant cash anytime. And they earn good interest — year after year.

Canada Savings Bonds are dated November 1, 1972 and yield an average annual interest of 8.00% when held to maturity in 1986. Each new bond begins with a 2% discount the first year and rises to 8.25% interest by each other remaining 6 years.

REGULAR INTEREST BOND

If you want a regular annual income from your investment, just like the new Regular Interest Bond that pays interest automatically each year. You have the choice of receiving your interest either by cheque or by direct deposit into your chequing or savings account. This new direct deposit feature is an added convenience for you.

You can buy the Regular Interest Bond for cash wherever you bank or invest in denominations of $300, $500, $1,000 and $5,000.

COMPOUND INTEREST BOND

If you seek savings growth, or an investment for the future, or a retirement fund, you'll choose the new Compound Interest Bond.

The Compound Interest Bond may be purchased for cash or on the convenient Monthly Savings Plan wherever you bank or invest. It is available in denominations of $300, $500, $1,000 and $5,000.

THE CHOICE IS YOURS

As you can see, new Canada Savings Bonds offer you a great choice — the Regular Interest Bond and the Compound Interest Bond. Both new bonds are on sale now in a combined total purchase limit of $15,000. They have been specifically designed to meet your savings goals. Choose the one that's right for you.

BRIGHTER BEEF MARKETS

Think goodness the marketing of beef cattle finally appears to have a silver lining. After four years of very depressed prices in the marketing of beef and veal there is the commencement of hopes for renewed market strength. It is expected that the price of beef cattle will increase moderately and continuously to the end of 1977.

The Government has finally heard the voice of western Canada that so many Opposition Members have been echoing throughout this past year. It is interesting to note that at the week ending September 8, 1977 there has been an overall 38 per cent decrease on the import of dressed carcasses over the period last year. The breakdown by nations indicates that our imports from the United States are down 66 per cent, from Australia down 10 per cent, and from New Zealand down 20 per cent. Our exports of dressed beef remain approximately the same as that of a year ago — down only 1 per cent for the same time frame.

In 1976 Canada imported 83,500 head of cattle to the fish of September where as in 1977 we imported only 38,083 cattle. In respect to exports our movement of live cattle is about the same — 175,000 for 1976 and 164,000 for 1977.

The 83 cent dollar that is hurting much of the Canadian industry is actually having a favorable impact on the Canadian cattle industry since it is a restraint on cattle moving from the corn belt into Ontario. We could expect that in western Canada the feeder cattle will have stronger markets.

Most of the indicators were pointing in that direction prior to the unusually wet September witnessed throughout the province of Alberta. The lower quality grain, as a result of the extraordinarily wet harvest season, will likely encourage farmers to market more of their grain through livestock. Everything appeared to be moving towards a position of strength and equilibrium. However, with the wet harvest season it was hoped that the feeder cattle market will not strengthen out of proportion with the fat stock market later in the spring of the year.

Beef men should not feel that we have fully resolved our problems in view of the fact that the price of a 560 lb. steer beef animal in Canada which is 97 per cent of last year's cattle population. It is also interesting to note that the price of a 560 lb. steer beef animal in Canada which is 97 per cent of last year's cattle population. It is also interesting to note that the price of a 560 lb. steer beef animal in Canada which is 97 per cent of last year's cattle population.

The major advantage for Canadian cattlemen has been the change in the import-export balance and the reduced numbers of cattle coming into Canada from other countries.

The GATT (General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade) which is meeting on an on-going basis is likely to be discussing beef permits and quotas some time this fall. It is imperative that Canada negotiates with the producer in mind. The producer cannot be the sacrificial lamb for central Canadian manufacturing at the opening rounds of negotiations. Forgetting the food industry would be a fundamental mistake in any country's attempt to keep in touch.

'ON BEING SINCERE'

In conversation with a friend recently, a remark was made regarding a couple we both knew. We generally agreed that the couple spoke of were "very sincere".

I started to think about being sincere. Many ministers often speak on this subject from their pulpits but the gist of it all is just how we come to see another. We brand ourselves as being either phony or sincere.

Have you ever stood back and taken a good hard look at yourself? Of course you have.

Weather observers

Everyone talks about the weather, and for many years people on the Prairies have done something about it.

They can't change the weather, but hundreds of weather observers have recorded the fluctuations of precipitation and temperatures for Agriculture
Canada's research stations.

The number of voluntary weather observers has decreased as other federal government departments have established weather stations at strategic locations. But twelve unpaid observers still report regularly to the Lethbridge Research Station. The degree and extent of unfavorable conditions, such as drought, can be accurately pinpointed through the collection of many individual reports.

The effect of weather is dramatically evident at seeding and harvest. But untold weather reports can sound an advance warning to farmers about conditions that could endanger their crops and livestock.

Just the right combination of moisture and temperature is needed to ensure a high population of pollinating insects, or a harmful grasshopper outbreak, or a spread of crop diseases or livestock pests. Experts can predict the likelihood of pest outbreaks from records of weather conditions that influence the growth of harmful insects or diseases. Marketing plans can be made early in the growing season on the basis of reports of weather conditions leading to high crop yields or poor ones.

Since weather conditions fluctuate on the Prairies, many reports from different areas are necessary to give a true picture of localized variations.

For 75 years, unpaid observers of all ages and walks of life have reported to the Lethbridge station. Hundreds of people have been involved and two individuals have reported faithfully for more than 40 years. In the early years of research activity at Agriculture Canada's research stations, railway station agents were many weather observers in major areas.

Lottery announces winning numbers

Western Canadians were the big winners in the September 30th draw of the Provincial Lottery. Four of the five major prizes were won in the West. The Provincial Lottery offers three one million dollar prizes every month and in the latest draw, two were claimed in British Columbia. Becoming instant millionaires were Tom Milligan and Marjorie Foulkes of Salmon Arm, and Ralph and Bonnie May of Surrey.

Prizes of $100,000 each were won by 67 year old Mrs. Lillian Dobbin and her grandson Greg McNamara of Edmonton, and 14 year old Allan Stokely of Dauphin, Manitoba. Mrs. Dobbin is the mother of 11 sons and daughters and a 36-time grandmother.

In the case of Master Stokely, his fortune is being held in trust by the Public Trustee of Manitoba until he reaches the age of 18. If the $100,000 is invested at 10 per cent compound interest, the youthful grade nine Dauphin student will receive approx. $145,000 when he comes of age.

The next Provincial Lottery draw will take place October 30th. If the last three numbers on your ticket for the October 5th Western Express Lottery draw were 888,517, 387, 778, or 637, you're in the money. These

Palmer - Bouchard exchange vows

The marriage took place on August 6, 1977 at 2:00 p.m. in the Killam Knox United Church which was beautifully decorated with two large bouquets of mums and also 2 vases each containing a single red rose. The pews were marked with blue flowers. The bride, Linda Laura May, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Bouchard of Killam, entered the church on her father's arm. The groom, Donald Alexander of Killam is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. William Palmer of Smithers, B.C.

Officiating the double ring ceremony was Rev. Thomas MacLaughlin. The soloist, Mr. Ken Grant of Killam, sang "The Wedding Prayer" and was accompanied by Mrs. Sheila Child of Killam.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a gown of chintilly lace, designed in Queen Ann style with full lace skirt and long train. Her jewelry consisted of a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom. The bridesmaid wore a chintilly lace, pearls and a large bow held a double waist length veil in place. She carried a bouquet of cascading red roses. The maid of honor was Miss Donna Bonnett of Killam. The bridesmaids were Miss Lana Pederson, Miss Melodie Clark, Miss Julie Damann, Miss Gayle Mulderich all of Killam, Miss Sandi Engbol of Red Deer and Mrs. Sue Robinson of Smithers, B.C., sister to the groom. The flower girl was Jodie Robinson, niece of the groom, of Smithers, B.C.

They were identical gowns designed with empire waists, butterfly sleeves and scoop necks and made of brushed jersey, white in color with small blue roses. The hats were garden style with a band of the same material as the gowns.

The bridesmaid carried cascading bouquets of blue and white roses while the flower girl carried a basket of the same. The best men were Gordie Jones, Randy Brandvold and Jamie Mould, all of Smithers, B.C. and Rod Bouchard, brother of the bride, Perry Blesner Don Kueber, and Mike Kueber, all of Killam. The ushers were Gary Bouchard of Killam and Rich MacRae of Edmonton. The ringbearer was Glen Robinson, nephew of the groom of Smithers, B.C. and was dressed in white Tuxedo identical to the groom.

After the vows were exchanged, the bride and groom cordially took a red rose from each of the vases and presented them to their mother-in-laws.

The Killam Elks Hall, which was beautifully decorated by the bridesmaids, friends and relatives was the scene of the reception, open house and the dance. For the reception, the bride's mother received the guests wearing a blue gown with a lace overcoat, silver accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a rose gown with a sheer cape and had a corsage of pale pink roses.

Master of ceremonies was uncle of the bride, Mr. George Borgel of Strome. Bill Brodie of Killam toasted the bride and Gordie Jones of Smithers toasted the bridesmaids.

Open house and dance were very well attended with over 400 signing the guest book. The guest book was attended by Rhonda Carrie and Christine Sorenson of Killam. At the reception Ken Grant sang "We've Only Just Begun" accompanied by Mrs. Sheila Child.

For a honeymoon to Vancouver, Smithers and Babine Lake, B.C., the bride wore a beige 3 piece pant suit with a green and cream pin striped shirt accented with a garden rose corsage.

The newlyweds will reside just outside of Killam. Guests at the wedding were from Strome, Sedgewick, Hardisty, Edmonton, Entwistle, Evansburg, Smithers, Coeur d'Alene, San Francisco, and Las Vegas.

The Junior High didn't have their party when they planned to because it was postponed until the 14th of Oct. It was put on that day to give the grade nine two weeks to raise money for the Students Union. The girls had a bake sale on Saturday, Oct. 8 at the Co-op to raise money.

Handball will be starting later in October and the girls are having try-outs for their team now. The boys started their try-outs also.

RESPONSE LEFT:

By starting to put the toys away to enlarge the bare spot she liked so much.

In your child growing with frustration over a job he is having trouble with? It is more useful to suggest "Maybe it will work better if you do it this way," and demonstrate, than to say "You are doing that wrong." He already knows that.

"But all this takes time and energy, and I'm so busy!" Yes, but chances are, time and effort spent when a child is small will get you a lot more help when he is bigger, and he will be a happier and more competent little person. Is it not worth the gamble?

Are you interested in discussing and hearing more of these ideas? If so, Nadine Vester will be doing a 6 day "Koping With Kids" workshop. The dates are November 9, 16, 23 - 9:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. Cost $11.00. Phone Helen Whitten at 384-9605 to register.

Registration deadline is Tuesday, October 18, 1977.

Mrs. Kay Routledge will provide organ accompaniment and Alan Cookson will assist with music on an electric piano. Sponsoring the event are the Anglican, United, Lutheran and Nazarene Churches. Coffee will be served. Each of the four ministers from the four churches will be giving short talks during the hymn sing. Why not take an active part in this old-fashioned way of giving thanks?

Good attendance at election forum

The Hardisty and District Chamber of Commerce sponsored an "Election Forum" in the Hardisty Legion Hall on Tuesday evening, Oct. 11th, with 8 candidates competing for the six seats on town council. Mr. Jackson chaired the meeting and introduced the candidates. Each was allowed five minutes to state his or her platform to the packed hall. Mr. Lou Golka, mayor elect, was then asked to address the assembly. He spoke briefly on council responsibilities and the many problems facing councilmen pertaining to the lack of communications with many government departments. Following Mr. Golka's remarks, the meeting was thrown open to a question and answer period with lively participation on the part of both candidates and electorate.

Chamber of Commerce president, Mrs. Joan Fitzgerald, thanked the mayor elect, candidates and chairman for their participation. She expressed pleasure in the excellent turnout, thanking all for making the evening such a success, and invited all to stay for coffee and donuts.

LEGISLATURE REPORT

Canada needs third unity

Premier Peter Lougheed has opened the fall Legislature sitting warning that Ottawa must offer a "third option" to preserve Canada's unity and overcome enduring, basic misinterpretations of regional needs.

Lougheed said Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau has established a "middle ground" between Quebec separatism and the troubled "status quo" of frequent federal neglect for provincial rights.

The premier advised his annual "state-of-the-province" speech that the explosive which the "Parti Quebecois has tossed into Confederation is in Trudeau's lap.

Lougheed told M.L.A.'s his administration is working on helpful ideas, he would be in Ottawa during Queen Elizabeth's Jubilee visit and the time is now for Trudeau to present a solid unity program.

Outside the House, the premier would not reveal his proposals. But his government remains interested in a shopping list of demands that the provinces have already been making over the past 18 months and more.

He would strip the Supreme court of Canada of its authority in constitutional cases. Power to settle disputes between governments would go to a new "constitutional court".

His government refuses to join the insulation program unless the strings are removed. Energy Minister Don Getty predicted Ottawa will have to renegotiate it due to uranium export from the provinces.

Meanwhile, the premier assessed Alberta's economy as Canada's strongest but renewed his pressure for improved federal performance on Western transportation, grain sales abroad, energy and foreign trade.

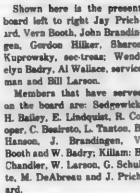

TWO GAS BOARD MEMBERS RETIRE

Gordon Hilker, is retiring this month from the Sedgewick and Killam Gas Board after serving as chairman since 1965. He is the last of the original board members to retire. Bill Larson is also retiring after serving as a board member since 1967.

In 1963 negotiations began with various engineers, oil companies and lawyers for the purpose of trying to establish a joint Gas System with the towns of Sedgewick and Killam. On August 26, 1965 the Sedgewick and Killam Natural Gas System was formed. The original board members were: Sedgewick: H. Smith, A. Edwards, N. Calbert; Killam: G. Hilker, A. Saunders, E. Damman.

Malone appointed

Progressive Conservative leader, Joe Clark, has named Arnold Malone M.P., Battle River, as opposition Critic in charge of Ground Transportation. Mr. Malone will be working with Jack Murta, M.P., Lacombe, in charge of Air Transport; Bob McCleave, M.P., Halifax-East Hants, in charge of Marine Transport and Pat Nowlan, M.P., Annapolis Valley, in charge of Communications. All of the transport and communication critics will work under the general chairmanship of Don Mazankowski, M.P., Vegreville.

Shown here is the present board list to right Jay Pritchard, Vern Booth, John Branding, Gordon Hilker, Sharon Kuprowsky, sec-treas; Sheryl Badry, Al Wallace, service man and Bill Larson.

Shown here is a giant sun flower of Jason Eide's grown just south of Sedgewick. This giant sunflower is estimated to be 11 ft. tall.

INSURANCE CORPORATION*Services held for Wilda Bone

Wilda Bone, born Hilda Pihl, was born in Segway, Iowa, U.S.A. on February 28th, 1882. At the age of two she moved to Ollie, Iowa and in 1904 at the age of 12, she moved with her parents to Brant, Alberta.

In 1907 she was married to Fred Bone who was a home-steadler at Vulcan, Alberta. In 1917 they came to the Hardisty area where Wilda lived on a farm south of town until partially retiring in town in the Harry Moody home.

Later health not allowing her to stay on the farm and with the passing away of her good friend Dick Hall, she became partially reconciled to living in town, although her heart and throughts were always on the farm.

She enjoyed nature very much and was happiest among her horses and working with them as well as riding her saddle horse.

It almost broke her heart to part with her cattle.

Her matched platoon of four, black and white, were a great joy to her.

At one of the last Stampedes that Hardisty had she was voted "Queen" which was a real thrill and to ride in the parade with the banner "Hardisty's Stampede Queen, Wilda Bone" carried by her escorts.

It was as her nephew wrote of her:

"There's a wonderful person that we know Whose warm smile isn't just for show. From everyday life to Stampede Queen Her stunning personality can be seen. For from the things I've been told Proves she has a heart of gold With a birthday coming but once in four We make this wish for many more."

Wilda knew what hard times were and yet her door was always open to all. Her circle of friends was very large, from the humblest to the higher up and she was greatly admired, loved and respected by young and old alike.

She never complained about her various illness and serious operations which in later years slowed her down but she was still determined to be well enough again to ride a horse, and possibly drive a car.

That determination and planning carried her through many troubled times.

She had three sons, Eldon, Clifford and Earl and was predeceased by Eldon which was a great sorrow to her.

She was predeceased by eight brothers and sisters and is survived by two sons, Earl of Edmonton and Clifford of Vancouver, two loving daughters-in-law, Elsie of Edmonton and Ann of Vancouver, also five grandchildren, nine great grandchildren, nieces and nephews as well as a host of friends from near and far.

Rev. Jackson praised her courage through all the months spent in the hospital and she passed away Oct. 7, 1977 with the funeral in St. Paul's United Church on Oct. 11th.

The hymns sung were "What a friend we have in Jesus" and "Nearer My God To Thee". Pallbearers were Allen Lawson, Bob Murray, Cliff Whitehead, Bill Jaka, Ole Olson and Tom Peterson.

Interment was in the Hardisty cemetery with Fred and Rose in charge. After interment lunch was served in the Church Hall.

at Treasury Branches

Yes, we have a lot of customers throughout this great Province. In fact their deposits with us now total over a billion dollars. Why do they choose to deal with us? When we ask them, sometimes they tell us it's because of our favourable interest rates, often for the courteous service we try to provide. But most often they like our pledge — money deposited with us stays and works in Alberta. And that's what our slogan "Albertans investing in Alberta" is really all about. For all the financial services most people use — we think we're hard to beat.

Give us a call.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN DREAMA

We have a talented Drama instructor in Sedgewick. If sufficient interest is shown, I would be willing to promote the forming of a Drama Group before Christmas and start early in January.

Remember you don't need any special talents to belong to a Drama Group. Just willingness to participate. Our instructor will find your area of talent. If you don't wish to perform, perhaps you'd like to do make up or prop work.

Phone: 384-3884 or 385-3912 and leave your name. While this type of project does require hard work, it can be a real fun time.

The Chautauqua's coming!

"The Chautauqua lady is here". The word passed from one student to another.

She had come to the school to give us a pay talk about the program to be presented in the big tent next week. She was the forerunner of a week of excitement. She took care of the publicity for this year and went around the country to get pledges to help for the next season. The community had to guarantee the company $1800 or make up the difference. In good years extra profits were theirs.

The Chautauqua lady had come to organize a parade of school children. She was, as always, pretty, nicely dressed and charming. She got an enthusiastic response as she taught us songs & Chautauqua cheers. The oldest school boy would lead the parade on the Saturday before Chautauqua Week.

The day arrived and we rode our ponies and others marched down main street, singing cheering and beating on tin pie plates while all the shoppers stopped to watch us. When the parade was over the lady threw peanuts and we all scrambled for them.

It was thrilling and anticipation grew as we learned of the wonders to come. Advertising was studied carefully to one who afterwards or evening we could attend. Times were hard. Our family decided we could buy an adult season ticket and a children's ticket so we'd have to take turns.

There were no shows and no TV's and people were starved for entertainment. The Chautauqua programs included lantern slide lectures, plays, magic, puppetry, classical and just concerts as well as a variety of other entertainment. How would a Swiss yodeler sound? What would Vilhelmer Seifansson, who had explored the Arctic, tell us? How hard it was to choose! We spent the intervening days savouring the delights of the various programs to come.

Word was whispered through the school room that we were all going to be allowed to hear a lecture. Oh joy shouts!

We agonized with Seifansson as he endured hardships of cold and darkness in the arctic regions. And the music! Spirits soared with the music of Jascha Galprik's violin and chug to each word of the soprano who sang "One Fine Day" from the opera Madame Butterfly.

On the last night we saw the musical play "Smiling Through". To our young eyes the stage was beautiful. A garden full of roses by a little cottage enhanced by the lighting so we guessed our romantic hearts that we hung on every word till finally the heroine old and frail quietly died. At once her spirit, again young and beautiful, rose from behind the flowers to be joined by her lost love, also young and handsome. With smiles on their lips and arms entwined they floated away into the distance. The music thrilled and it was sad, so sad. We cried copiously and thought we had never had such an enjoyable evening.

No wonder the coming of the Chautauqua lady had such an effect on entertainment starved people. Chautauquas were an oasis in a desert; they were food for the soul.

KALEIDOSCOPE

—Diane Bourne
District Home EconomistSOFT SERVE YOGURT:

"THE FUTURE OF 'SOFT' SERVE YOGURT"

No one seems to know who really thought up the idea of soft-serve yogurt, but it appears to be a real "commer" in the food-service business. The speed with which it has caught on in New York and other East Coast communities has made both the manufacturers of the mixes and soft-serve freezers bullish on the success of the new product. It is estimated that at present retail prices, a ten-fold increase in the yogurt industry would amount to a one-billion dollar market. The product can be used exactly as soft-serve ice cream. It has a natural affinity for both fresh and canned fruits and can be used in much the same way that sherbet is used with fruit salad. It can be made into shakes, frozen into bombs, and made into parfaits (it blends beautifully with liqueurs). Despite the growing popularity of soft-serve yogurt, the U.S. is far behind the European market. American per capita consumption is rated at 3 1/2 cups in 1974, as compared with per-capita consumption in France of 86 cups and in Sweden of 166.

BLUEBERRY LEMON CAKE:
Below is a recipe that's quick and easy. It uses a 12 cup Bundt pan. The cake has a greater nutritional value due to the blueberries, eggs, and yogurt. Also some sugar and calories are lost because it needs no frosting.

Why not try it for your next special occasion?
BLUEBERRY LEMON CAKE
1 - 14 oz. can blueberries, drained or 1 cup fresh or frozen blueberries.

1 - 18 oz. pkg. lemon cake mix
1 cup natural yogurt
4 eggs

Rinse blueberries, drain well. In a large bowl combine dry cake mix, yogurt and eggs; beat at low speed until moist. Beat 2 minutes at medium speed. Carefully fold in drained berries. Bake in greased and floured 12 cup bundt pan at 360 degrees for 25 to 45 minutes or until cake tests done. Cool in pan 10 to 15 minutes; turn out on wire rack or serving plate to complete cooling. Serve warm or cool, sprinkled lightly with icing sugar.

CONSERVE TODAY.SAVE TOMORROW!

This summer I attended a week long 4-H Conservation Camp. The camp theme was "Five is One" and during the week we studied aspects of five conservation areas: Soil conservation, Water conservation, Range management, Forest conservation, and Fish and Wildlife management. We learned many interesting things about conservation and I'd like to share some of these ideas with you.

Many people believe that conservation is simply preservation for future use. But it isn't. Conservation is a way of life. It means wise management of natural resources, using them one resource now, and renewing and preserving them for the future. There four basic renewable resources: air, water, soil and plant and animal life. Man is rapidly destroying these resources. This destruction can only be stopped by individuals showing concern. Everyone, no matter who you are, can help in the conservation battle, by electing governments that will pass conservation minded laws, by encouraging local industry to clean up their wastes, by supporting the construction of adequate sewage and garbage facilities, and by taking an active part in conservation groups. Farmers can leave a strip of trees surrounding sloughs and ponds to preserve the habitat of waterfowl, and any grass burning should be done in the fall, rather than at nesting time. Grazing of riverbanks should be restricted because cattle trampling the banks widens and slows the river and ruins it for fish. Cattle also kill the trees and shrubs which provide much needed shade for the fish. By leaving bush patches and planting shelter belts around fields the habitat of deer and other wildlife is maintained. Hunting is also important to wildlife management. By obeying hunting and fishing regulations you assist in controlling wildlife populations. You also support the Buck-for-Wildlife fund by paying for fishing and hunting licenses. The Buck-for-Wildlife program helps to rebuild, improve and protect wildlife habitat.

If future generations are going to have a chance to enjoy the nature and natural resources that we enjoy now, these resources must be protected by us, right now. If something isn't done here, today, there just won't be anything left to conserve.

KILLAM A.C.W. MEET

The October meeting of St. George's A.C.W. was held at the home of Muriel Brodie.

The meeting opened with hymns My Faith Looks Up To Thee followed by the members prayer.

An interesting article, from the Living Message was read by Dorothy Felgate.

Visits had been made to the sick in hospital. The A.C.W. was asked to enter to the Legion banquet, a committee was appointed to plan the menu, for the dinner. It was decided that since there are so many bake sales at this time of year, to put ours off till after the New Year. We were reminded of the Church School bake sale, to raise money to pay for supplies, and that any donations of baking would be welcomed.

The correspondence was and death with. The meeting closed with prayer.

SEDGWICK NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mayne and Sherry with Mrs. Pearl Hinkley of Hardisty were Edmonton visitors on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Taylor left on Wednesday, October 12 for Summerland, B.C. Enroute they will visit daughter Marilyn and family, the Grier McKinnley's at Lethbridge.

Mrs. Minnie Djos and Mr. Orlan Bakken won prizes for the highest score and Mrs. Lillian Craig and Mr. Ned Djos were awarded consolation prizes at the Senior Citizens Card Party at their Drop-In Centre on Wednesday afternoon. There were 5 tables of card players.

Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Beairisto spent Thanksgiving weekend at the home of their daughter Janet and her family, the Keith Hannes, at their home in Calgary.

gary. On their way home they dropped in for a visit with former residents of Sedgwick.

Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Fraser and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Fisher and boys and Mrs. Thelma Fisher, all of Hardisty and Mrs. Gladys Webster and Mr. Arne Johnson of Edmonton enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Beairisto were at the International Art show on Monday to meet Mr. Beairisto's mother, Mrs. Edna Beairisto and his sister, Mrs. Florence Colbeck from Vancouver, B.C. who will be spending a few days in Sedgwick.

A recent visitor from Mrs. Annie Hagen was her sister from Calgary. Mrs. Gay Shephard and Mrs. Amelia Carter visited their mother, Mrs. Annie Hagen Colbeck Court.

Have'n heard of anyone winning in the Lotto Canada in this neighborhood but Mrs. Cheryl Murray tells me that her husband Jim's sister was one of the lucky ones. She was one of 25 who shared one of the million dollar winning tickets. At first I didn't think a twenty-fifth share was sounded like much but some quick arithmetic showed that it was $40,000. And that's a nice win in anyone's life.

Hats off to Helen Whitten who is eagerly setting up courses in Sedgwick district on behalf of Playstaff Further Education. Helen is a new contact replacing Marj Booth, who was instrumental in getting Further Education off the ground in the County of Playstaff.

Helen, like all contacts, requires feedback if she is going to set-up the type of courses the Sedgwick folks want. She is full of great ideas and has spent a lot of volunteer hours for Further Education in a very short time.

There is no charge for the 1 lb. sample analysis cost is $2.00. Further information about me. If you want to get rich quick, you develop a product the people don't need, make it easy to use, and then convince the people that they both need it and it will solve all their problems. From that on you have got it made."

It's interesting to note that my friend's bit of philosophy was passed on in reference to a number of new feed additives and supplements that don't appear on the market every fall and winter. The fact of the matter is that a number of these actually fit the above description of how to get rich.

Livestock feeding is not as complex as some folks may lead you to believe. You don't appear nutritionalist full time. You don't have to have your feed supplied by business, specializing in feed processing. Granted, sometimes economics and other factors make these the logical choice, but most times a farmer or rancher can do all of the necessary feed formulations on his own.

What's required to do this feed feed formulation is a feed test. You will want to know the protein content of your feed along with minerals, fiber, nitrates and in some cases degree of acidity. These are all available for $2.00 - the cost of having a sample analyzed.

This year with the unusual fall we have experienced will be a large degree of variability within our herds. Protein and fiber levels of both grains and roughage could be quite different from the average. Many greenfeeds may have nitrate levels which could be poisonous to ruminants.

A feed sample can give an indication of the value of the feed as well as any possible dangerous levels of nitrate - a sample must be representative of the feed on hand, and all various feeds should be sampled. For no additional charge, a ratio may be formulated for you. All you need to do is provide the information to the feed lab. We have forms available for that purpose.

A feed sampling device, as well as, a complete sample kit are available from our office.

Rent decontrols may affect you

January 1st, 1978, the rent decontrol goes into effect. If your residence is presently rent controlled, here are two things that may happen to your rent:

- 1) Your premises could be decontrolled if your monthly rent is:
 - $375 or over for 3 or more bedrooms
 - $325 or over for 2 or more bedrooms
 - $275 or over for less than 2 bedrooms

At any time, after July 1, 1977, if your base rent (plus any authorized increases) exceeds these decontrol levels, your premises become decontrolled six months later.

- 2) If your rent is under the above levels, your premises remain under rent controls and a maximum increase of 8 per cent or $20, whichever is the greater, may be applied during 1978.

All rent increases are subject to 90 days' written notice.

Whether you are a landlord or a tenant, rent decontrols may affect you. Our brochure explains the Rent Decontrol Act. Write for your free copy.

On October 10th the junior high held a slave auction at 8 in the gym. The grade seven, the new people in junior high, those who were not initiated when they were in grade seven and some of the grade eight and nine were sold for the fun of it. The highest priced slave sold for $5.00, the lowest went for 10¢.

The weather has been lovely the last week. We hope it will stay this way for a while yet to come. The farmers have had quite a worry with all the wet weather we have had to get up with the last couple of months. Anyway it is nice to hear the combines humming and trucks busy hauling. It is nice to know everyone is busy doing what they can do to help get the crop off.

There will be quite a number home for the Roseanne Burdett wedding. There was a lot home for the last weekend (Thanksgiving) also for Mr. John Birchill's funeral. So I would like your name and who you were visiting. Let's keep our paper interesting.

A hearty welcome to Marie Chubey, Lougheed's volunteer contact person for Flagstaff Further Education. Her first course "Social Dance" has involved much work and we feel she is a very capable person. Our Thanks to Diane and I'm sure she is happy to talk and promote further education to assist Marie.

Hardisty and District News Items

Mr. and Mrs. Dahl Vora of Red Deer, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Vora of Edmonton, were in the home of Grand Prairie were down to visit their parents for the Thanksgiving. Unfortunately they found their father in the hospital at that time. Irene is taking a course in child education at the Grande Prairie College.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Drever and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Vora visited the Frank Placiers at Lloydminster recently. Bob Chadwick of Edmonton was down for Wilda Bone's funeral. Bob is now employed at Grant McEwan College.

Mrs. Larson and her son of Camrose also attended the funeral of Wilda Bone. Mr. and Mrs. Ben O'Brien, Emil Jensen and Isabel Nelson attended the 50th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Emil Jensen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lilson of Union Lake, Sask. The celebration was held at the Fort Pitt Hall with well over 100 people attending.

The M.C. gave a little story about their early years of marriage and the "young" couple of 50 years thanked everyone for coming. Albo we didn't know too many there it was plain to see that so many old friends were meeting old friends and was a very joyous occasion for many.

The cake was made in Killam by Shirley Jensen and decorated in Sask. by a cousin. Heather and Brian Jensen were there also as was Clayton Lilson, Shirley's brother, who lives in Edmonton and works for an oil company. Lots of grain up that way in weeks but the combine were busy in the rape fields as we came home. However there was snow in the Union Lake area which was a shame.

Farmers here too have been really going and some have finished and others soon will be. Those windy days were a real blessing. Ray Drever also attended Wilda Bone's funeral. Mr. H. Ekland, after being at the farm of Paul Dragers for the summer, has moved back into his old room at Isabel Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lamm are visiting the home area in Cape Breton. Maryon Drager, and her sister, Mrs. Craig, have just returned from a visit to Oromocto, N.B. While there, they spent a weekend in P.E.I. visiting Charlottetown and the National Park. Being of Loyalist descent, they derived much pleasure from a day in St. John, visiting the old Royalist Cemetery and the old gun emplacements on the coast. The Martello Tower, built in 1814 to guard against attack from the U.S.A. was another high spot, the stencils, guns, and models in uniform were most informative. A quotation from an 1814 newspaper was well worth attention: "A man who is ugly of face must pay three pence a week, unless his wife will vouch that he is a man of good performance."

Just a reminder to the folks of Hardisty. Your contacts for Further Education are Pat Hanesy and Barb Croten. These two girls are working diligently to set up programmes they feel the people of Hardisty will enjoy. They were very disappointed to have to cancel "Social Dance", however, several couples are participating in Loughheed and finding it to be a real fun night.

Just a reminder, these girls must have eight adults to offer a course and they also require three to six weeks to get approval before the course can proceed. Phone Pat at 888-3554 or Barb at 888-3819 and express your interest in the Further Education field.

A promise to be kept

LEGISLATURE REPORT
Provincial Treasurer Mary Leitch has delivered on an old, difficult Conservative promise by proposing legislation creating an independent, powerful auditor-general.

In 1971 Lou Hyndman, then opposition MLA and now government house leader, proposed a private member's "Taxpayers' Protection Act" to appoint the officer and hunt down waste or needless expense in government.

Peter Loughbeed, then Tory opposition leader and just a few months away from becoming premier, took up the pledge and it has been lurking in the wings ever since.

Leitch's bill, expected to pass smoothly this fall, is more reserved in its language than Hyndman's. But, depending how the officer behaves in practice, the effect is the same. Alberta gets a new check on whether taxpayers receive value for their dollars.

The Treasurer's Auditor General Act and a companion rewrite of the Financial Administration Act split two jobs now done by the provincial auditor which are said to be potentially conflicting.

A new "CONTROLLER" and a beefed-up treasury board, chaired by the provincial treasurer, would "pre-audit" or supervise government spending as it happens.

The auditor-general, appointed

TOWN OF KILLAM

Results in Killam the following being elected as councillors by the 355 voters: Thakur Amin (282), Lawrence Damman (225), Jim Lindstedt (252), Norman Matthews (210), Jay Pritchard (289), Glen Warner (246).

In the close race for the mayor's chair Les Dutton polled 183 votes with Ed Berth receiving 167 votes.

TOWN OF HARDISTY

Hardisty will have all but one new face at council as Walter Koral was re-elected. Other members elected were Richard H. Sunjans, Doris Yankin, Judson P. Welliver, Walter Koral, Cecil Rempel and Donald J. Campbell.

Elected by acclamation as council representative was John L. Golka.

VILLAGE OF LOUGHBEED

Sixty-five percent of Loughbeed voters voted for three out of five candidates. Elected to council were: Roberta Riddoch (187), Lloyd Schmidt (82), Robert (Bob) Smith (43).

TOWN OF SEDGWICK

A total of 167 of just over 400 voters elected Ernest Koehli as their choice of mayor.

Elected to council were: Wendell Isdary (121), Vernon Booth (273), John Brundage (272), Dr. Jean P. Hebert (275), Ken Offord (186), Carmen Robertson (181).

The new officer's responsibilities are to see that authorized and acceptable rules are followed for spending, revenue collection, investment and accounting. Abuses must be reported and the civil service has to show the books on request.

Yearly reports are required. Special investigations and reports are possible at the request of the Legislature and the government and on the officer's own initiative.

The auditor-general's mandate covers the budget and the Heritage Fund about $5.5 million combined now - and Crown agencies such as Alberta Government Telephones, the liquor board and provincial hospitals.

But the plan deliberately, on principle, limits government's ability to check use of public money by organizations considered to be "private" investments.

Operations are officially Crown-controlled, and within the auditor - general's scope, when the government holds more than half their ownership and formally appoints directors or members.

For example, the books of Pacific Western Airlines, purchased outright in mid-1974 for $36 million, would be accessible. But the Alberta Energy Company, half-owned through the Heritage Fund for $75 million, falls outside the watch dog's leash.

Leitch maintains the system will ensure tight supervision of the public purse but still preserve private enterprise, when the administration frequently invests but rarely admits to exercising control.

Make Halloween Safe!

Halloween will be a highlight on every child's list of activities, and a safe one too. If parents plan and assist their child's activity with safety as well as fun in mind, precautions the Alberta Safety Council.

To support the parents in their task, the Council provides the following tips:

1. Preschoolers should always be accompanied by an older responsible child while Halloweening.
2. Use retro-reflective strips on dark costumes.
3. Supply your child with a flashlight.
4. Use costumes that are flame proof, fit well, and allow free movement.
5. Use make-up rather than masks on your child to permit clear visibility.
6. Insist that your child stays within your own neighborhood.
7. Caution children to visit only homes that are well lit and on the outside. Avoid lanterns.

8. Instruct your children not to eat treats until you have examined them. (Unpackaged items, such as popcorn, should be discarded. Wash fruit thoroughly and cut into small sections before eating. Examine candy bars closely; needles and pins can be inserted through the wrapping without disturbing them. Candy with loose and torn wrappers should be discarded.)

9. Suggest children walk in small groups.

10. Keep your own walks and street free of obstacles to protect visiting ghosts and goblins.

Riters Ramblings

by Fingstad Creative Writers

OFF TO JAPAN

Although I had left Fortburg early Wednesday morning it was already Thursday afternoon but the sun hadn't gone down yet, as the doors of the 747 opened and all the hundreds of us were dispersed into Hanaeda airport at Tokyo. My long thought-of trip was underway, the Pacific was behind me, and I was "alone" in the world's largest city in Japan.

With a name and an address but no phone number what was I to do with a Japanese phone book? However, my assistant from the plane obtained the number, and I began my acquaintance with Japanese phones. If you don't put enough money in the phone signals you will be off. It also kindly refunds any money that you have not tall of away.

The next morning I took the bus to Yokohama from where I had stayed and caught one of the frequent trains into Tokyo. A walking tour of the downtown area ended outside the Imperial Palace grounds with the help of a ride after I got lost. People were really ready to help in English if they could, if they couldn't, they would find someone who could or a person might step up voluntarily to help.

Sunday morning I set out to the south for Kamakura to see the Great Buddha - a colossal outdoor image. Then a series of trains took me up into the mountains of the Hakone area where I transferred to a cable car which had a terrace floor so that the seats were on the level as the car went up on a slant. After a half-hour rope ride up a mountain and across a wide valley, the trip was completed with a lake cruise. Following a bus ride, I took the Kodomo, one of the Shinkansen or "Bullet" trains that average about 160 kilometres per hour - the world's fastest train service.

Arriving in Kyoto about nine in the evening, I started walking down the street looking for a place to stay. At last I got a room at a ryokan. Leaving my shoes at the entrance and my slippers at my room entrance, my first impression was, "No bed!" But a futon mattress was spread out on the tatami mat floor and I was shown to the bath where you wash first and then try your endurance in as an unbearably hot mild swimming pool. I was not provided with a key to my room. I suppose it didn't even lock. However it is basic to the culture: one is not expected to steal.

At breakfast in the dining room, after again removing my slippers, I was led to an individual table for a hearty breakfast that included rice, a whole eggplant, and bean curd soup. What really impressed me was a large paper slip on the table bearing my name in neatly-printed letters. What recognition is a place where I didn't even know quite where I was!

Across the street was the Higashi - Hongoji Temple which I visited after breakfast when the air was heavy with the incense of Buddhist worship. The huge ropes of women's hair which were used in construction were on display under glass. The Silver Pavilion with its beautiful garden and Sanjugo Temple with its 1001 images of Kannon are among the many temples of Kyoto, this old capital of Japan. Incidentally, Kyoto is merely an invasion of Kyoto.

A local afternoon tour took me to Nara, an even older capital, where through the rain I saw some of the nearly 1000 famous tame deer wandering freely and also the world's largest bronze Buddha (452 tons) housed in the world's largest wood on structure.

(to be continued) - Glen Carley

URGENTLY REQUIRED

A SOUND INVESTMENT:

As a grain farmer, paying your 2% levy to the Western Grain Stabilization Fund may be one of the soundest investments you make. The Fund, introduced in 1976, is designed so that "in the long run producers can expect $5.00 in return for every $1.00 they put into the program." That works out to a 200% return on your investment!

The reason for the high return is that the Federal Government adds an additional 4 percent to the 2 per cent levy on grain sales which you pay into the Fund. Each year you pay your maximum $500.00 levy, the government adds $1,000 from its treasury into the fund.

The purpose of the Stabilization Plan is to accumulate farmers contributions into a sort of insurance fund. In good years where low grain prices, slow markets or high production costs reduce net grain income across the prairie, a payout is made.

To see how the plan works, lets take a look at one of the bad years - 1970. In that year net income from grain sales in Western Canada dropped well below the average of the last five years. If the Plan had existed then, the government would have made a 20% dollar payout to bring farming income up to the five year average. Since each farmer is paid in proportion to his contributions, a farmer who had paid his maximum $500 levy over the last 5 years would have received a payout of $6,000. Those who opted out the year would receive no payout.

Due to the low grain prices this year, it looks like a payout will be made. If you opted out of the plan you may rejoin and establish benefits rights for the 1978 crop year provided you do so before December 31, 1977. Many people ask whether the Prophet Community Choir starts rehearsals Monday, October 24 at 7:30 p.m. in Killam Baptist Church. Production this season - Haydn's "CREATION". This is an ambitious project and extra voices are required in all sections. If you enjoy good music - please join (includes interested women group).

—Glen Werner D.A.

Stabilization Fund replaces the need for crop insurance. The answer is "definitely not". Suppose for example, that a year of good yields and prices occurs in western Canada, but that your own crop is destroyed by hail. Because net returns were good across the Prairies as a whole, you receive no Stabilization Payment. But you do receive Crop Insurance if you took out a policy.

On the other hand, suppose that you had a bumper crop but that the grain prices hit rock bottom. You would receive no crop insurance since yields were good. But you probably receive a Stabilization Payment which brought prairie farmers net income up to the 5 year average.

As you can see the two programs complement each other. One is strictly a yield insurance. The other is more of a market insurance which attempts to take the best years out of the western grain economy.

Because of the Plan's importance, our office is willing to hold a short meeting to discuss its merits and re-entry to the plan. If you are interested in attending or have any suggestions for this meeting please call us at 384-3787.

This year 77 per cent of all western grain farmers - those who opted to stay in the plan will probably receive a payout. To them it will have been a sound investment. John Knapp - Asst. D.A. Glen Werner - D.A.

Local men attend 23rd annual Banff conference

The 23rd Annual Banff Men's Conference of the United Church was held at the Banff Centre from Friday, October 14th to Sunday, October 16th, 1977. The theme speaker was Rev. Red Booth, Director of Communications for the British Columbia Conference of the United Church of Canada, a Radio Commentator, Journalist, Chairman of the United Church's National Task Force on the Ministry and winner of the International Gabriel award for Radio Broadcasting (the first time this award had been won by a Canadian). His theme was "New Lamp for Old - God's Call to Participation in the New Reformation."

A total of 586 men were in attendance from all parts of Canada though most came from the three western provinces. Also in attendance were 14 members of the world Council of Churches who acted as Workshop leaders. These men came from such distant places as Nigeria, Zambia, Madagascar, Indonesia, Korea, Federal Republic of Germany, Netherlands, Argentina, Trinidad, Czechoslovakia, Fiji and Switzerland. This latter group of men are part of the World Council of Churches group which will meet at Haramata Centre during the week of October 17th in an effort to co-ordinate the work of the various denominations of the Christian Church throughout the world insofar as Christian Education Centers is concerned.

Banff Men's Conference is organized by and composed mainly of men of the United Church of Canada. It is, however, open to men of any Christian denomination.

Sedgewick men attending this year were Ray Potlatch, Clint Potlatch, Dave Black and Art Eastly.

These twelve young people are the 1977 winners of the Alberta Junior Citizens of the Year Awards. They have been honored for various reasons; for acts of bravery, initiative, selflessness, or for displaying outstanding social responsibility. But above all, they have been chosen for the contributions they have made to their community and to our province. We are pleased to welcome these young people to the Honor Roll. They are fine examples of the valuable role that youth plays in the growth and development of our Alberta.

Open Letter to all cattlemen

Another year has gone by and once again the Alberta Cattle Commission is calling producers to participate in its Annual Election during Nov. 1 to 10, 1977. According to the Commission Plan, a slate of 5 new representatives will be elected in each of the nine zones in the Province.

This year 58 producers have allowed their names to stand as candidates for the election of which 48 will be elected. These 48 newly elected representatives, along with the 45 Zone representatives elected in 1976 will make up the delegate body of the Alberta Cattle Commission for 1977-1978.

At the Zone level shortly after the election results are made public, the 10 representatives will elect a Zone director who will sit on the Commission's Board of Directors and will attend regular Cattle Commission meetings. Grass root inputs regarding the cattle industry will be made at the Zone level by the 50 elected representatives.

Anyone who has paid the check-off fee during 1976-1977 is eligible to vote. Producers are urged to exercise this franchise by casting votes at respective Zone Election meetings during the period from Nov. 1 to 10, 1977.

Paul Hodgman, Chief Returning Officer, in announcing the election date stated, "The Election Meetings are a forum for discussing all issues and matters pertinent to the cattle industry. The Commission has come a long way since its inception in addressing itself to the issues affecting the industry. Grass root support of the Commission Plan is steadily increasing through increased zone participation."

A number of fairly significant issues will be discussed at these zone meetings. Topics which will be covered include 1. The Montreal Beef Report that explains the workings and implications of the giant Alberta Montreal beef trade. 2. The A.C.C. Market Information Service and how it can be of use to producers. 3. The very real possibility of obtaining a realistic Beef Import Law in this session of Parliament if producers choose to reinforce the efforts of their organizations. 4. The Crow rate problem and the implications of any changes that might occur. 5. Reports on changes in Bangs disease and warble control programs that have recently been implemented.

The beef industry is in a very ripe state of change at present. With the Canadian dollar devalued and supplies somewhat restricted, prices are becoming fairly attractive to renewed interest in our industry. Most producers are warily eyeballing the market forces with a view to recouping some of the past three years' heavy losses. Is this market surge for real or just another bubble about to burst? Who knows?

One thing known for sure is that your beef organizations need your directions to carry this industry back onto firm financial footings. If you do not show up for these meetings, are we to assume you support everything we are attempting to do? Or will we simply hear about your grievances via the grapevine? Some producers are sitting up to 50 to 60 days a year to promote their industry, maybe you can attend a few meetings to assist them in their endeavors. Think about it and maybe attend your zone meetings.

"Say, that's a pretty bad cold! Taking anything for it?" "Sure. Anything. Make me an offer!"

FALL PROGRAM UNDERWAY FOR BROWNIES AND GUIDES

In Sedgewick, the Brownies and Guides are now underway for the new term. There are 15 Brownies and 8 Guides enrolled. Brownie leaders are Verna Stiel, Doris Conrad and Kathy Keith. Guide leaders are Elaine Keith and Barbara Potage.

Take A Closer Look At Agriculture

In this time of concern about the productivity of the Canadian worker the Alberta farmer stands far above the crowd. Our farmers have increased their productivity nearly 2.5 times as much as other industries.

For the last year we've seen costs to the farmer go up by about 11 per cent, but his cash receipts for the products he produced went down 1 per cent. The price to the consumer went up 8 per cent.

If the farmer can't make a go of it who will produce the food you eat? And what will they charge for it?

It's important to every Albertan that farmers are paid enough to keep them in business

Rams win

On Saturday, October 22, the Central High Rams demolished the Fort Saskatchewan Rams, 38-14.

Conny Gabruk scored one of Central's touchdowns on a brilliant pass and run play from quarterback Charlie Gascoyne. Brent Pope scored 3 touchdowns following the excellent and destructive blocking of Doug Creasy and the offensive line.

The offensive stars were Charlie Gascoyne, and Brent Pope. Defensive stars were Jeff Hendricks and Darren Grant. The whole defense played well and all deserve mention, pushing Ft. Saskatchewan back for continuous loss of yardage.

This win now advances the Rams to the semi-finals where they will play against Lloydminster in Lloydminster on Saturday, October 29th.

At Central, people are busy making plans for getting a bus to take spectators to the game, and building up spirit among the students. Everyone is looking forward to what might be the Rams' best game of the season.

Unwelcome imports

Millions of dollars damage is caused by plant and animal diseases that have hitchhiked in to Canada in travellers' baggage. Here, removal of these natural enemies that hold them in check in their native countries, pest and diseases can cause a devastating effect on Canadian agriculture and forest industries.

The American chestnut, once economically important for its wood and edible nuts is now extinct in this country, wiped out by a blight introduced on nursery stock in 1904. Its fate will probably be shared by the stately American Elm, now being felled by a fungus carried by two types of soil-bark beetles which sneaked into the United States on logs imported from Europe about 1900.

It is hard to estimate the economic impact of these unwelcome imports. Crops and herds of livestock have been destroyed by disease. Add to that the cost of spraying and other control measures and the environmental damage caused by major control measures such as the spray program against forest insects. And to top it off with losses in international trade resulting from the reluctance of other countries to accept livestock and plant products that might carry pests or diseases into uninfested areas.

A farm worker from Europe brought a sausage made of uncooked meat with him when he arrived in 1902 at a small Saskatchewan farm. Apparently, lurking in the meat was the virus of foot and mouth disease, a livestock scourge. Canada had been free of. Before the disease was eradicated half a year later, 134,000 cattle, 380 hogs, 50 sheep and a goat had been slaughtered and compensation of $1 million paid to the owners. Other countries refused to admit Canadian livestock and livestock products and the price of animals and meat went down. The drop in value of Canadian products and a price support program to assist livestock producers cost this country $750 million.

Imported meat was the culprit again when hog cholera broke out in 1960. It took 3 years and the slaughter of 65,100 hogs before Canada was again classified free of the disease.

The cost of controlling foreign pests increases the price Canadians must pay for food and other products. Even the cost of Christmas trees is affected. The introduction of the balsam woolly aphid in southern British Columbia and the winter moth in the Maritimes has restricted the sale of trees from these areas. Christmas tree producers in western Quebec and southern Ontario must fumigate trees shipped to the west, because the cereal leaf beetle overwinters on evergreens and could be unintentional shipped to the Prairie west fields.

WILLING WORKERS — Residents of Flagstaff Lodge got into the Halloween spirit last week by assisting the Hazarene Church in bagging candy and making Jack-o-lanterns.

The top two photos show residents as they work on the pumpkins and the people at the two tables, packed over 100 candy bags.

Parkland Manor opened to the public

The Hardisty Parkland Manor opened with great pomp and ceremony on Saturday, October 29th.

The crowd attending was very large, over 200, and each was given a program.

Fred Mitchell was M.C. and the program opened with the singing of O Canada. Fred then introduced the honored guests who were: Hon. Jack Horner, Hon. W.J. Yurko, Arnold Malcom, Henry Kroger, Mayor Lou Gohla, Mr. Loren Placog, John Mick, Rev. Norbert Jackson and Eugene Wolaki Construction Ltd.

Hon. Jack Horner was the first speaker and he complimented the crowd on their enthusiastic singing of O Canada.

He then went on to tell us that the Manor cost $501,000, 50% of which was paid by the Federal Government, 40% by the Alberta Government and 10% from the residents.

Hon. W.J. Yurko, Minister of Housing and Public Works was the next speaker. Said that the Government approved of decentralizing these homes, so many are being built in smaller towns.

The Government has approved 3,000 of these homes in the last two years. He also commented that while the Government built these places, it was the occupants who made them into homes and put life into such places.

Arnold Malcom, member for Battle River presented the Manor with a Canadian flag as did the Hon. Jack Horner.

The Manor was also presented with an Alberta flag by Henry Kroger.

Mayor Gohla complimented the officials for taking time out of their busy schedules to appear at this grand opening and complimented Jeanette Moran for her industrious work towards this beautiful place, as well as all the work done by town council.

Mr. Loren Placog, project manager of A.H.C. said that plans had to be specially drawn up to suit the sloping location and with all those difficulties croned out, we were fortunate to have one of the better built homes.

His wife mentioned later to a few of us, that Parkland had more closet space and storage facilities than some she had seen.

Mr. John Mick, Manager C.M.H.C., Edmonton branch, wished the residents great contentment and good health in this building.

Daysland cross country team again a success
Daysland Sr. High Cross Country team has completed another successful year. On Friday, Oct. 21 the Daysland team tied with Devon for top honors in the Central Eastern Alberta meet which was held at the Kille Provincial Park. Individual trophy winners were Merv Schulze in the Sr. Boys 4000 metre event and Kelly Zimmerman in the Open Boys 6000 event. Other team members are Jennifer Kroschek, Joanne Hahn, Margaret Nabajewich, Corleen Romanuk, Shelley Erickson, Kevin Carlson, Larry Zimmer, Elvin Karporich, Ron Wolcott, and Martin Tulloch.

On Saturday, Oct. 22 the top 15 finishers in each event journeyed to Grand Prairie for the Provincial Championship races. The meet was dominated by the Calgary runners but Merv Schulze was pleased to note respectable performances turned in by a County of Flagg staff participants.

Depreciation at all levels of society is very apparent. That by the House of God of society exceeds that of the recognized criminal element. The rash of child pornography added to already excessive amounts of available film is truly alarming. Unfortunately, in today's climate, abnormality is being declared as good as normality. It is clear that society is about to sink out of sight in its own mire if a change is not made. We need a worthy challenge; we have it. Think Clean.

Pollution is a term we all know & understand but very few appreciate. Do we really comprehend the many facets of this troublesome octopus of modern civilization. The discard of modernism can be sighted every where. Public parks, beaches and halls witness to the careless destructive nature of a disrespectful generation. Extravagance and convenience are so much a part of our lives that we have become indifferent. The waste not want not standard of past generations has also been discarded; seemingly to our loss. The clean up costs are a mind boggling expense which is growing day by day. However pollution is not confined to the environment, it is at work in other areas of even greater

COW-CALF PRODUCERS
ADVANCE PROGRAM
The Cow-Calf Producers' Advance Program for 1977 has been announced and application forms are available. This year's advance program is identical to last year's program, and may be used to pay out last year's advance.

The program allows farmers and ranchers to obtain a loan of favorable interest rate on calves present on the farm and here to cows owned prior to August 1st, 1977. The loan which has a maximum of $6,000 is based on $75.00 per calf. The number of qualifying calves is 80% of the 1977 crop owned at the time of application. The interest rate that the loan bears is 7% for one year from date of approval. If a default occurs the rate is increased to prime rate plus 2%.

In order to obtain the advance, past advances must be paid. 1976 advances however, may be paid using this advance, any outstanding advances of 1975 or 1974 must be paid first. Any outstanding interest charges must also be paid before a new loan will be issued.

Application forms are available at District Agriculture offices, and must be completed before the deadline January 31, 1978. In order to obtain a loan at the lending institution, an application form must be filled out. This form must then be presented to the noted lending institution before the money is made available. The lending institutions making loans on approved applications is February 28, 1978.

Who can apply? Any livestock producer who presently owns calves that were born to cows owned or under his control prior to August 1, 1977. Dairy and purchased producers may also apply if they meet the other requirements. Share cattle are applied for by both, lessor and lessee applying for 80% of their respective shares. Also, the applicant must be 18 years of age, but need not own land.

When you come to our office to apply, bring the following: your Social Insurance Number, number of cows, number of calves, amount of last years loan, if you received one, and the same and address of your lending institution.

Upon returning to Kyoto from Japan's ancient capital of Nara, the bus driver let me off at the railway station so I could leave for Hiroshima. First there was a short run to Osaka during which we alternated between passing and being passed by the train on the adjacent tracks as we hurried along. The slow grudging manner of the Japanese in their social relations certainly doesn't keep them from making the most of their social relations certainly doesn't keep them from making the most of their capacity for speed when traveling.

After the run-around in the station it's so easy to get lost and find yourself wandering in a shopping center instead arriving where you meant to be - and a lunch I got on the train to Hiroshima. Wanting to be free to sleep, I asked the conductor to wake me in time to get off. He smiled and wrote down my location. Between two and three a.m. there was a gentle tapping on my arm. Then came a new experience - being in a virtually empty Japanese railway station. I stretched out on a row of chairs and waited for morning. Then by train and boat I got to Miyajima, one of Japan's three selected scenic spots, and a delightful lay away from the usual hurrying of the world. The Danjima shrine was built in the 12th century so that the tide could come in under it to indicate an appearance of floating. The red torii gate that indicates a shrine shrine stood out in the water beyond.

Back in Hiroshima in the afternoon, I visited the A-bomb dome which survived the attack, a grim reminder in the attractive Peace Memorial Park. The museum contained metal items warped by the blast, a model of the devastated city where almost nothing remained except a few buildings beyond some hills, and figures of people with skin dripping from their hands.

The overnight sleep took me back to Tokyo. The clerk seemed surprised that I would go second class, but it's a saving of 800 yen, why not? Japan is not expensive but is well worth seeing if you had a yen for it.

The fact that the bunk was narrow and the third one up was all right but the bedding was a problem. What do you do with a blanket inside a sheet that is designed something like an open envelope? Sleep on top of it! Sleep under it! Take the blanket out and get inside the sheet itself! It was a poor time to try to ask anyone and trying to observe the procedure used by those who knew was't very appropriate!

In the morning I headed out of Tokyo for Nikko National Park with its glittering temples, mountain scenery, and Kegons waterfall. An elevator takes one near the base of the 90-meter tower for an excellent view. On the way back another bus didn't always make the turn on the first try but our driver whizzed merrily along all twenty-eight hairpin curves.

After catching a train with seconds to spare, I rode back to Tokyo past laborers in their rice paddies. From time to time we passed a small cemetery in the fields - just a small unmarked area of closely situated markers. Cremation is required; previous land space must be well-utilized.

Back "home" in Kamakoyama I learned that a plan for climbing Mt. Fuji with others was not going to materialize and I was leaving on Friday. Imagine leaving Japan without even seeing Mt. Fuji! But on the plane to Seoul, I looked up from my Korean entry material and out the window. Far below and just ahead the big wing, a great volcanic cone was majestically reaching up.

TWO NEW CANADA SAVINGS BONDS

A GREAT CHOICE

This year, Canada Savings Bonds offer you a great choice. There's a new Regular Interest Bond that pays interest each year. And a new Compound Interest Bond that re-invests your interest automatically, earning interest on your interest.

SAFETY, INSTANT CASH AND A GOOD RETURN

Both new bonds retain the great features that have helped to make Canada Savings Bonds the favourite investment for millions of Canadians over the past 31 years. They're a safe, secure investment. They're instant cash anytime. And they earn good interest - year after year.

New Canada Savings Bonds are dated November 1, 1977 and yield an average annual interest of 8.06% when held to maturity in 1986. Each new bond begins with 7% interest the first year and earns 8.25% interest for each of the remaining 8 years.

REGULAR INTEREST BOND

If you want a regular annual income from your investment, you'll like the new Regular Interest Bond which pays interest automatically each Nov. 1st. You have the choice of receiving your interest either by cheque or by direct deposit into your chequing or savings account. This new direct deposit feature is a great convenience for you.

You can buy the Regular Interest Bond for cash wherever you bank or invest in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000.

COMPOUND INTEREST BOND

If you seek savings growth, or an investment for the future, or a retirement fund, you'll choose the new Compound Interest Bond. After the first year you will earn interest on your interest at the annual rate of 8.06%. Interest on the bond is left to accumulate and is payable only upon redemption or at maturity.

Here's how the value of a $100 bond grows:

New Value	New Value
1978 $107.00	1983 $158.78
1979 $115.81	1984 $171.77
1980 $125.34	1985 $185.81
1981 $135.63	1986 $200.97
1982 $146.76

The Compound Interest Bond may be purchased for cash or on the convenient Monthly Savings Plan wherever you bank or invest. It is available in denominations of $100, $500, $500, $1,000 and $5,000.

THE CHOICE IS YOURS

As you can see, new Canada Savings Bonds offer you a great choice - the Regular Interest Bond and the Compound Interest Bond. Both new bonds are on sale now up to a combined total purchase limit of $15,000. They have been specifically designed to meet your savings goals. Choose the one that's right for you.

How about that litter?

We live in a nice town. I've always considered Sedgewick a good place in which to make my home. Progress is being made all the time to improve services and encourage growth. It is a nice looking town; people care about the appearance of their homes and surroundings and spend time and money to beautify them. I think our residential area, for the most part, is second to none, in any small community. The business area is improving. I'm sure everyone appreciates the good work that has been done in the downtown area, including the lovely little park which the children enjoy, and which adds a touch of beauty to an otherwise uninteresting hillside.

BUT, I have what I believe to be a legitimate beef, and I know that I am not alone in this. It is LITTER! A comparatively recent newspaper, lately said to me "The litter in Sedgewick is disgraceful - the worst I have ever seen." Well, I don't know where these friends lived before, but I'm thinking that the litter is probably on par with what it is in most towns. Of course, that doesn't excuse us, it merely serves to illustrate that people are too careless about where they throw unwanted containers, glass, etc. I live in an apartment, a nice place, and a lady resident takes pride in the surroundings and puts in many hours keeping it neat and attractive. We all appreciate her efforts. BUT, every day I could, and often do go out and pick up empty milk cartons, potato chips and cheese bags, candy bar and gum wrappers, straws, etc. that litter our front lawns and sidewalks; this is just a continuation of the trail of litter that students leave behind them from the business section of town that extends to the school. And my REAL beef is the broken glass bottles that are lying on the walks, boulevards and streets; this is not only ugly, but it is a very dangerous menace, for an older person whose eyesight has weakened, or a little one who has not yet learned to be careful when running. It is also, I am told, a real threat to tires; I was driving with a friend last week, and she had to pick and choose her route to avoid the broken glass on the streets. I do not know if bottles are broken for "kicks" or from downright carelessness. In either case, it should not be.

I am not very sure what can be done about this situation, but surely there should be something. I am not suggesting that it is only the young people who are Litter Bugs, but perhaps an educational program could be embarked upon in our community; not just just a "clean up week" and then forgotten. A continuous program is necessary to be effective, until every one is conscious of the importance, and the NEED to keep Sedgewick a clean community and free of litter. Do you have any suggestions?

FRED RUSSELL OF NORTHWESTERN UTILITIES HAS SOME USEFUL HINTS ON HOW YOU CAN SAVE MONEY AND INCREASE YOUR HOME HEATING EFFICIENCY

Fred Russell, Superintendent of Customer Service.

Forced-air heating system filters are designed to trap dust and lint from the air. When they become clogged, the flow of air is restricted, reducing heating efficiency, thus costing you money.

If your furnace filter is of the disposable glass fibre type, it should be cleaned monthly and replaced at least twice a year. Permanent type filters should be cleaned and the proper commercial spray should be applied. If in doubt, check with your furnace contractor, particularly before the onslaught of winter.

Besides checking your filter, be sure your furnace motor and fan bearings are lubricated according to manufacturer's instructions. Registers should be cleaned of dust and other objects. Furniture and rugs should not obstruct hot and cold air registers.

For more information pick up the free pamphlet, "Waste Watcher's Guide to Energy" at your nearby gas company office. When it comes to the wise use of energy, if you have the will, we have the ways.

Keeping In TouchTHE THORNE SPEECH

The Thorne speech is what it says it is... a speech. It was a speech written by the Prime Minister's office and read by our Queen. It was read much better than it was written. The Thorne speech was 15 pages long. In page 1 to 5 it dealt in generalities and focused on the content of the budget speech of last March 21st. From page 7 to 12 the content of the Thorne speech dealt with National Unity and the supposed need for minority guarantees in language rights.

From my perspective there was a tremendous void respecting the important issues of our devastated dollar, rising inflation, & excessive unemployment. Surely, all Canadians have a high desire for national unity. The question we must ask ourselves, in all reality, is whether or not the guarantees in language and cultural rights are the only paths to national unity. In my judgement many of our sources of disunity arise from the fact that we are now a nation in economic discord.

In 1968 when the present government took office the annual inflation rate was 4% at the present time it is an imposing 8.4%. Similarly, in 1968 the rate of unemployment in Canada was 4.5% whereas today seasonally adjusted to the 1968 comparisons, we presently have an 8.2% rate of unemployment. These two factors coupled with the 90c dollar are signals of a fragile economy and indeed the worst may yet be yet to come.

In opening this column I had pointed out that the Thorne Speech was only a speech and the real measure of the government's programs will be tested in its legislation and cabinet initiatives. As an example, if we review some of the contents of last year's Thorne Speech we would note that it was stated "to continue reduction of inflation". However, the promise of reduction has, in contrast, turned into escalation. In the last Thorne Speech it was promised that "many more employment opportunities will be made available. In part, that statement was right since there was an increase of some 309,000 jobs. However, the labour force grew by 505,000 leaving us with an additional job availability deficit of nearly 140,000.

Likewise, the government promised in the last Thorne Speech to cut the rate of growth in Public Service to below one per cent growth. However, according to Statistics Canada, we have just learned that the Federal Government has increased its personnel by 15,575 persons or 2.4% growth over the last year. Moreover, a review of government programs shows that there is a continual proliferation of the number of programs being added and that the governments are taking a higher percentage of our gross national product for public expenditure. Obviously, the cost of our total wealth that is used by the government is the less money is available in society for the private domain.

Wednesday, November 2, 1977
 Arnold Malone, M.P.

A Thorne Speech, like any other speech, will merit its justification by the test of time. The Thorne Speech is a signal of intent - keeping in mind that it was reserved only with action.

These winds blowing around these days are starting to get pretty cold, which means winter is well on the way. And this means it's time to give your house the once over and get it prepared for winter. Here are a few ideas from Betty Birch, D.R.E. at Battler. Let's start at the top - the roof. Inspect the roof for lifting shingles and leaks. It's best not to walk on the roof if you have asphalt shingles, unless necessary. Walking on them rubs the outer layer of asphalt on the shingles which decreases their life. A good way to tell if the roof leaks is to check the roof in the attic for water stains.

Next, clear all leaves and debris from the valleys of the roof, rain gutters and eaves. This debris can cause water and snow to back up and ice to form. The ice will eventually work up under the shingles and cause them to lift. Speaking of ice, don't forget to drain the water barrel and shut off your outside tap. Turn the water off from the inside and leave the tap open outside. If your outside tap doesn't have a shut-off tap inside the house it is probably a self draining type and you don't have to worry about it.

Even though your house is well insulated, it may be possible to reduce heat loss by sealing the doors and windows. Check the weatherstripping around the doors and windows. If the weatherstripping is old or worn, it should be replaced. Your doors may need weatherstripping also. There are four basic types of door jamb weatherstripping: wood strip with foam backing, aluminum channel with vinyl backing, adhesive backed foam strip, and felt strip.

As a part of a continuing campaign to combat vandalism in the province Alberta Transportation has a new way of deterring road sign vandals.

Identification markings - a separate number or logo on each county and municipal district - may be applied to the face of road signs, clearly labelling a sign as stolen property from a particular jurisdiction.

"Nobody wants to be branded a thief," says Dr. Hugh Horner, deputy premier and minister of transportation, signs should discourage people from displaying stolen signs in their home and hanging them on their walls as decorations.

Dr. Horner says government officials feel they are on the right track in dealing with road sign vandals.

"We are confident that combining easy identification of stolen property with strict penalties for convictions will help stop sign vandalism."

Many communities, in addition to supporting Alberta Transportation's anti-vandal campaign, are fighting sign vandalism in their districts by offering substantial rewards for information leading to the arrest and conviction of sign thieves.

As one municipal councillor explains "People tend to think a petty reward signifies a petty crime, but a worthwhile reward helps people recognize the seriousness of stealing a sign."

Fifty three members, guests, and visitors attended graduation night when four ladies graduated from T.O.P.S. to K.O.P.S. (they all sounds senile).

The president Mary Ann L. presented Joas D., Paddy O., Molly M. and Pat E. with their certificates and a long stemmed red rose.

Congratulations to Queens of the month for September to Lillian Mc. and Gail R. Irene P. won the trophy at the Seniors enthusiasm night for the best weight loss out of the 5 clubs attending the Peggy Lyster area.

We have 45 active members and are glad to see our male members doing so well. We are all trying hard not to have to entertain or supply an item for our serving basket.

Sometime in November, the home economist is going to speak to us.

See you lighter.

Have you ever heard of "The Spirit of Christmas Lost"? It was the spirit of the lost Christmas Eve of 1928, learned about survival in the wilderness and learned to cook out in the open.

Rangers is more than a group. It's a lifestyle for girls aged from 14 to 18 years. It's for people interested in canoeing, hiking, in back-packing, in winter camping, in music... and the list goes on and on. You can see why I (the Spirit of the Rangers) am floating around looking for a group to settle on.

The group I located last year was the first meeting was a lake-side picnic. We went on a winter outdoor skating party and even though one of the cars broke down - I remember when the group went canoeing - first time. Very interesting! They were tested later on for skill by Les Newworthy (boy was he good) and took the canoe on the next camping trip.

Those Rangers would light weight camping, built survival shelters for the canoe in the wilderness, learned about survival in the wilderness and learned to cook out in the open.

There was also some land given to them for use to develop into a youth campsite and they decided to turn it into a memorial site with an outdoor chapel and grassed tent-pitching areas. They wanted to erect their own totem poles (they were called Totem Rangers) as a memorial to the Rangers. But it looks like it's not going to happen. I can't seem to get a group to settle on.

But maybe there's hope. I need a few girls, maybe 3 or 4 to start. I need to find some girls with a common interest in having fun! I need some people who are interested in travel (in Canada, or Europe or wherever).

I am "The Spirit of Rangers Lost". I think you could contact Kathy Keith for information at 384-3882. Anyone interested?

Services at Lougheed for Johannes Bjorkehaug

Johannes Andersen Bjorkehaug (Havili) of Lougheed, passed away suddenly on Monday, October 10, 1977. He was 60 years old. He was born in Jostedal, Norway on May 10, 1917. Left an orphan early in life, he was raised by his Aunt. He was united in marriage to Brita Pihlsgaard at the Jostedal Church in 1938. In 1980, he came to Canada with his wife and young son Andrew. They came directly to the Lougheed District where Johannes and Brita worked on various farms until they were in a position to purchase land of their own. They were still residing on the original farm site at the time of his death.

Johannes made many trips to Norway to visit relatives and spent the last 2 summers there. His love of his farm and his sense of humor are two qualities for which he will be remembered. He always had time to visit and tried to be a good neighbor to everyone.

Besides his loving wife Brita, he is survived by one son Andrew and wife Wilma of Wainwright; two daughters, Selma and husband Art Eastly and Jeanette and husband Ken Edge of Calgary; one grandchild; David, Dene, Adele, Greg, John, Darcy, Jeanne.

A very special thanks goes to neighbors Jim Butcher, Ted Butcher, Glen and Bob Roggenbach, Cliff Roggenbach and Mervin Skoberg who so kindly donated time and machines to take off the crop. Brita, Andrew, Jeanette, Selma and families.

Another $192.4 million to be spent

LEGISLATURE REPORT

Programs of Canadian studies, agricultural research and airport terminal buildings have been added to the list of Heritage Fund capital projects as the government commits another $192.4 million.

Provincial Treasurer Merv Leitch offered five new items when he presented the Legislature with his second annual fall fund capital works estimates.

The appropriation swells the amount the government is authorized to use on non-profit developments to $374.9 million by March 31, 1979. But the total is well short of the at least $900 million possible.

The capital projects department can claim up to 20% of the total fund. It is the only section which the Legislature has to approve before the cabinet uses the money.

Other bills before the house would expand the $2.5 billion account to more than $4 billion by March 31, 1979. They are required deposits 50% of all non-renewable resource revenue a year.

In new plans, "Alberta heritage, learning, resources" will provide new books, audio-visual aids, atlases and nature studies kits to the schools. An initial $4.5 million is committed to the two-year, $8.4-billion project.

The scheme is a response to "widespread and continuing demand for Canadian studies," Education Minister Julian Kosciak explained. Alberta and the West are to get heavy emphasis on the teaching aids.

Construction of airport terminals at Grande Prairie, Lethbridge, Red Deer, Whitecourt, Edson, Grand Cache and Pinc her Creek will cost another $6 million. The work is attributed to lack of interest by Ottawa and a need to stimulate the economy as well as improve transport in smaller centres.

An initial $15 million is to be used during 1978-1979 on the $40 million Kananaskis provincial park and recreation complex in the mountainous area west of Calgary.

A new research program, "farming for the future," receives the first in a series of five annual $2 million contributions. Agricultural Minister Marv Moore says the plan will be a cooperative effort with the farm industry.

At first, the lion's share of the agriculture research money is expected to go for crop and livestock studies. Special emphasis is promised for northern Alberta farming.

Under preservation of historical sites, $3 million is committed to converting Calgary's old downtown courthouse into "government house south." Offices are to be opened for officials from the Lieutenant-Governor to opposition MLAs and the building will be the gov't's southern hub.

The overall price-tag of the new projects adds $72 million to the long-term package worked out last year with seed money of $182.5 million.

NEW BUSINESS — Another service for the area opened recently when Killam Photography opened a studio in Killam. An official opening was held on October 15th.

NEWS FROM THE CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

It was a busy and full day at the Church of the Nazarene on Sunday. A good start to the day was the visit of Charlie and Johnnie (the puppeteer) during Sunday School session.

In the afternoon, Dr. Gray who is President of the Canadian Nazarene College in Winnipeg, and his wife spoke at a special service. Sharon Kirby favoured the congregation with a special song, which was a favorite of Dr. Gray's.

The day was completed with an evening service when the children attending Caravan on Friday evening presented a program and received their caps and scarves. Some children are still working on their memory work to obtain their caps and scarves. Mrs. Grace Rott is the Director.

Get well in a hurry wishes are extended to Mrs. Sophie Abel, who is at present a patient in the Killam Hospital. All are welcome to come to the very special services which will begin at the Church of the Nazarene next Sunday, Nov. 6th, with guest speaker, Rev. Leslie Jeter.

A note of appreciation is extended to the residents of the Flagstaff Lodge who helped with the candy bags for the pumpkins.

On October 12th our ladies club meeting was held at Etyle Home's home, eight members and two visitors (Mrs. Etyle McCracken of Alliance and Mrs. Tina Griffin of Edmonton) were in attendance. Our President welcomed the visitors then opened the meeting, the previous minutes were read and adopted. The Treasurer gave her report and the card convener reported on cards that were sent. We all signed a very nice "Get Well Card" and sent it to Mrs. Dana Meta who is in Hardisty Hospital.

We were sorry that Diane Bourne the District Home Educator was unable to attend but we certainly try and make it to our next meeting at the Helen O'Reilly home Nov. 19th. Laurie Nordstrom to be Co-hostess. The roll call - "To Bring a Cushion" that's all ladies.

A motion was made that we make supplies for the hospitals, with the remainder of our face cloths. We also placed another order of face cloths through Mrs. Zimmerman to bring us a supply again next spring when she returns from U.S.A.

The roll call for today was announced by "What I like about this month."

"Happy Birthday" was sung to Etyle, Marlene brought a Royal package all the articles except one were sold.

MEALS Cameron was the hostess for the luncheon. The meeting adjourned and then a social hour of "laughter" was spent over that Contest and the next roll call.

The most delicious lunch was served by the hostess and co-hostess Laurie. Open faced buns, with different fillings and "Cherry Cheese Pie" that was simply scrumptious. The Th- anagrams table napkins were so appropriate for this meeting. "Good times are for sharing."

Melba Cameron was the hostess for the luncheon. The meeting adjourned and then a social hour of "laughter" was spent over that Contest and the next roll call.

Services for Mrs. Mets

Funeral Home

Mrs. Daisy Mets passed away in the Hardisty General Hospital on Monday, Oct. 17th, 1977, after many years of poor health.

She was born on May 4th, 1896 in Birmingham, England and came to Canada in 1914; and has lived in the Hardisty area ever since.

She leaves to mourn her loss, besides her loving husband Walter of Lougheed; two daughters, Edna Gibbs of Blairmore and Margaret Johnson of Hardisty; one son Norman of P. St. John, B.C.; one brother James Throp of Hardisty; one sister, Elizabeth Fisher of the Killam Auxiliary Hospital; ten grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in the Hardisty United Church on Thursday, Oct. 20 at 10:30 a.m. conducted by the Rev. Jackson. Pallbearers were family members: Robert Johnson and sons Ian and Bobby; Ricky Gibbs, Walter Farfus and Norman Sandhal. Interment was in Lougheed cemetery. Lunch was served in the Lougheed Community Hall at noon time. Free and home undertakers.

Mrs. Mets will be sadly missed by all her family and also all her friends and neighbors; as she always had a cheerful greeting for one and all and the "coffee pot" was always on the stove.

Unskilled workers influx worries province

Premier Peter Lougheed's Conservatives are taking a hard look at the possibility of preparing new policies to discourage the arrival of unskilled, unemployed outsiders in Alberta.

New actions to boost the incomes of farmers, needs for additional housing programs, public investment in the oil sands and compulsory tests for grade schoolers are also receiving consideration.

four-tenths of a point from 4.9 per cent in August.

Lougheed described the talks on tougher action as strictly "preliminary." He expects the time to figure in the Tories 1978 public convention next April. He pointed out that Alberta cannot act alone because federal jurisdiction and shared-cost programs are involved.

Meanwhile, the premier indicated that the party has reached conclusions on education issues posed at both the 1976 and 1977 closed policy meetings.

The review covers the school system's goals, their ranking, curriculum revisions, reducing the number of options and providing wide tests of student "rapidity and progress."

But Lougheed doubted that the government will begin to make its plans known and clear before next spring. He said the

COME ALIVE

By Curtis Johnson
Merna Seventh Day Adventist

Last week we pointed to the need of a new and improved style. Think, please, is a fine aim but needs to be put into action. Intemperance is in all facets of our life style is the major cause of societies present dilemma. The young are ridiculed for the following very example that the adult sees. Intemperance in eating and drinking, and the indulgence of the base passions have beset the life of the people. Those who are taken to snobism that man has. Nine tenths of those who are taken to snobism are those who have learned to drink. The relationship to crime intemperance is very close. Crime has been committed, and the perpetrator has been accused in many instances, because they know not what they are doing. Moderate drinking is the school where men are receiving an education for the drunkard's career. When drinking is in, reason is out. The traveler enters the public house with his reason, with ability to walk and think clearly, but look at him as he leaves. This is often called really living.

However alcohol does not cover the whole of intemperance. The tobacco user also permeates the air with his own peculiar obnoxious odor. No disease has proven tobacco as the use of other narcotics and alcohol change must be made in the heads of families before much progress can be made in riding the poison of the monster of intemperance. In our legislative halls.

GIRL GUIDES OF CANADA FLAGSTAFF DISTRICT

Increased membership and five new units have shown the enthusiasm of Guiding in the Flagstaff District. There are 98 Brownies, 47 Guides, 12 Rangers and 25 they have registered, along with 33 leaders. This district includes Forestburg, Sedgewick, Killam, Viking, Holden, and Ryley. The new units are Sedgewick and Holden Guides, Ryley Brownies and Killam and Forestburg Bay Bees, which are 5 and 6 year olds.

Many of the leaders attended a training session in Camrose in October. These leaders put in a great deal of time and work to help our girls become good citizens and valuable members of our communities. Organizations in each of these towns support our girls by providing halls, buying ties and giving donations to them. This is greatly appreciated by the girls and parents.

and courts of justice, no less than in our schools, men of principle are needed: men of self control, of keen perceptions and sound judgments. If the mind is clouded or the principles debased by intemperance, how can the judge render a just decision? Fathers as well as mothers are included in this responsibility. Both parents transmit their own characteristics, mental and physical, their dispositions and appetites, to their children. "Know you not that you are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwells in you? If you will make defile the temple of God, he shall God destroy; for the temple of God is Holy, which temple you are. 1 Cor. 3:16-17.

TALK IT OVER WITH GORDON

Gordon Stromberg

After one of the more hectic harvests, I thought I'd better start writing this column again before I get fired. So much has taken place in the last three weeks that it's going to be hard to remember all the events and meetings. But anyway some of the good news.

A contract has been let for that portion of Highway 13 from Bittern Lake to Junction 13-21 for 4.00 miles. And another contract for grading of 804 from Ryley south some 35.46 km whatever many miles that might be.

And I delivered a $22,800 grant to Melvin Anderson of Forestburg, treasurer of the Buffalo Lake Region resource Project. Another grant to Ken Cox of the Camrose Agriculture Co. for $18,000.

Last Tuesday evening, drove down from Edmonton to a meeting of the Beaver Chamber of Commerce with an officer of the Dept. of Transport, responsible for planning and deals for all Highways in the Province, to discuss the proposed 3 million dollar by-pass of Highway 21 around Beaver, Friday evening the difficult choice of taking part in the official opening of the Hockey season for the CLC Vikings or attending our personal friends, Bill and Ollie Diachuk 26th Wedding Anniversary. Bill is MLA for Edmonton Beverly. Asray and I went to the argument, and we went to the Anniversary. And Sat. morning along with NDP leader Grant Neloy, read a portion of the scriptures to a very large gathering at the annual prayer breakfast in Camrose and that evening with Ardell, really enjoyed ourselves at the Annual Banquet and Dinner of the Camrose Knights of Columbus.

And now to what your MLA was doing this past week in Edmonton. In the Legislative Assembly I questioned the Premier quite extensively as to what constitutes Alberta to make claims as Natural Gas exports to the United States in return for the right to trade concessions and to supplying our gas to our American Competitors in the Petrochemical Industry and if this gas swap goes through, would it hurt the industry in the Alberta Government is trying to start here. The Premier replied, saying the Province has been considering advancing the U.S. extra natural gas while the Alaska Pipeline is being built and even considering supplying gas to competing American plants in Alberta with Agricultural and trade privileges with the U.S. and in Public Accounts, took the Minister of Advanced Education to task for severely limiting the growth of the Private Colleges in Alberta through the grant structure. For example, Grand Prairie College receives $2,000 per student from his department, while the Camrose CLC receives only $2,222.00 per student. I know one thing that the private colleges over the years have saved the tax payers of Alberta literally millions of dollars.

And in the question period, Neil Webster MLA from Calgary went after the Minister of Advanced Education again in regards to the need for a school of Optometry in Alberta. When we have to send our students to Ontario for training and rely on American Optometrists coming to Alberta to meet the demand, something's out of wack as to the priorities in his dept.

Riters Ramblings The Secret Chewer

Hippity Hop to Evoy's Shop to get a bag of candy - I hummed the tune and skipped along the wooden sidewalk that lead down to the candy shop in Outlook, Saskatchewan.

Seven years of age is a happy carefree time and I made a mental list of all the goodies I could buy with my nickel. A licorice pipe, cinnamon hearts, jaw breakers, and of course, some black Jack and some bubble gum. Black Jack was a long pipe of licorice gum and we kids loved it. Occasionally we'd chew Spruce Gum, if we were hard up, but its very bitter and one has to be pretty desperate to chew this.

My sister, brother and I enjoyed the Black Jack Gum the best. We'd take it to school and see how long we could chew without getting caught. There we'd come home and brag of our misadventure and of how long it took before the teacher caught on.

To have gum lying around at home was a "no-no" as my younger brother and sister had no qualms about picking it up, washing it, and continuing on with the chewing.

I remember one night very distinctly when my sister and I forgot to remove our gum once we were in bed. When morning dawned our hair was a tangled mass and our mother gave us instant boys' bobs on the spot. Times changed and I found myself in the business world. Now, if needed, I was surrounded by other chewers. But one day, as I find my hair before leaving the washroom, I glance at my ever revolving mouth. "Ugh," I thought, "That somehow doesn't portray me the way I'd like to be." From that time on I became very discreet as to when and where I chewed.

Changing my occupation to that of a teacher put the shoe on the other foot. And experience told me that a gum chewing class was not necessarily a class that was concentrating and learning. I remember one young lady whom I scolded for chewing. She'd wait until my back was turned, after I'd caught her and pop in another stick. Finally I said, "May I have your supply?" She murmured, "Not without a fight."

"Well," I replied, "I could call on the principal to referee."

"Oh, all right here it is then!" came the final retort. I turned over three packages of gum to the principal that day. Not long ago I helped the school janitors scrape and pry chewing gum from the undersides of desks, tables and chairs. Getting rid of one year's crop and getting ready for the next. I remembered as I pushed and scraped, Evoy's Shop, the Boys' Bobs, the Chewing Stones, teaching and my decision to chew in secret.

Chewing gum seems to be fun for the young, but the older I get, the more I realize I chew to rid myself of tension. And I seldom ever forget to throw it in the waste basket.

TO THE PARENTS AND INTERESTED PARTIES FROM THE KILLAM MINOR HOCKEY ASSOCIATION:

The annual meeting of the Killam Minor Hockey Association was called for November 3rd, 1977 at 7:30 p.m. When this meeting convened a total of 11 people were in attendance to represent approximately 130 children who probably plan and wish to play hockey in the forthcoming season.

The Executive and the other 9 people that attended this meeting are very discouraged. If interest and attendance for the next meeting does not show a considerable increase, there will be no minor hockey in Killam for this year. It would seem to be very unfair for 11 people to make decisions for the 130 children that will benefit from this Association.

The next meeting of the Killam Minor Hockey Association will be held in the Killam Elementary School on November 14th, 1977 commencing at 8:00 p.m. This will be the last meeting called. If there is no further interest shown, that what was shown on November 3rd, there will be no Minor Hockey in Killam this year.

Weight-in day was on November 6th at 5:30 at the Tom Lewis farm.

The meetings are to be held on the first Wednesday of every month at 8:00 in each members home in alphabetical order.

The meeting was adjourned and everybody enjoyed a delicious lunch.

by Calvin Lewis

WE STARTED our meeting off by singing O Canada and saying our pledge. Then we had the roll call which was the name of a flower.

We discussed our Christmas party then had some time for a Christmas party committee. We decided our party would be Dec. 7th. Our Club decided to have a gift exchange so obviously we exchanged names and we discussed what price's we would pay for the gift. It was $2.00.

Our book exchange that we decided to have at our last meeting was a good success.

NEEDS KINDEGARTEN

This has been another busy month for the Kindergarten.

On October 4 the Kindergarten went to the home of Kevin Galtier where they learned how to make Halloween cookies. They were all pleased with the results.

On October 19 Shelaine Sparrow's room came in and made apple dolls. The apple heads were made into witches for the coming Halloween party.

The Kindergarten had their school pictures taken.

The month was topped with a Halloween party. The kids paraded through the school and the lodge. We had scarecrows, cat witches, ghosts and spiders.

All the mothers turned up in costume this year. Two were dressed like the odd couple. They all had a hand at bobbing for apples. Amazingly they all stayed fairly dry.

◆ ◆ ◆ Kaleidoscope ◆ ◆ ◆MYTHS ABOUT MICROWAVE OVENS

A couple of weeks ago, I had a chance to attend a Microwave Cooking Workshop. I learned many things including that you have to learn how to cook all over again when using a microwave.

I'd like to share some of the information I gained. An article in Market Spotlight by Alberta Consumer and Corporate Affairs seems to be a good place to start.

For appliances as as misunderstood as the microwave oven. It is known for its convenience and cooking speed, but misconceptions about how it works and how safe it is abound. The following is a clarification of some commonly held beliefs.

1. Microwaves are Radioactive. This is not true. Microwaves are a form of radiation, similar to radio waves or the sun's rays. However, they are non-ionizing, meaning that they do not interfere with the process of cell division, as a radioactive substance would. Their only demonstrated effect on a human body, at a high exposure level, would be to inflict a severe burn (like a burn you would receive if you put your hand on a hot stove ring).

2. Microwaves Cook Food From the Inside Out. This is not true. In a microwave oven, a magnetron emits waves which bounce around the oven interior, and are distributed more evenly by a metal stirring fan. The waves penetrate up to two inches into food, agitating its water molecules. It is the rapid movement of these molecules, not the actual microwaves, which creates heat by friction, and this heat is conducted throughout the food.

3. Microwave Ovens Cut Food Preparation Time at Least in Half. This is not always true. Microwave cooking is fast because only the food is heated. In a conventional oven, the walls and air inside the oven cavity, as well as the vessel in which the food is placed, become hot, and this warmth is transferred to the food. With more space and surfaces to heat, cooking takes longer. But some peculiarities of microwave use can cause it to take almost as long to prepare a dinner. For example, the microwave oven apparently is small, so many "loads" may be required to prepare one meal for a large family. Another difficulty is that food can cook unevenly (also true in a normal oven), but less noticeable because the longer cooking time helps to equalize heating; thus, time is lost in rotating or stirring foods. Most foods must be allowed to stand for about five minutes after being removed from a microwave oven, allowing heat to be conducted to the interior of the food. And, although the microwave is very quick for simple foods in single servings, cooking time increases with the volume of food, which is not true of a conventional oven.

4. Microwave Ovens Reduce Energy Costs. This is debatable. If a family used only a microwave oven for all its cooking and baking, energy savings would be substantial. Its efficiency still is only between 40 & 60% meaning that, for a power input of 1,500 watts, 600 to 750 watts are used to heat the food and the remainder powers the appliance - but this betters the performance of conventional ovens. For some jobs, such as boiling water, microwave ovens are less efficient than a range element or a kettle, but in most cases the reduced cooking time by microwaves will result in energy savings. These savings are squandered, however, if a regular oven is used in conjunction with the microwave.

For more information in microwave ovens, plan to attend either the Hardisty or Kilham Microwave Oven Demonstration. Topics such as burn safety and cooking techniques will be covered.

Hardisty - November 29, 7:30 p.m. - 9:30 p.m. To register phone Pat Hansen 988-3864.

MOOSE

ALICE ALICE

The largest member of the deer family, the animal is found in northern North America from Alaska to Newfoundland and from the Yukon to the Pacific coast. An adult bull antelope about 1000 lb in weight, with a longer, thicker antler from Alaska and the Yukon attaining weights in excess of 500 lb.

The moose is a strong swimmer and has been known to dive to depths of 40 ft and swim submerged for 30 seconds in search of underwater roots. In cold fall it is a dangerous adversary, often able to snap off the neck joints of hunters. They are particularly vicious during the rutting season. Possessed of a keen sense of smell and hearing, they can only be approached from upwind.

Hardisty Holds Awards Night

New Facility Open

Wally and Susie Seto of Hardisty announced the opening of their new premises this Saturday, November 12th. The building was completed recently after being started just one year ago.

As well as lounge and dining facilities, there are living quarters at the rear. The new and larger quarters will be well appreciated by the Seto family who all take their turn at working.

Disaster Plan Tried At Hardisty Hospital

The run through of the Hardisty Disaster Plan was an unqualified success according to Hospital Administrator Will West. The plan was organized and put into effect on Nov. 9 by Bud Devey, the retiring Disaster Co-ordinator and Stan Harlin district officer.

At nine o'clock a.m. Mr. Eric Man and Miss Rose arrived at the United Church Education Building and began to put make-up on the thirteen make-believe victims. The applications were so realistic even the victims felt uneasy.

By 11:30 a.m. the jobs were finished and the people assembled were served a delicious lunch of soup and sandwiches.

At 1:05 p.m. the siren gave three short blasts, by 1:08 p.m. trucks and vans arrived at the firehall and were dispatched to the railway crossing where the thirteen victims were waiting in the supposedly wrecked school bus.

Marie Maxine arrived at the scene to take charge of the victims for evacuation to the hospital. A two way radio system for continuous contact was set up between the hospital and the disaster scene.

Congratulations were the order of the night when Hardisty School held their first annual Awards Night on Friday, Oct. 21st. Hardisty and District

Well Hallowe'en has come and gone for another year and most towns seemed to find things quite quiet this time for which we are all most thankful. However someone with more brains than brains brought in one of those big round bales of straw and placed it on Main Street, not far from the Medical Centre, the Hardware and your reporter's place, and set fire to it.

The fire truck put out the fire but luckily there wasn't much wind. Wouldn't that be classed as "public mischief"?

However some of the egg throwers who should be caught and made to clean up the messes they create, were dealt with very effectively by the R.C.M.P. and congratulations for their method which would be more effective than words. The barracks in Provost was pelted with eggs as well as some other buildings.

Mrs. Isabel Nelson accompanied the Perry Powells to Provost on Wednesday where she had a lovely visit with the Jack Johnstones, also Jack's father Dave, who looks as hale and hardy as ever. They still have the lumber yard in Provost and Dave is one of the homesteaders in the Provost area, finding his place in 1907. Congratulations to Marion Madden who won the Elks Mini Jackpot of $45.00.

Congratulations to Edna Duffield who won the lovely quilt made by the Hazelwood Club and to Pat Hansen who won the Afghan shown at the Farmers Market by the Sunshine Club.

Now the Legion ladies are selling tickets on a quilt which will be drawn for at the week-end and so there will be another lucky winner somewhere soon. Don Byrne who has spent the last three months with his grandparents, the Cyril Dreviers has returned to his home at Port Couillard.

Mary Brown and Kevin of Camrose spent Sunday with Mary's mother, Isabel Nelson. Allen Lawson returned to Hardisty after a few days in Ladue before he leaves for his home in California.

Home too for the weekend was Rosemary Cibart who works in Edmonton.

Excellent Start on Fund

A most enjoyable evening was held at Hardisty School on Friday, October 28th. The purpose of the evening, activities was to raise funds towards the purchase of a trampoline for the school gymnasium program.

It was a resounding success and over eight hundred dollars was raised!

The evening began with the girls basketball team playing a challenge team of older sisters or buddies.

The teams consisted of: Girls - Joanne McClements, May Seto, Lana Snook, Terry Snook, Judy Watkins, Lorna Fraser, Lorna Rombough, Chris Rombough, Jody Overman, Kerry Blaser, Marcella deKock, Judy Kells, Karen Doodall, Debbie Fagin.

Buddies or Sisters - Bonnie Matthews (McClements), Sheryl Baumgartner, Tammy Anderson, Shelley Dion, Estelle Penny, Karen Fraser, Lori Godrich (Rombough), Tammy Hopie (Rombough), Hilary Gray, Debbie Harrison, Mary deKock, Karen Kells, Chat Doodall, Doris Watkins (Fagin).

Both teams played well and the Buddies and Sisters surprised everyone by their dark horse talent! The audience was entertained by the surprised looks on the faces as the ball actually went into the basket a few times.

After the girls game the floor was taken by a most adept auctioneer in the form of Councillor Jod Welliver and the student auction began. The bidding started slowly but once the audience "loosened their wallets", to quote the auctioneer, things really began to roll along. This, even to the extent that one gentleman beckoned to a friend and found that he had inadvertently hired himself a student! Eleven girls offered themselves to be auctioned for an eight-hour work session at a task and time mutually agreeable to the purchaser and the student.

The second half of the program began with the boys team taking on a team of fathers and buddies. Again the play was fast, furious and funny with the fathers and buddies team sporting quite a height advantage. However, the boys found that passing through the legs of the opposition was quite a successful tactic to convert any size disadvantage! On the Boys team were Todd Baumgartner, Terry Baumgartner, Todd Moser, Dennis Granger, Daryl Foss, Greg Bempel, Bob Harrison, Kirk Thomson, Mike Gaska, Paul Alderdice, Bob Klinger. On the Fathers and Buddies Team: Doc Baumgartner, Lowell Allen, Rhys Overman, Sinclair Pillar, Byron Penny, Peter Gray, Jod Welliver, Jim Thomson, Bill Bourgeois and Dr. Cahill.

The game proved to be most entertaining to the audience and many stayed for the auction of the boys. Seven young men offered their services and with the bidding pattern met by the girls it soon rose to unbelievable heights.

The money raised was increased by some very generous donations, one, because the donor believed the auctioneer's effort alone was well worth it!

The whole evening was considered a resounding success.

It has been brought to the attention of the organizers that a number of people were sorry to have missed the opportunity of bidding on a student in this way and may still wish to seek this kind of help. If so, please contact Peter Gray as he may be able to arrange it. Also, if anyone wishes to join the ranks of those very kind donors Peter would be more than happy to hear from you and the new trampoline may soon be a reality.

Tom Seto will be lounge manager of the new establishment. He recently completed his mixology course at N.A.I.T.

How To Pay For Transportation

Grain transportation costs exceed the revenues which the railways receive from the Crown or statutory grain rates. The question now before the grain industry is how to compensate the railway for their losses. It is assumed the railways must be compensated and that producers will retain all the present benefits of the Crown rates. Payments to producers, payments to the railways and payments to elevator companies have been suggested as alternatives.

PAYMENTS TO PRODUCERS

At least six different methods exist to pay producers the benefits of Crown grain rates. One suggestion calls for producers to receive a one-time lump sum payment. The payment would be related to an individual's grain deliveries and the difference between a compensatory freight rate and the statutory rate. If instead, the return on the lump sum would be equal to the differential between a new compensatory rate charged by the railways and the statutory rate. An estimated $1.8 billion payment would be necessary. A variation of this alternative is to pay part of the lump sum each year for ten years plus interest. Adjustment by producers to the higher grain transportation rates might be less difficult than with the one-time lump sum payment.

Giving producers an annual acreage payment is another concept. The railways would charge compensatory rates for grain movement and producers would receive a payment based on their cultivated acreage for the difference between the new rates and the statutory rate. Not just producers who sell grain would benefit from this program.

It might be possible to pay the difference between a compensatory grain rate and the statutory one into the respective grain pools each year. Wheat, oats and barley could be handled by the Canadian Wheat Board but non-board grains would need a special system. Only those selling grain would benefit.

Annual payments to producers could be through the Western Grain Stabilization Plan. This may be a somewhat confusing method. Only grain producers who were members of the Stabilization Plan would be eligible for payment.

Direct producer payments on the movement of grain each year are another possibility. The payment would be related to the difference between freight rates and the amount of grain marketed. In the international market, this form of payment could be interpreted as an export subsidy for grain. A sixth alternative would be to place the payment into an agricultural research fund each year. The fund would be controlled by producers with grain research projects given priority.

PAYMENTS TO RAILWAYS

Each year, the railways could be directly paid the difference between a compensatory grain rate and the statutory rate. Grain producers would benefit but the situation of livestock producers and the grain processing industries would be unchanged.

To retain the present benefits of the Crown rates, each year the railways could be paid their shortfall in revenue as determined by the Staveley Commission for 1974. Grain rates would rise annually with producers paying a larger share of grain transportation costs over time.

Branch line subsidies could be continued. This would be similar to the present system of payments to the railways.

Rail bed maintenance at government expense is another alternative. However, the Staveley Commission determined that this concept would not overcome the railways' revenue shortfall.

It might also be possible to subsidize both the rail and trucking industries. Local governments would need assistance for road building costs. Trucking subsidies could counter the effects of branch line subsidies.

PAYMENTS TO ELEVATOR COMPANIES

This proposal sees elevator companies paying the railways, grain rates related to the cost of service, but with producers only charged for movement at the statutory rate. Elevator companies could negotiate volume movements with the railways and directly receive compensation payments.

The Railway Compensation Sub-Committee of the Canada Grain Council has evaluated all these proposals from the viewpoint of impact on producers, railways, elevator companies, government and society. It is a useful document for producers to analyze. Elected officials in farm organizations and government need producer input before negotiations on the Crown rate issue begins.

Bill Goodwin, foreman, Customer Service.

Take a few moments to make sure your heating system is safe and working properly. Be sure the vent pipes connecting your furnace and gas appliances to the chimney are clear, properly secured and not corroded. A safe, efficient, trouble-free system uses less energy so you'll be getting all the heat you pay for this winter. Make sure your chimney is not clogged with ice, snow or other material.

For more safety tips, pick up a copy of our pamphlet, "Take Time for Home Heating Safety". It's available at your nearest gas company office. If you have the will, we have the ways to help you use energy safely.

ORGANIZE HOCKEY — Twenty-four interested persons were on hand November 6 to discuss plans for the 77-78 Battle River Hockey League. This year's schedule will see one more team, Rosedale added to Viking, Irma, Hardisty, Sedgewick, Killam, Dayland and Froeseburg. A total twenty-eight games will be played and the top six will play in the semi-finals. A representation from Comor was present to ask to be included but they were voted down by a 6 to 1 vote.

MLAs are home for the winter after submitting the province's environment ombudsman, creating a new financial watchdog, adding about $2 billion to the Heritage Fund and passing a new Planning Act. In a final flurry of activity for 1977, the Legislature passed more than 40 bills to Lieutenant Governor Ralph Stenhouse for assent then prorogued until next spring in time for the Remembrance Day weekend.

As the unusually busy 25-day fall sitting wound down, the Loughheed government announced Alberta will drop out of the federal re-inflation program and gave Speaker Gerald Amegon a $6,140 pay raise to $38,978.

The 27-month agreement to apply national wage controls to the provincial and local service will die Dec. 31. But the new year will not likely see the lid taken off public sector salaries. Provincial Treasurer Merv Leitch will soon unveil new budget guidelines for 1978 to extend the restraint program which since mid-1975 has cut spending expansion to about 10 per cent a year.

Leitch's measure is expected to indirectly affect the same services which the province's own spending, and its support for health care, local government and education.

Meanwhile, House's 68 Conservatives, not counting Amegon, clipped a short leash on the seven-year-old Environment Conservation Authority. A bill abolished the agency's permanent leadership, and changed it into the Environment Council of Alberta, a series of cabinet-appointed panels with no tenure and no right to launch environment reviews independently. However, M.L.A.'s also approved creation of an independent, powerful auditor-general, a major financial reform that Premier Peter Lougheed and Government House leader Lou Hyndman promised before Tories won power in 1971.

The House endorsed deposits of 90 per cent of all non-renewable resource revenue into the Heritage Fund during the current and 1978-79 fiscal years, the decisions are due to about double the $2.2 billion account.

After more than three years of study and debate, the province has a new Planning Act. The legislation stiffens requirements for local land use planning but also expands municipalities' authority over development.

The act's major innovation is a "special planning area" power akin to environment legislation's restricted development authority. The cabinet can designate zones for strict provincial control of local land use.

The new law prohibits local and planning officials from entering private property without owners' consent or court orders.

—Kevin Tindall

AN APOLOGY —

A sincere apology is extended to the Loughheed Legion whose times of services for Remembrance Day were omitted from last week's paper. It was a regrettable mistake, particularly after Tom Barton made a special effort to let us know of the day's events.

Remembrance day services at Hardisty

Friday, November 11th provided a lovely day, the best weatherwise in a long time. The Legion Hut was filled to capacity for the morning service. Comrade K. Gutman conducted the service, opening with a very thought provoking talk on the need for Remembrance in the prevention of future wars. The scripture passage was read by Mrs. Mary Gutman, while Pastor Ray Nierberg of Sedgewick led in prayer and gave a most inspiring message. The congregation gathered at the campsite for laying of wreaths and observed the 2 minutes silence. All were invited to the Hut for coffee and cookies. In the evening veterans and auxiliary members and guests sat down to a delicious supper served by members of the U.C.W. Comrade Lloyd Stuart was M.C. for the evening, welcoming all to the annual affair. Vice Pres. Comrade Pat Gately reported on the years progress of the branch, drawing attention to the "Early Bird" certificate won for greatest increase in membership. Miss Pauline Gately, Auxiliary President, reported on the activities showing a busy year.

Couple celebrate diamond anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. A.E. Palla were honored on the occasion of their Diamond Wedding Anniversary at a reception in the Sedgewick Community Hall, on the afternoon of November 13. The day being 60, 250 relatives and friends came to attend and inscribe their names in the guest book.

From Minneapolis came Cousine Albert and Lillian Palla; from Lethbridge, Dr. and Mrs. D.F. McPherson; and from Colinton, Cousine Esther and Albert Gunderson. From Edmonton came our siblings, and cousins; more cousins from Provost and Tisdale, and friends from near and far.

Welcome indeed was an old-time friend and neighbor, Iva Johnson, of Vancouver.

Messages and mementoes were received from her Majesty, the Queen, via her private secretary; from Lieut. Gov. Ralph Steinhilber and Premier Peter Lougheed, and from Henry Kroeger, our own local M.L.A. Greetings from the Town of Sedgewick were tendered by the Mayor, Ernest Koehl. A surprise phone call was received from George Waldorf of Los Angeles.

There was a short program of readings and songs, by Bertha McPherson, Sharon Kirby, and the Harry Anderson family.

Norman McPherson acted as M.C. in his usual humorous and inimitable fashion; and Grandson Brian Koehl read excerpts from Arty's memoirs, and also recited some reminiscences of his own.

Dr. Doug McPherson proposed the toast, with many delightful references to incidents throughout the celebratory careers.

The "groom" responded appropriately to the toast.

The Church Women of Bethesda prepared and served the refreshments, thereby carrying on a tradition as it marks the fifth time that they have so nobly done their bit for the pleasure of the Pallas.

Art and Rose have lived in this immediate area practically continuously since coming to the province in 1908. The former has ever been involved in local affairs. He has served as Municipal Councillor, President of the local Chamber of Commerce, member of the Co-op Board, and for several years was President and Director of District 8 Farmers' Union.

Rose has no bad habits, unless one considers bowling as such the bowler regularly in the Ladies Afternoon League.

The Pallas have one daughter, three grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to very sincerely thank each and every one who contributed time and effort to make our Diamond Wedding Anniversary such a happy and memorable occasion.

To daughter Vivian, who did the spade-work in arranging the affair; to the entertainers—Bertha, Sharon Kirby, Harry Anderson and family; to Norman and Dr. D.F. McPherson, and to Brian Koehl — our genuine appreciation.

To the Church Women of Bethesda (and who else could do it as well?) who prepared and served the refreshments, "tossing" and for the beautiful flowers and cards, and for the presence of the 250 friends and kinfolk who signed the guest book. Thank you so much!

COME ALIVE

by Curtis Johnson
 Merna Seventh Day Adventist

The Bible presents a perfect pattern of character. The sacred word, inspired by God, and written by men, is a perfect guide under all circumstances of life. It sets forth distinctly the duties of both young and old. It made the guide of life, its teachings will lead the soul upward. It will elevate the mind, improve the character, and give peace and joy to the heart. But many have chosen to be their own counselors and guides, and have taken their cases in their own hands. Such need to study more closely the teachings of the Bible. In its pages they will find revealed their duty to their parents and their friends and neighbors.
 The Bible commands us to read,
 "Honor thy father and thy mother, that may be long with thee on the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee."
 Again we read, "Children obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right."

One of the signs that we are living in the last days is that children are disobedient to parents, unthankful, unkind. The word of God abounds in precepts and counsels exhorting respect for parents. It impresses upon the mind the sacred duty of loving and cherishing those who have guided them through infancy, childhood and youth, up to manhood and marriage, who are now in a great degree dependent upon them for peace and happiness. The Bible gives no uncertain sound on this subject; nevertheless, its teachings have greatly dis-garded.

The young have many lessons to learn, and the most important one is to learn to know themselves. They should

THE FUTURE IS IN YOUR HANDS

If you are an agricultural producer these questions could have great impact on your livelihood...

- Should Uniform continue to support the Alberta Cattle Communicators?
- How high should "Crow" Rates go?
- Should Alberta have a hog industry?
- Should all hares be taxed?
- Should government employees have free access to your property?

• Should hospital budget restrictions be allowed to lower the standard of health care?

You are invited to play a part in shaping your own future in agriculture by joining your neighbors in a discussion of these and other subjects at a Uniform forum at...

Sedgewick, Anglican Church Hall

November 26, 1:30 p.m.

Cautiousness resulted at the series of full forums across the province will guide Uniform in its policy approach to problems facing the industry.

SPOT LIGHT ON STROME SCL 4-H CLUB

Strome 4-H Club reunited on Tuesday, Nov. 8, 1977 for the first meeting of the year.

The meeting was called to order by last year's Vice President, Shaula Pettie. Brenda Graham led the club in singing O Canada, followed by Mark Hauser with the pledge.

Then our new executive was drawn up which consists of: President - Shirley Pettie, Vice Pres. - Allan McDougall, Secretary - Brenda Graham, Treasurer - Laurel Hauser, Club Reporter - Bernice Fuchstetter and Janet Asquin.

Our new president Shirley Pettie then chaired the new meeting.

The following committees were elected: Fund Raising: Colette Dalgic, Lori Pettie, Denise Dalgic, Leo Fiere, Les-ter Mrs. Ham, Lunch Commit-tee: Gloria Pfeiffer, Brenda Le-ech, Angie Blaser, Tracy Ham, Leader Mrs. Pettie, Re-creation: Susan Hayes, Jayne Steiger, Mark Hauser, Donald Rowe, Leader - Mrs. Jane Hayes. 4-H Club Leader - Mrs. Diane Blaser.

It was decided club meetings be held the first Tuesday of every month in the evening beginning at 7:00 p.m.

Club fees are $1.00 this year and are to be paid by next meeting. Mark Hauser then read the Treasurer report. Records showed a balance of $176.83.

We then decided to send $100.00 to Gull Lake 4-H Centre which is being built by 4-H clubs across Alberta.

Goodwill Club Report

The Greta Ladies met at the home of Helen O'Reilly in Sedgewick on November 9th with seven members and nine visitors present. The meeting opened with the Pres. Helen O' graciously welcoming all the visitors to the meeting. Melba, as secretary, then read the minutes of the October meeting and also a special meeting which were duly approved. Etta Hume, treasurer, then gave the financial report, showing a good bank balance and telling us that our efforts at the Gullway Sale were well worth while.

The annual Christmas Party was discussed next. It was decided that this be held on Saturday, December 17th at Bella Hill. The menu plans are to be finalized at the next meeting to be held at Marlene Simpson's on December 7th at 7:30 p.m. (one week early) with Melba as co-hostess.

Exchange of Christmas gifts will be the roll call that day.

We are sorry to report that Christa was in the hospital so Mary A. conducted the mysterious "Pillow Party Contest". It was a contest for points given for the different types of cushions there. Bertha Brunner held the cushion which qualified for the most points, so got the first prize. Tina Gollan got the consolidation prize for the least points. Helen Sutherland then gave us a "scratched garden tools" list to decipher, which Miss Bourne won and Marlene got the consolation.

Our Home Ec. Rep., Diane Bourne, then gave us an interesting demonstration on Christmas crafts. She had many and various samples of Christmas decorations and baked goods; which we sampled. Those rum balls were really something.

We came home with many ideas for Christmas and other special times and I'm sure Diane has many more hints on various topics. Just call on her.

Just to add to the excitement of the day, a bus load of school pupils landed at the O'Reilly's, as coffee was being served. It seems the Myrka bus had some trouble so the passengers were dispersed in private cars and trucks, which some of the ladies provided. Despite the interruption, we enjoyed a delicious lunch, provided by Helen O. and Laurie Nordstrom. Thanks again, it was an enjoyable afternoon. Laurie won the hostess prize and Marlene was the lucky tea cup holder. Hope you'll be with us next time. Christa also Mary and Margery.

KILLAM 4-H

The second meeting of the Killam Beef Club was brought to order at the Killam Auction Market after the weighing of the calves.

After resting the 4-H Fledge, the Secretary's minutes and treasurer's report were read and adopted.

The main topic on the agenda was our Christmas Party. It was decided that the party and the next meeting be on December 10th at the Ken Grant home. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the party. Names were drawn for Christmas gifts.

MARKS 50th BIRTHDAY

Congratulations to Mr. Steve Potage who celebrated his 50th birthday on November 10th. A family dinner was held at the home of his daughter, Edith and Wayne Louty where 27 family members from High Level, Edmonton, Sherwood Park and Sedgewick were present. Steve also received many phone calls and cards from friends and relatives, making this a very happy occasion.

SEDEGWICK TOPS

On November 14, 25 members of Sedgewick Tops weighed in. Twelve stayed for the meeting including one gentleman. There was a loss of 84 lbs. and a gain of 6 lbs and 3 pounds.

Queen of the week Briget D. Pre-teen Diana Mae. There are 12 K.I.W. members, Buck P. and Hedron N. One new member joined Lila E. Eleanor Twy-ty gave a humorous reading.

Happenings at Central

Have you heard anything lately about what's happening at Sedgewick Central High School? Not Well, listen.

The Rams football team finished off the season in the semi-finals. Plans have been made for the annual banquet. Their coach and former teacher, Mr. Dave Tanton is largely responsible for the team's success. Determination and enthusiasm this year.

The Rams and Lame basketball teams are just getting underway with practices. Their coach, Mr. V. Meier has plans for a very successful season (the provincial).

It seems the Central Volleyball teams have had a good season. And if you haven't heard, the Cross Country team came back from Provincials in Grande Prairie.

So quite a bit is going on at Central these days. More to follow later... stay tuned.

Sedgewick

We want to welcome back to Sedgewick Mr. and Mrs. Ken Abolder and daughters who have taken up residence in the former Jack Sparrow home. The community has been saddened by the death of Mr. Broadfoot. In his early nineties at the time of his passing, Mr. Broadfoot and his parents were among the early pioneer farmers in the area.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson (formerly Linda R. Johnson) who were married at St. John's Anglican Church on Saturday. Quite a number of Sedgewick folks enjoyed the open house and dance, which took place in Loughheed.

Miss Ceci Moffat has returned from a two-week visit with relatives in Nova Scotia, and is again hard at work at Killam Hospital. Apparently, plenty of night duty has been saved for her.

Work is now progressing well on the long-awaited garage at the Anglican rectory. If all goes according to plan, it should be ready to shelter Rev. Conrad's car before the snow arrives.

Get well wishes to Killam Hospital patients Mrs. Lind-belle, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Ruby Partridge, Mr. Herb Freeman, and your independent reporter, Mrs. Betty Walsh. Tiny Stanley Newworthy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Newworthy, was baptized Sunday afternoon. Afterwards, a number of friends gathered at the Newworthy home to mark the occasion with a wine and cheese party.

The community is pleased to see the reopening under new management of the restaurant beside the Bank of Montreal. Greg and Margaret and I have already had the pleasure of sampling their menu.

Sorry the news is so brief this week, but my telephone hasn't been exactly ringing off the wall. Please give your news to Donna Martin at 384-3551.

Loughheed Wl. meet

"Some incident pertaining to the 'war' was a very timely and interesting topic for the roll call of the November 8th meeting of the Loughheed W.I. held at the home of Mrs. H. Sturges. Twelve members and one visitor attended the meeting chaired by the president, Mrs. J. Johnson.

The following items were gleaned from the various reports given: 100 new books have been received by the Library and placed on the shelves.

• a door for the library has been donated and installed by Mr. H. Probst.

• a $100 grant is obtainable from the Loughheed Recreation Society to be used for something pertaining to the Library, other than books. It was suggested that a door should be purchased for the use of the kindergarten class when they visit the Library for their story reading period.

Mrs. J. McMenamin is to obtain information on that at the workshop for the retarded at Watskwin.

• a decision was made that anyone using a library book be asked either to but another one, or be charged for replacement. A copy of "Vardant Valley in and Around Loughheed" will be sent to the W.I. Headquarters in Edmonton to be placed in the library showcase there.

• a workshop to be held in Watskwin on Nov. 22, 23, 24. Expenses will be paid for 2 delegates from each Branch.

Mrs. W. Patterson and Mrs. H. Probst hope to attend.

Hardisty and District

The United Church was so packed for Patricia Harrison's and Rick Berger's wedding that some of the close relatives were unable to get in.

It was told by the minister who should know, that it was a very pretty wedding, a candle light one, and I'm sure that the communities of both couples wish them the best.

Your reporter is going to canoe home for a grandson in Cape Horn as the news this week is aware.

St. Marks Women's Guild met at the home of Mrs. Barb Davidson on Thursday evening. Devotions were led by the hostess. A very satisfactory report was given on the Kildon-Don afghan, showing a good sum realized. This was won by Mrs. Doris Blamser of Lloydminster, a daughter of Mrs. Nettie Johnson.

It was reported that sympathy cards had been sent to the Tamm family.

No major activities are planned for the winter months, but regular meetings will be held. The meeting closed with prayer and the hostess served a lovely lunch.

HARDISTY SOCIAL CLUB

Saturday, November 12, was a busy day for members of the Social Club. In the afternoon a bake sale and tea was held in the Drop-In Centre, which had a splendid turnout. A novelty table was also featured, offering many bargains. A fruit cake was raffled, and won by Mrs. Helene Busk. Tickets were also on sale on a beautiful quilted bedspread, donated by Mrs. Bee Elm, and quilted by members of the club. There has been no date set for a draw on this but tickets will be available through the next few months.

In the evening the regular card party was held with four tables of whist in play. Winners were: Ladies Int. Barb Matthews, Ladies Consolation Alvin Parsons, Gent's Int. Ed Manning, Gent's Cons. Lloyd Graver. The club thanks all who helped and donated in these projects.

HARDISTY LEGION AUX.

The November meeting of the Legion Auxiliary was held in the Hut on Monday at 2:00 p.m. with a very good turnout of members and one guest, Miss Lil Grainger, from the Camrose branch. The report on the tea and bake sale showed most satisfactory results, the briefed on the spot reports being most popular. Members were reminded to bring cookies for lunch after the Remembrance Day Service.

Mrs. Krozier, Matthews and P. McChie were appointed as a nominating committee, as December will see the election of officers. The secretary was instructed to write the District Commander, Alison Barker, inviting her to visit us in January for installation of officers.

Following adjournment, lunch was enjoyed by all.

SUNSHINE CLUB REPORT

The November meeting was held at the home of Marguerite Dwyer with 12 members and 5 visitors present. Several pairs of slippers and some housecoats were turned in for the hospital.

$62.50 was handed in from the members, money they had made themselves for the club. A card of thanks from the Meta family was read and thanks go to them for the kind donation. We were glad to help out. And Thanks go to the Gretia Ladies for all their help.

Mrs. Meta will be sadly missed by everyone. She was a wonderful member in our club.

Mrs. Nellie Scott drew the lucky ticket for the afghan we raffled and Mrs. Pat Hansen of Hardisty was the winner. Miss Karen Kells and Mabel Perth won the housecoats and Bee Elm the extra raffie. The next meeting is Dec. 7th at Betty Kells with exchange of gifts. Everyone is to wear a Christmas hat. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess and helpers.

Nazarene Church news

The week of special services with Rev. Leslie Jeter, is over. It was a time of spiritual help and refreshing for many. We do say a big thank you to Rev. Jeter for his ministry.

The new paragonage is showing real signs of progress. With the outside walls up and windows installed, the work can go ahead on the inside, even though the weather cools off. Sympathy is extended to Grace Bost and family in the passing of mother, Janice Fredrick. We would also express our sympathy to Bill Fredrick and all families who mourn the passing of this loved one.

Congratulations to Larry Merits and his wife Penny, who are the Uncle and Aunt of a big new baby boy born to Ruth and Joe Wallner. This young fellow weighed 9 lbs. 8½ oz. at birth.

Services will be held at the church on Wednesday night and Sunday as usual. All are welcome. And on Friday night Carvass will be on again.

MANITO MANOR
The new 12-unit Manito Manor project is being built on the site of the old Manito Manor. The new building will be a long-awaited matrimonial property plan.

Mr. Harry Anderson
M.L.A., Sedgewick-Camrose

MANOR OPENS — A housing project for Senior Citizens was officially opened in Killam on Thursday, November 10th. The residence named Manito Manor was presented with a replica of the "Manito Manor" by Shirlene Chevraux, who has spent much time and effort tracing the history of the artifact.

The unveiling of a plaque was capably handled by the Hon. Wm. Yuko, Minister of Housing and Henry Krowg, local M.L.A. A number of dignitaries were on hand and presented their addresses.

Rev. R. Nieuwenhuis gave invocation which was preceded by a vocal blessing titled "Bless This House" by Harry Anderson.

After a luncheon on behalf of the residents of the new residence thanked all who had contributed to bring about the building of Manito Manor.

Hardisty Volunteers
The lounge at the Hardisty General Hospital was the scene of the graduation of the 1977 class of volunteers on Sunday evening, November 20th. This event is sponsored by the Hardisty Hospital Auxiliary and its vice-president Mrs. D. Cahill welcomed the volunteers, their parents, Mr. Maureen Obholter, Dr. Cahill and members of the Auxiliary.

The volunteers were introduced and Mrs. Cahill explained the role of the Auxiliary, offering thanks to all those who had worked towards the graduation. She also mentioned that the Auxiliary offers an annual bursary to any volunteer who enters her second year of further education in hospital work. The instructress this year was Marilyn Manning, an R.N. now working in the hospital, who herself had participated and graduated from the volunteer program in Hardisty.

Important discussions for farmer's meeting

At a series of farm forums to be held throughout the province this fall, agricultural producers will be asked how high "Crow" freight rates on grain should go.

The question, one of a number with far-reaching impact on the future of Alberta Agriculture, will be discussed at a Uniform forum to be held at Sedgewick on November 28.

Uniform, Alberta's largest farm organization, is conducting forums in most of its 67 districts during October, November and early December. Producer input obtained at the series of meetings will be used in guiding the organization in its efforts to advance the cause of the agricultural industry.

All farmers and ranchers, members and non-members alike, are invited to attend and participate in the forum at Sedgewick.

The forum at Sedgewick will provide an opportunity for area producers to pose questions to senior officials and take an active part in discussion of current agricultural concerns.

Majority opinion, expressed in resolution form, will be forwarded to the annual provincial convention for debate and consideration in policy changes.

Local representatives of commodity groups and co-operatives have also been invited to attend and participate along with all producers who are concerned with the future of their industry.

The southern Alberta appeal was unsuccessful for a share in a family ranch up to the Supreme Court of Canada. She lost on the grounds that her "wived" normal contributions cannot be awarded in dollars or cents.

Promises behind the legislation are as old as the Conservative administration. In 1971, the year the institute study was commissioned, the party accepted a challenge to ensure equal protection and rights for women.

While Foster's rules continue to await the debate, the Conservative administration in 1971, the year the institute study was commissioned, the party accepted a challenge to ensure equal protection and rights for women.

The amendments, to be proclaimed in force by the cabinet, let courts grant a former spouse wages over long periods. Income from lending can be diverted. Binding claims can be filed against titles to real estate.

Not interested in fishing, hiking and other outdoor sports, said Figure Skater.

COME ALIVE

By Curtis Johnson
Merna Seventh Day Adventist

To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the sun: Ecclesiastes 3:1. If there is ever to be a time when a change is needed, now is that time. Man's trend is to destruction, now is the time to correct the flight path. A think clean program is part of the answer. Every person is concerned, and all agree that vice, crime, filth, pollution and political incompetency have reached the destructive level. Terrorism has reached a point that will effect every mass freedom. If the necessary steps are taken to control it. The world has reached a dividing of the way, and to say the world has forgotten the way who said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life" John 14:6.

Statistics give credit to the drinking drivers for 90% of all auto accidents. Is booze to be allowed to continue its campaign of killing and crippling of young and old? Is it not time to rethink our position, that is if the brain is able after so many years of habitual alcoholism. What has caused the mad binge we find the world today? Certainly the evil and the vice we behold is not the causative factor, rather the result of an even greater sickness. God does not regard all sin as of equal magnitude; there are degrees of guilt in His estimation, as well as in that of man; but however trifling the sin that wrong act may seem in the eyes of men, no sin is small in the sight of God. Man's judgment is partial, imperfect; but God estimates all things as they really are. The drunkard is despised and is told that his sin will exclude him from heaven; while pride, selfishness, and covetousness too often go unrebuked. But there are sins that are especially offensive to God; for they are contrary to the benevolence of His character, to that unselfish love which is the very atmosphere of the unfallen universe. He who falls into some of the grosser sins may feel a sense of his shame and poverty and his need of the grace of Christ, but pride feels no need, and so it closes the heart against Christ and the infinite blessings he came to give.

If you see your selfishness, do not wait to make yourself better. Do not try to become better through your own efforts. "Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots? then may you also do good, that are accustomed to do evil" Jeremiah 13:23. There is help for us only in God. We must not wait for stronger persuasions, for better opportunities, or for better temper. We can do nothing of ourselves. We must come to Christ just as we are.

mer, Mrs. Linda Spiller, Paul Gable, Glen Brunes, Mrs. Susan McLevitt, Mrs. Ken Lohr, Holly Meland and Mrs. Kay Esholter. The door prize winners were: Fruit Basket — Mrs. Lois Erickson of Sedgewick, Electric Clock went to Meri-deth Clapton of Daysland.

Town of Daysland council minutes

The regular monthly meeting of the Daysland Town Council met on Tuesday evening, November 8, 1977. Present were: His Worship, Mayor Stan Lasek and Councillors, Danberg, Beatty, Larsen, Dickson, Shank, and Wittenberg. Council was informed of the absence of the Town Administrator, Mr. Arvi Crumley, who, for reasons of family crisis, shall be in England for several weeks.

Yvonne Twardon of the KILLAM R.C.M.P. Detachment met with the new Council and discussed problem areas in policing and the maintenance of Law and order. The citizens of the community are urged to assist the Police by reporting infractions.

The citizens should make note and write down for exact reference, the time, date, place, licence plate number and/or any other pertinent information when reporting a violation of the law. The R.C.M.P. officer stated that more active citizen involvement will diminish the problems of speeding, stunting and careless driving as well as vandalism and other community disturbances.

A correction is required concerning last month's report on the issue of dogs. The report should read that "one dog has died" and not, as was printed "one dog has been shot by persons unknown."

There was considerable discussion about the use and abuse of the Town of Daysland Garbage Disposal area. Council is of the opinion that the general public is unaware of the high cost of providing and maintaining this facility such that it meet the requirements of the town's residents and abides with Environmental Regulations Standards. In order to keep this expenditure within range of this year's estimated costs, the Garbage Disposal facility will continue to be limited to the use of town residents only.

Council was made aware of some comment concerning the chlorine flavour imparted to the Town's water supply by the use of the new chlorination system to purify the water.

The October 19, 1977 Fluoridation Plebiscite was defeated by a vote of 92-90.

Preventative Social Services is presently engaged in the development of a program of social and support services for mentally handicapped children. Interested individuals are directed to contact P.B.S. Direct at 385-3532.

Council, under the direction of Mayor Lasek, is continuing to assist the children request for a joint Lodge/Nursing home facility with Housing Minister Yurko and Hospital Services Minister Ministry.

Council approved a motion to advertise as "For Sale by Tender" second tractor presently owned by the Town.

Council approved a motion stating as general policy that the Town shall, wherever possible, protect and preserve natural tree growth.

Keeping In Touch

NOW THE GOOD NEWS

Throughout the period from 1970 to 1973 there was an extensive construction of rural natural gas pipelines. This initiative, similar to the program of rural electrification in earlier years, was to bring natural gas to many farm homes and out-buildings throughout the Province of Alberta.

It was with considerable dismay and sense of distrust that many farmers, after receiving verbal assurance from some staff members at Revenue Canada that their contributions to the basic line would be tax deductible, only to learn that in the final analysis Revenue Canada refused to accept those expenses for taxation purposes.

This problem was first brought to my attention by the Provost Natural Gas Coop shortly after my election in 1974. Since then it has been a long and continuous battle that involved numerous meetings with staff members in the Department of Finance, Revenue Canada, and various farm organizations.

I trust that all farmers have been made aware via their local media that the efforts of a great number of people working on their behalf have culminated in success. In a letter dated October 13, 1977 to Mr. Brownlie Fyett, Barrister and Solicitor in Edmonton, Alberta, J.R. Robinson, Director of the Rulings Division, Legislation Branch, wrote in part of the following, "I am however persuaded to adopt your view of this matter..." and later added "accordingly, I accept your view that the payment was made by Mr. Brantner for the purpose of making a service connection to his place of business and is therefore deductible under paragraph 30 (1) (ee)".

In short, after three and one-half years of negotiations, a precedence has been set whereby farmers ought to be able to consider the cost of connection to a co-operative utility as a deduction from income.

While this has been a long and intensive project it is one that has certainly brought me considerable personal satisfaction.

In a recent letter from Elmer Allen, P. Ag. Research Economist, Edmonton, to myself, he stated "I would also like to take this opportunity to thank you for your dedicated involvement over the past three years in this problem. There is no doubt in my mind that political persuasion tipped the decision in our favour".

In spite of those kind comments from Mr. Allen I would not in any way want to assume full credit for this favourable decision on behalf of the farmers. Rather I would like to see it as an example of what can happen when farm citizens groups, farm organizations, elected representatives, and legal counsel work together in a concerted effort over a period of time to obtain a goal for which they ultimately feel is justified. Many people have been involved in this project and the final success has been the result of close co-operation amongst many people. This is a perfect example of the need for interdependence when trying to achieve the maximum results by keeping in touch.

A circle or a ring?

As I was looking through the dictionary one day I came upon the word "circle," definition - ring. That started me thinking. If they have the same meaning then why don't we substitute one for the other in every place? After giving this some thought I decided to see just how these two words are used in our every day conversation.

I discovered that a Family Circle is a magazine as well as a group of relatives.

We say habitub ring - but a habitub circle?

When canning fruits and vegetables we use rubber rings to seal the jars.

There are "face-off" circles in hockey, and in baseball we have "On Deck" circles.

A teaching ring definitely can't be a teaching circle.

Do we say ring around the moon and sun, or is that a circle?

What about dark circles under the eyes?

In square-dancing we all join hands and circle either to the left or right.

In cooking we make onion rings and also rings of sausage.

Geese will circle around before alighting.

Who hasn't heard of a ring around the collar?

In the far north we have the Arctic Circle.

We are all familiar with the Traffic circles and the Drug rings.

At school the teacher rings the bell. Sometimes we make the remark, "That rings a bell," meaning suddenly we remember something.

Who hasn't heard of those dreaded "Fairy rings" on the lawns?

In geometry there are concentric circles.

Key rings are carried by most of us.

Sometimes we place our chairs so we can sit in a circle.

Then there are the wrestling and boxing rings.

We wear rings on our fingers.

At auctions animals are led into the ring where they are on display while being sold to the highest bidder.

Going to the phone we quite commonly say, "We will give someone a ring."

Children play the game of "Ring around the Rosey" when they join hands and skip around in a circle.

A ring is placed in the nose of a bull for safer handling.

A circle of bark is cut from around the trunk of a tree.

We say "Ring in the New Year."

A ring is used in making maracas.

Some folks are very clever at blowing smoke rings.

Planes circle the airport before landing.

There is an expression "Throw ones hat in the ring", also to "run rings around someone"

The orbit of a heavenly body is called a circle.

Those lucky enough to have a maid would ring for services.

At one time, naphin rings were commonly used.

Circus rings are very popular.

I have often said, "It seems I am just running around in circles and accomplishing nothing."

To me it appears that sometimes we can use either word but the majority of the time it's impossible. What do you think?

Rebekah Lodge report

Silver Link Rebekah Lodge, met at the home of Eleanor Twedy in Sedgewick.

The meeting opened with prayer.

Visita had been made to the sick in hospital and those not feeling well, at home.

There was quite a bit of correspondence to be read and dealt with.

Our usual donation was made to the U.N. pilgrimage for youth.

The Killam Odd Fellows, asked the Rebekahs to cater to their banquet on the 19th, so a committee was appointed to plan the menu, and make the arrangements. Dorothy Felgate reported we had received our permit, to hold our Christmas food hamper raffle in the Co-op Store on November 26th, the day of our bake sale. She also reported on the District meeting which was held in Killam.

New regalia had been bought, with a donation made by the late Gladys Christensen to the Lodge. A special dedication service was held, as a memorial to Gladys, and the President of the Rebekah Assembly, assisted by Lyle, presented each officer with her new regalia. Phyllis Larsson was elected District Deputy President for the following year.

Mrs. Jessie Farquharson and daughter of Zealandia, Sask. spent a few days last week visiting with her sister, Mrs. Jeannie Baker and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Taylor have left to spend the next three months in California. A nice crowd enjoyed the St. John's A.C.W. tea, bazaar and bake sale last Saturday. Mrs. Thelma Tansie was the lucky winner of the door prize.

Hope everyone interested in drama has taken note of the meeting to be held Thursday night at Central High School in an attempt to form a drama club.

The Monte Keith family were weekend visitors to Red Deer. School children in the County of Flagstaff took a holiday on Monday while their parents went to school to meet the teachers.

Belated congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Art Falla on the occasion of their diamond wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern McPherson of Edmonton were recent Sunday guests with Kay's brother, Scotty Jack and his family.

Well, the snow has arrived and all those people who worry about having snow for Christmas should be happy. In the meantime, Margaret and I will retire to the house for the winter. Margaret hasn't yet decided what to think of the snow, but she is adamant in her dislike of the cold, and to make matters worse, she has outgrown already the snowsuit which was supposed to have fit her this year too, and maybe even next year.

Would you believe that some people really do win those fantastic lottery prizes. Jim Farquharson of Fort St. John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Farquharson, won $10,000 last week. He was one of ten persons who shared a lucky $100,000 ticket. Our congratulations, Jim. Guess it's time to go out and buy a few more tickets and try again.

Our congratulations to Miss Maureen Cheram, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Cheram, who graduated last week from the University of Alberta with a Bachelor of Education degree. Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Ian Hay of Swift Current, Sask., Mr. and Mrs. Bob Laddell of Pooka, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Mundt of Edmonton were in Sedgewick last Monday to attend the funeral of Mr. John Broadfoot.

OFFICERS INSTALLED—Don Sweeney, district deputy governor, left congratulates Jim Grant after installing him as Exalted Ruler of the Killam Elks Lodge. The joint installation ceremony took place Thursday, December 24 at Killam where officers were installed for the Strome and Killam Lodges. The usually impressive ceremony was more colorful this year when the Rosalind Patrol team assisted with the installation.

During the evening Mr. Sweeney made a presentation to past exalted ruler, Maurice Hart of the "travelling gavel" for the highest percentage of members at an inter-lodge visit.

District 4-H council elect officers

"Madame Speaker, Honorable Judges, Fellow 4-Hers, Ladies and Gentlemen. "It will soon be that time of year again, and it might be sooner than you think. Club and district speak-offs may be held earlier this year, because a provincial speak-off in Calgary is being planned.

On November 21, the Flagstaff District Council discussed this among other things, at its first meeting of the year. It was reported that Happy Face Camp, held this summer at Hardisty Lake, was a success and enjoyed by all who attended. Carol Arntzen reported that the Flagstaff 4-H Reunion had been a financial success. There are lots of souvenir programs left over if anyone would like to have one. It was decided that District Council dues would be 50 cents per member again. All clubs have elected new executives so an Executive Workshop was planned to help the new officers learn their jobs. It is tentatively planned for December 8 at 4 p.m. with sections for Presidents, Secretaries, Treasurers and Reporters. A potluck supper will be included for all attending. The executive is finalizing plans and will contact clubs. A new executive was elected for 1977-78. They are as follows: President: Carol Arntzen Vice-Pres.: Arnold Gamrah Sec.: Truss. Rosanne Hilt Reporter: Frances Davidson Regional Council Delegates: Horse: Dick Hayes Clothing: Lila Davidson Dairy: Lorraine Maria Beef: Bill Barnes Pheasant: Ron Shaw Leubervath: S. Holmberg

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, January 11 at 8:00 p.m. in the County Building in Sedgewick. All 4-H members and leaders are welcome.

The annual meeting of the Daysland and District Oldtimers Association was held in the hall Wednesday evening November 23rd with a very poor attendance. It was the 25th anniversary of the Oldtimers Association. Due to lack of interest a vote was taken on whether to continue on or disband. The vote was against the continuation of the Association. It was then decided on how to dispose of the equipment they had accumulated over the 25 years. The Christmas tree and decorations and St. Claus suit will go to the school.

A poem was read about the Association when it came into being 25 years ago, with the late Harold Cambridge as the first president and Mrs. Anna Boggess as Sec. Treas. Many happy years were had over the years in dances, card parties and sports.

The Pres. Alex Cassidie thanked everyone for their support the past two years, and the Sec. Treas. Mrs. Herb Robinson in her financial report showed the Association in poor condition.

At the close of the meeting an obsequy consisting of Mrs. Margaret Schmidt at the piano, Vernon Oloson and Doug Kent on violin, Sam Wick with his banjo and Fred Schmidt on the drums playing for dances during the early years of the Association.

This poem submitted by Margaret Schmidt gives a final ending to our Daysland and District Oldtimers Association.

Twenty five years have gone by so fast, time has changed, but don't forget the past. Our present Executive are younger you see, they are all busy as busy can be, Alex our President, who drives a school bus didn't have that much time to fume or fuss. Zenia, our Secretary, has so much to do with Junior work and Action Mart too. The rest of the Executive thanked everyone for their support the past two years, and the Sec. Treas. Mrs. Herb Robinson in her financial report showed the Association in poor condition.

Celebrate 25 years

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Hill were in Sturme. It was very exciting to see one after another of the original wedding party arrive. At last all but one were there. Lyla Eddy, from Morin, now of Julie Grovet and David Brown were in Sturme. The others were Dyan Breckenridge, Arl Rawa, D. Hays, with Rosemary standing in for the missing bridemaid, Shirley Dyer, organized, Ole Johnson, soloist, and little Dorrie Somers, flower girl, now Mrs. Gordon F. Kerrigan of Rocky Mountain House. The evening was meant for dancing, but perhaps reviving old memories was the chief enjoyment. Among the many gifts received was Maynard's gift to Ann, a new engagement ring specially made to suit the diamond from her original ring, and Ann's gift to Maynard - a new wrist watch.

The children of the family set out a lovely lunch which brought the evening to a close. Relatives and guests from a distance were the chief enjoyment. Calgary, Wetaskiwin, Rocky Mountain House, Forestburg and Burnhead.

Nazarene Church

Exciting things are planned, and happening at the church. On Sunday night David and Julie Grovet and Janey Brown gave us a blessed program of music in song, and instrumental numbers. They played their marimba instruments very well, and we thank them for their program.

Children are encouraged to watch for signs and information regarding a poster contest. The idea is to "Keep Christ in Christmas" and so the poster should show this. This is sponsored by Caravan and the Sunday School.

Talking about Caravan, there are only two more meetings before Christmas. Then after our Dec. 9th meeting, there will not be another until Jan. 8th. All must work hard for the next Award Night coming up on January 20th.

It is a pleasure to note that the Grant Dufresne are enjoying the paper, and herewith the church sends special greetings to Ethel and Grant and their children. They are missed by the church. When they return from their teaching positions in Atkavik, N.W.T., there is a welcome awaiting them, and all will enjoy hearing about their life way up north.

The Christmas program is coming up - keep December 18th in mind, and plan to attend.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WRONG TREE

Early last spring it was revealed that the Alberta Motor Association had launched a $50,000 campaign to convince politicians that car seat belts should be compulsory.

In my letter to the AMA president, I agreed that seat belts do have certain merits. I then asked him why the AMA was ignoring the main cause of traffic accidents and deaths. I refer, of course, to drunken drivers. Over 50 per cent of all traffic accidents involve drivers who had been drinking.

In European countries the hazard of drunken drivers has all but been eliminated by very simple means - extended prison terms and permanent loss of driver's license.

In our society it is considered a very serious crime to take a gun and kill someone. However, let an intoxicated person drive a car down the road and kill people and what is his penalty? Why is he not held responsible for his actions? He knows the effects of alcohol before he starts to drink.

How many thousands of dollars were spent on auto safety inspection a few years back? What did it prove? What useful functions did it serve? The only people to benefit were the repair shops, not to mention the public inconvenience caused by the program.

It is true that the government receives sizeable revenue from the sale of alcohol. So, too, the auto body shops and the morgues. But what about those of us who live in constant fear of being a victim of these "protected citizens"? What about the innocent party involved in the accident?

Are we not barking up the wrong tree? How about barking up the alcohol tree and at the same time reduce traffic accidents, auto insurance rates, deaths and injuries? If this were implemented, would anyone complain about the reduced number of traffic accidents?

The attitude towards drinking drivers and seat belts by governments and auto associations could be compared to an aircraft factory saying it's not going to be concerned about building a safe plane, but what it will do is focus its attention on providing good escape doors and parachutes. Very foolish isn't it?

Hardisty and District News Items

The Royal ladies of Uniform held a very successful bazaar sale in the Elks Hall recently. The fruit cake made by Phyllis Manning was won by Laura Blue.

Your reporter returned home again on the 21st. The 16 year old grandson shot his quota of deer and was pretty pleased to have the honor of shooting a deer before his Dad, who still has to shoot his first one.

No longer are the ladies of shingles, sitting on top of Isabel Nelson's roof. Eddie Kesh, the reporter, came down while she was in Camrose and now there is a brand new roof on the building so your reporter hopes that she doesn't hear about shingles, that leak, for the rest of her life.

Melford Sampson of Moose Jaw accompanied the Perry Porelto to Camrose where they attended the wedding of their brother Guy's granddaughter and later on helped to play for the wedding dance.

The Strong Ladies Club translated themselves to a supper in Wal's dining lounge and later went to Emma Matthews home for a short meeting, to make the arrangements for their Christmas party.

Congratulations to Doris Powell on winning the Elks Jackpot bingo of $120.00 Doris must have the secret of bingo as she won it last time too.

We were very sorry to hear about the serious accident that the Bert Hills were involved in while on their way to the hospital, also improving slowly. It happened around Armistice Day. In spite of so much activity last Saturday night enough people turned up at the Drop-In Centre for 6 tables of cards.

The winners were Gladys Abbott, Thelma Fisher, Lloyd Gravett and Isabel Nelson. Two tables tied for low and the low declared were Ed and Paulette Manning, Wye Hendricks and Winnie Goodrich. The next card game will be cards while and a Christmas party.

Those lucky ones on the Lions Pool were J. Golia, Frank Granger and Dave Watkins the 3rd.

Congratulations to Evelyn Kerby on winning the Legion Masterships, the most beautiful fireplace largely made with cement and local rocks, but is a very beautiful and a piece of handiwork to be mighty proud of.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dodd of Odessa were dinner guests with Frank's sister, Isabel Nelson as were Allen and Jean Nelson as well.

Ruth Bryndahl of Alliance stopped to have a ride with Isabel Nelson and found out that her brother, Donald Alderice and his wife were in town too, so she had a chance to talk via telephone and not long distance either.

We all with the newweds, Ian Whitehead and his bride, Sharon Coates of Loughhead, the best of everything in their home in Kerrobert.

Millie (Peterson) Browncombe of Hiron, B.C. was invited to decline the invitations to the Jechells 50th anniversary as she has a very ill brother in Vancouver.

Earl Bone of Edmonton was also called to Vancouver as his brother Clifford is critically ill.

Bad and Anita Young were in Camrose on Saturday to attend the opening of the new Vikings Cultural Centre. Their daughter Phyllis Smith was the recipient of one of the Alberta pins, presented by the Minister of Culture, Hon. Ernst Schmidt, for her efforts as chairman of the "Opening Ceremonies Committee."

Everyone buying tickets on the Grey Cup Pool and of course hoping they'd have the right score, so those with the right score on the Hardisty Figure Skating Club were Jean Rombough with the final score, Owen Baumgartner, 2nd Mike Baumgartner, 3rd and Dave Watkins the 3rd.

Merna 4-Her to Agriculture To Judge

Congratulations to Mrs. Debbie Quast of Lougheed for being selected to represent Alberta on the first annual Canadian Westerns Judging Competition. Debbie was one of the winners of the Senior Judging contest at Sedgewick Agri-fairs this year.

Debbie was sent to Agriculture in Regina to represent the horse section. Four provinces, Sask., Alberta, B.C. and Manitoba sent eight 4-H judges to judge a total of 10 classes consisting of Beef, Dairy, Horse, Sheep, and Swine. Debbie placed first in sheep, third in horse and fifth over all. Alberta won the overall competition plus Beef, Dairy, Swine and Sheep. So once again congratulations.

Alberta's juveniles, going wild?

LEGISLATIVE REPORT
Alberta faces "a massive amount of juvenile misbehavior" from thieves, vandals and run-aways among its 400,000 youths, the province's justice reform tribunal has warned.

New lock-ups for dangerous delinquents, a uniform criminal age of majority of 18 for both sexes and joint family and juvenile courts are recommended by the Alberta Board of Juvenile Justice.

But the board, under Alberta Supreme Court Justice W.J. C. Kirby, does not believe that the police and the courts can prevent or control delinquency. Efforts by other social agencies are requested.

Criminal activity likely peaks between the ages of 15 - 20 so the system can be established "essentially a holding operation waiting for juveniles to grow up."

The board's report, The Juvenile Justice System in Alberta, is the third since it was set up in 1973. Previous reviews have led to reforms of inequities and the provincial criminal code.

Board member Max Wyman, chairman of the Alberta Human Rights Commission, prepared a separate report warning that Ottawa and the provinces should enact new juvenile delinquency codes.

Wyman says the system should present to youth "the picture of a stern judge meting out justice in accord with a rigid code of law." He warns against "the present picture of a parental figure placing a protective arm around the offending boy or girl and giving sage advice."

Under tribunal proposals, offenders would be considered juveniles aged 10 through 15. The present rules which make boys adults at 16 while women remain juveniles until 18 should be dropped.

Hardisty couple married 50 years

Mr. and Mrs. George Jackel celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in the Elks Hall on Sunday, November 27th, 1977. Mr. Jackel came from England to the Amisk area where he first worked for Alex Seight, Mary Peddicord's partner.

Mrs. Jackel, then Emma McDaniel, came from Minnesota with her parents at the age of four.

Her brother Leo said that he was the oldest and would lead the way in the winter, the others following one by one behind, to make a good path the 8 miles to Naughtondale school.

The Jackels were married in Wilmer, B.C. on Nov. 27th, 1927 and in April 1928 they returned to the Hardisty, Amisk area where they started farming and lived on the farm till their retirement to Hardisty in 1967. They have a family of 8.

CONNECTION — The December calendar in last week's issue listed the Seventh Day Adventist Church at Merna concert incorrectly. The correct date is Tuesday, December 20th with the orchestra starting at 7:30 p.m. and the program to follow.

Separate family and juvenile courts would be established with power to lock away offenders considered dangerous for up to three years. At least four new, secure institutions holding about 25 inmates each would be built in Calgary, Edmonton and possibly Red Deer.

But the board says few cases are led or violent enough about 100 to 150 - to justify lengthy incarceration. Most juvenile offences are found to be relatively minor crimes which are not organized or repeated.

"Treatment" facilities such as a Youth Development Center in Edmonton, a reform school offering extensive rehabilitation programs, should be developed across the province, the board says.

Post Office holiday hours

The Sedgewick Post Office will be open this Saturday to facilitate patrons. The wicket will be open 8:30 to 12 noon and from 1:00 to 5:30 p.m. Please note however that mail will be dispatched at 3:00 p.m.

MORE PRECIOUS

The search for gold has gone on for many years. Man has sought for it, fought for it, killed and died for it, but still the search goes on. Although he may possess all that this world could offer, man never stops searching for something more.

It was a shocking tragedy when the world heard of the suicidal death of Freddie Prinze, a twenty-two year old T.V. star; a man who in the eyes of the world had everything, health, wealth and fame. Yes, just about everything, but something was missing.

Man looks on the abundance of what he possesses. We speculate and put our hope and trust in material things and forget about the eternal. Too often one waits until life is just about over before thinking about spiritual matters. If man would put his hope and trust in spiritual values rather than material gain, life would become more meaningful.

The Bible says in 1 Corinthians 13:13, "And now abideth faith, hope, love, these three..." Faith abides, hope abides, love abides. Other values may perish but these remain forever. The God of the Bible is the one who commands hope. He wills that man would look to him for the meaning in life. Man's only hope is in God and His Son Jesus Christ.

Hope is deep in much of the world today, but man has hope, a living hope, if he would believe in the living Christ and make him Lord and Savior of his life, for in Him is life. "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16.

Christ not only promises eternal life in heaven but also provides abundant life on earth. The way out of a man's dilemma is not the way of Freddie Prinze, nor is it through the accumulation of material wealth. Man's only hope is in Jesus Christ for He is more precious than gold.

FARMING AND FOOD

The farm scene has generally been economically bleak - in one respect or another - for the past 4 or 5 years. Recent information from Statistics Canada indicates that farm cash receipts decreased 140 million dollars or 20 per cent in 1976. It is anticipated that there will be a further decline of 10 per cent in 1977. Across the last year and a half, while gross income for Canadian farmers have increased by 2 per cent, input costs have increased by 40 per cent. In effect, that means that the farmers have had a net decrease of 38 per cent... could you imagine the postal unions bargaining for a 38 per cent increase!

A 100-horse power tractor in 1972 cost $9,000.00; the same tractor four years later retailed at $20,000. Likewise, a 1972 combine priced at $15,000.00 sold four years later for $30,000.

Peter Hannan, President of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture has calculated that the total savings for each Canadian farmer per day would be only 28 cents if Canadian farmers gave all of their produce away. As another example, a hypothetical 25 cent loaf of bread would still cost 23.5 cents if a farmer gave his wheat away. The major costs of food at the supermarket are assumed by non-farmer labour, processing, packaging, manufacturing equipment and transport.

Canada, however, treats agriculture with unusual disdain. In the United Kingdom 67 per cent of a farmer's net income is derived from public support; in France it is 80 per cent; in the United States it is 17 per cent.

and in Canada it is 1.7 per cent. According to Senator Harry Hayes, Canada has the lowest support for agriculture of the western culture nations with the exception of Denmark.

I would not so easily advocate that the Federal government embark on a program of massive subsidization for farm net income, but I do believe that they have a very important responsibility for accelerating the amount of public support in the area of research and marketing. It is well known that while our research institutions are of excellent quality, we spend less than 1 per cent on our agricultural value on research and marketing as compared with 15 and 20 per cent on other major industries.

ANTI-INFLATION PROGRAM NOTICE

The Alberta Government announced on November 9, 1977 that it will not extend the Alberta Temporary Anti-Inflation Measures Act and the Alberta-Canada Anti-Inflation Agreement beyond their expiry date at the end of this year. (In October 1975, Alberta had agreed to apply the federal Anti-Inflation Act and national guidelines to the Province's public sector.)

The following public sector organizations and their employees will be among those affected by this decision not to extend the Province's participation in the federal anti-inflation program:

- departments, boards, agencies, and corporations of the provincial government.
- municipal governments, including cities, towns, villages, municipalities, and counties.
- other public bodies performing a function of government in the province, including school boards and school districts - public and separate, drainage districts, irrigation districts, hospital districts, health units, regional and municipal planning commissions, public libraries, police commissions, public transit systems, and public parking authorities.
- universities, colleges, and institutions of technology.
- hospitals and nursing homes.

Although this policy change takes effect December 31, 1977, not all Alberta public sector groups will be removed from anti-inflation controls at the same time. The dates of removal will in fact coincide with the end of "guideline years", as defined by the federal anti-inflation regulations. Following are three examples:

- If the guideline year for an Alberta public sector group ends on March 31, 1978, members of that group must adhere to the anti-inflation program until that date. Their new agreement or compensation plan, effective April 1, 1978, will not be subject to the anti-inflation program.
- If a guideline year ends on December 31, 1977, the parties involved are subject to the controls program until that date. The new agreement or compensation plan beginning on January 1, 1978 will not be subject to the anti-inflation program.
- If a guideline year began on October 1, 1977, the parties involved are subject to the anti-inflation program until September 30, 1978.

This provincial government decision does not apply to private sector employers and employees in Alberta.

FACTORS INVOLVED IN SELECTING TOYS FOR CHRISTMAS

The following is an article written by Nadine Vester, Family Living Specialist with Alberta Agriculture.
Christmas! What should I buy for Jason? Television abundantly with toy commercials, but which ones should I buy?
Should I get the one Jason is continuously asking for? Will it still be in one piece by Boxing Day? Will Jason be tired of it by Christmas night? Decisions!
Decisions!

Let us look at some factors that affect our decisions. First, anything a person plays with can be called a toy. Tom Sawyer defines work and play as:
"Work consists of whatever a body is obliged to do... play consists of whatever a body is not obliged to do." Yes, adults have toys too! skills, model airplanes, fishing equipment, guns, books and snowmobiles.
The list could go on and on.
Second, we should examine our own motives in wanting to buy a certain gift. Sometimes, we are responding to our own memories. Think of the mother who, after yearning for years for an elaborate doll, buys one for her two year old daughter.

The child mimes the doll, and the mother smiles. Would it not have been less confusing for the child, and less frustrating for mother and daughter, if mother had simply asked Santa for a doll for herself? Some adults collect them. Does Dad want to buy his toddler an electric train? For whom? There is no law against adults satisfying the "little kid" that still lives inside them when they write their own letters to Santa!

Third, toys can aid physical development and provide sensory experience - taste, smell, feel, feeling and hearing. Forth, toys can teach a child about the world, and they can help him learn about location, number, size relationships, color and more. Fifth, toys can stimulate the imagination, and encourage a child to imitate and practice adult roles. Let us not forget the most important function of toys - they should be fun!
Here are some questions we should be asking before we select a toy:
*Is it safe? Any sharp corners?
Are the pieces so small they can be swallowed? Any buttons or adult supervision? eyes to come off? Will it require

*Is it appropriate for the child's age? Can he operate it on his own? (You will get pretty tired of winding up that mouse for your toddler! Will he find it interesting? Can it be used in a variety of ways? Will it disintegrate under normal use?

It is probably important to buy one totally impractical item, if the child yearns for it, and if you can afford it. He needs to know that Santa does read his letters, and that his wishes count. It is also important for you to know that your child can live with disappointment, and that you do not have to feel guilty about not getting all the items on his list. Most people are too sensible, and too poor, to buy an electric train, a steam engine, a full set of Lego, skis, skates, a mini bike, a piece of real estate, a Corvette and Farrah Fawcett Major! The Canadian Toy Testing Committee (P.O. Box 6014, Station 5, Ottawa, Ontario, K1P 5Z7) is a voluntary organization which will provide recommendations on gifts and toys if you send them a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

HUGH

HUGH COFFIN OF NORTHWESTERN UTILITIES HAS SOME TIPS ON HOW TO MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR HOME HEATING THIS WINTER.

Hugh Coffin, Senior Utilization Engineer

From the moment heat is generated in the home, it tries to escape to the colder air outside.

To prevent heat loss, make sure the insulation in your house is adequate. Insulation is sold by its thermal resistance or "R" value. The recommended rating for ceilings in northern Alberta homes is about R14. However, in new homes being financed under the National Housing Act, an R34 rating is required.

Also check the weather stripping in doors, windows and other heat-escape routes. But do not make your home completely airtight because a fresh air supply is necessary to allow gas burning appliances to operate safely and efficiently.

For more energy saving tips, pick up a copy of our pamphlet "CONFUSED ABOUT INSULATION?" at your nearest gas company office. If you have the will, we have the ways to help you use energy wisely.

Funeral services for Robert Laird Tanton were held at St. John's Anglican Church at Sedgewick on Wed., November 9, 1977 with Rev. Conrad officiating.

On November 3 Laird had an unfortunate fire in his motor home from which he was rushed to the University Hospital. On November 5 he passed away in the University Hospital as a result of smoke inhalation from the fire.

Rev. and Sons Funeral Home was in charge of the funeral and interment was made at Sedgewick Cemetery.

Mrs. Kay Routledge played the organ for the funeral and Harry Anderson sang Laird's favorite hymn "The Lord's Prayer". A combined choir sang.

pallbearers were Messrs. Alex Farquharson, Bill Martin, Ed Simons, Donald Sparrow, Norm Ross and Henry Lien.

Robert Laird Tanton was born June 2, 1915 in Sedgewick. He received his education in Sedgewick where he spent his childhood years. He was a confirmed member of the Anglican Church.

He was united in marriage to Thelma Betty Annetta Langran on March 5, 1941. He and Thelma settled in the Lougheed District where they farmed and raised their five children, Ronald, Lloyd and David of Sedgewick, Mrs. Marilyn Tutin of C. Climas, Saskatchewan and Mrs. Joyce Bradley of Lougheed.

Laird participated in many and was an avid supporter of all local sports.

In early years Laird served on Municipal Council for 6 years.

In 1967 the Tantons retired from farming and moved to the Lougheed where he served on Town Council and the Battle River Planning Commission for three years.

In later years they built a retirement home in Arizona City, Arizona, U.S.A. where he and Thelma spent their winter months. They enjoyed many of these later years in travel throughout the United States, Australia, New Zealand and Fiji.

Laird was predeceased by his father George in 1969, his mother Janet in 1960, his brother George in 1976 and a son Lloyd on October 27, 1977.

He is survived by his loving wife Thelma, and four of their children, Ronald, David, Marilyn and Joyce and eleven grandchildren. Also two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Gower of White Rock, B.C. and Mrs. Joyce King of Portage La Prairie and one brother Tom of Grande Prairie. An absent friend gives us friendly company when we are well assured of his happiness.

CARD OF THANKS

So many friends we have indeed. You've all helped us in our need. The courage and the will to meet each day since two of our loved ones were taken away. First we must thank our family for their added strength.

Rev. Conrad and Doreen for showing us the way in our darkest moments, to their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Brown for giving us their home in the early morning hours to renew our strength for another day and the lovely brunch, thank you Terry. Also to Mr. Brady who got up to find the car for the trip in those early morning hours. To all relatives, neighbors and friends; for messages of sympathy, flowers, memorials and for donations of food which were so much appreciated by us. All with a mother in all thumbs, these meals all ready to eat were heaven sent. To Ed and Mary Simons, Ardis Gold and Ardis Blount for special help. To Jimmy Walsh for his help, Harry An-derdon for his song, Mrs. Rusty and the choir. To the Pallbearers. To the Sedgewick Curling Club for supplying lunch, to relatives and A.C.W. for writing in. To Dr. Meier for being on call when needed. Your kindness to us all will always be remembered.

IN MEMORIAM

FELZIEN — In loving memory of my husband, father and grandfather, Henry Felzien, who passed away December 7,

His weary hours and days of pain
His troubled nights are past
And in our aching hearts we know
He has found sweet rest at last
His charming ways and smiling face

Are a pleasure to recall
He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
Always remembered and adly missed by loving wife and

Hardisty and District

The Hockey Season is once again in full swing. The Killam Indians were the guests of the Hardisty Stammers. Saturday, December 3rd, in spite of the very cold and miserable weather, a small crowd of 20 people showed up to cheer on their teams. Hardisty Stammers were victorious, beating the Killam Indians with a score of 5 to 1.

A few friends called on Mrs. Nettie Johnston last Friday to wish her well on her special birthday. One surprise was when her daughter Beatrice and husband from Camrose called for a little while as she did not expect them that day at all. Joe Johnston visited with his son Randy, Debbie and family at Rocky Mountain House recently. Randy has moved a house into Rocky and is renovating it so Joe gave him a helping hand.

We wish to extend our sympathy to the Lear family in the passing away of their son George in a car accident, also to sisters Dorothy and Mary. When we saw Bob Dreyer's tractor we rejoice with him that he wasn't very seriously hurt, but it was a miracle he got out of there alive.

On November 27 Mr. Edith Bitter entertained her brother Ken Johnson, his wife Mary and two daughters of Stettin, Sister Doris Blise, her husband Oscar and their two daughters, Marilyn and Gloria, with Gloria's two children, all to honor Edith's mother, Mrs. Nettie Johnston on her "Special" birthday. So there were 4 generations at that celebration.

Harry Johnston of Blairmore had wished his mother many happy returns via telephone. Altho Saturday was such a stormy day, quite a number attended the U.C.W. bake sale and bazaar.

We were most happy to see Bill and Jean Gerald attending. Bill used to work for I.P.I., then was moved to Edmonton and is now relocated in Prosser. Their family of two boys and a girl are almost grown up.

They too enjoyed a trip to P.E.I. this last summer. I believe.

A few from Hardisty attended the Lions bingo in Hughenden last Friday but Doris Powell and Eddie Manning were the only ones to bring home "the bacon" instead of the turkeys.

To top off the Jackal's anniversary, George's sister from England planned them on Sunday, December 4th and asked for a piece of cake, after extending her greetings to them. So that was a wonderful surprise, a nice ending to such a happy occasion.

TALK IT OVER WITH GORDON

Whenever the weather is nice and balmy, I like to think that the Gov't should take credit for it. But I don't know what happened to the last few days - you won't believe this but my zone got from bitter Sunday evening doing the chow and on top of that I have been flat on my back for 2 1/2 days with the stomach flu. But nothing's so bad that it hasn't come good of it. And the good was, one of Ardel's cats got run over on the highway.

'As to the Constituency, I have been receiving quite a number of phone calls from farmers worried about the large zone deer shot this fall and especially the open female deer season, and of course the lack of respect to private property when it comes to trespassing. Last year I asked the Edberg Uniform to set up a local meeting with the Wildlife Biologist from Red Deer, the Camrose Fish and Game Assoc. and the property owners along each side of Dried Meat Lake and Battle River. And all parties agreed at this meeting to a game management unit about a mile back from the water at the Edberg bridge to the west boundary of the Camrose County. As a matter of fact, a committee was set up to work with the Dept. of Wildlife in setting up these boundaries. This game management unit would only be open to hunting for a one day season and would be highly supervised if the deer population reached the maximum carrying capacity of their range. The drawback to a management zone is the limited number of licenses are issued and in a provincial wide draw. So technically, a land owner living within the game unit or residing near by would have to depend on the luck of the draw for a license. Anyway after being promised this game zone for this fall, it never came about. I suspect some of our educated Wildlife Biologists couldn't see any merit in protecting a breeding herd that could restock the surrounding area. So I am arranging a meeting with representation from all interested parties with the Minister of Recreation and Wildlife to settle this matter once and for all.

Now to meetings and events. Was at Mr. and Mrs. John McRae's 50th Wedding Anniversary in Camrose. Accompanied a delegation from Oatton to County Council to discuss a number of serious concerns over their new sewage system. Since the Dept. of Environment had contributed all funding from the IR station to the lagoon and including the lagoon, I felt I had the responsibility to get involved when the Edberg bridge to the west even at the expense of ruffling a few council feathers.

Ardel and I were at the opening of the Camrose Cultural Centre where I was asked to introduce guest speaker Horst Schmidt, Minister of Culture.

Also Ardel and I and the kids took off for a couple of days for Elkford, B.C. Ardel to visit her sister and myself to tour

C.P.R.'s Fording River coal mine. Quite an operation especially the hydraulic mining. Interesting that coal, when handled turns to dust. Looks like a poor grade coal and when shipped to Vancouver the hopper cars have to be covered with a coat of wax so it doesn't all blow away. Both Fording River and the Kaiser mine use some by product mining with mixed success. This is where a high pressure jet of water cuts away the coal. Mine Jack supports are removed as mining progresses and the roof of the mine allowed to crumble without disturbing the ground surface. Hydraulic mining would never work for Dods, Round Hill but I believe that the coal gasification experiments at Forestburg might be the answer to removing our plains coal without disturbing the surface.

Civil servants, incapable of doing job?

LEGISLATURE REPORT

Unbudding Randall Ivany may have pinpointed a serious problem faced by all levels of government in Alberta when he reported that the civil servants suffered from "general bureaucratic shortcomings."

Ivany's jurisdiction covers only the provincial public service. His findings 23 months ago of frequent delays, communication breakdowns and harshness did not extend to local officials.

The Topa Club has now shed 6000 and 4 lbs. since Feb. 25, 1976. La E. and Minnie D. were winners of the week.

Donna Mac was pre-taken. Ken D. has reached KOPR.

views well as they expand. Ivany maintained that much of the poor performance he uncovered was unavoidable. But he also found that civil servants were hard-pressed.

"There have been new programs, administrative reorganization and other unforeseen developments that over-taxed the human and technological resources available within government."

In the provincial capital, city hall has become so tangled in red tape that even its senior administrators can hardly wait to leave, according to a local survey.

Frustration, early retirement and sick leave are becoming common even among well-intentioned senior public servants.

Mushrooming bureaucracy, reorganization, new leadership and "arrogant" bosses are blamed for severe morale problems which are surfacing in Edmonton's municipal civil service.

Mixing tires could be a safety hazard

The Transportation Safety Branch of Alberta Transportation has issued a warning to Alberta drivers that the mixing of radial tires with conventional bias tires can be dangerous because of handling characteristics.

"The problem of tire mix is most serious on automobiles, pick-up trucks and vans when radial tires are mounted on the front steering axle and conventional bias or bias-belted tires on the rear axle," said Don Kuchinski, director of the Transportation Safety Branch.

"Mixing tires of different construction on the same axle is even more dangerous," he said. "Use of very wide tires on the steering axle with conventional width tires on the rear should also be avoided."

Said Mr. Kuchinski, "Motorists should keep these facts in mind now that we have come to the time of the year when winter tires are being bought or mounted. Improper tire mixes affect vehicle handling and the ability of a driver to control and could cause serious accidents."

PEACE ON EARTH
Today the world talks about peace. We read about it in our newspapers, hear about it on radio and television and talk about it as we gather together here and there. Man is not only looking for peace between nations and people but is searching for an inner peace of soul and mind.

With the Christmas season comes the emphasis of peace. Luke 2:13 and 14 says "And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying, Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will toward men."

Many people this Christmas will not have this peace which has been promised in the Word of God. Our papers will be filled with accounts of the results of fighting, hatred, bitterness, anger, loneliness, sorrow and fear. How sad, when the gift of peace is offered to everyone who will accept it — a genuine inner peace that only God can give.

The birth of Christ so many years ago was the message of peace to the world. In Him is true peace because he is the Saviour of the world. Jesus said "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you; not as the world gives unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid." John 14:27.

The account of the birth of Christ was not just a historical event, but was the unveiling of God at work in divine love to provide for the needs of mankind. Peace has been provided for all, but are all willing to accept it? Although it is a gift it will cost something, that being the giving up of self and the giving over to God.

Luke 2:10 and 11 states "Fear not for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord." Because of the birth of the Saviour, all fear can be removed and replaced with true peace. Is He your Prince of Peace this Christmas season?

KILLAM 4-H BOEF CELEB

The third meeting of the Killam 4-H Boef Club was held on December 4th at the Ken Grant home.

We decided that, together with the Sewing Club, we would entertain the Auxiliary Hospital patients on Dec. 15th. It was also announced that one of the first leaders of our club, Syd Walker, was going to be interviewed on the 4-H Clubhouse 60th anniversary Celebration on January 1st. We were told to roll out of bed early that morning and watch the next meeting of the club will be held on January 8th at the Ray Lewis home. After the meeting our Christmas party was held. We were supposed to go tobogganing, but due to cold weather we decided to have a few games and exchange our gifts inside where "Jack Frost" wouldn't be able to freeze us solid.

HOCKEY TOURNAMENT

Thirty-three receive plaques

The Dayland and District Recreation Board held a supper in honour of the 33 Dayland residents that were eligible for Dayland's 70th Anniversary Plaques. Present at the supper on November 30th, 1977 in the Community Hall were the honored guests, Town Council members, Recreation Board members and spouses. In a short speech, the Mayor, Mr. Stan Lissack commended the longevity of the honored guest. Following this, town council member, Mr. Don Dambarger presented the Recreation Board Chairperson Miss Sheila Parvaz with a silver tray. In his speech he thanked for her generous contributions, in both labour and spirit, which he felt engineered the Homecoming to the success it was. Following the supper an Open House was held in the Hall at 7:30 p.m.

USING STRAW FOR WINTER FEEDING COWS
Staw can be a useful feed for beef cows during the winter providing it is used properly, according to Ron Weisenburger, Alberta Agriculture's regional livestock supervisor at Aldred.

Mr. Weisenburger recommends assessing the condition of your cows before starting your winter feeding program. If they are in good condition, and can afford to lose some weight, you can lose low quality feeds for a large portion of the ration. If the cows are thin, and must gain weight during the winter, you will have to give them the better quality feed.

Most Alberta Herds have cows of both types, and it is a good idea to separate the two groups. Feed thin cows with first-class hay, which also need to gain weight during the winter. This avoids belying and the need to feed all cows at the higher rate which thin cows require.

After having assessed the condition of your cows, you should assess the quality and quantity of your feed. Remember that wheat straw and poor barley straw are borderline feeds compared with good quality barley straw and oat straw. A good quality straw will contain at least 4 per cent. crude protein.

You should also bear in mind that the feed requirements of pregnant cows increase gradually as the cow approaches calving, and that they increase quite dramatically after calving. Low quality feeds should be fed in early winter, and the better quality feeds saved for later use.

GUIDELINES:
A cow in good condition can be fed 5 pounds of grain or 8 pounds of a good legume-grass hay per day plus good quality straw, on a free-choice basis, from now until a month before she calves. If the straw is of poor quality, the same cow will need 5 pounds of grain or 10 pounds of a good legume-grass hay per day in addition to the straw.

This cow, first-class heifers and cows within a month of calving will need 2 or 3 pounds of grain or 10 pounds of good hay per day in addition to the ration recommended for cows in good condition.

After calving, the cows should receive good quality hay on a free-choice basis or 10 pounds of grain per day and good quality straw on a free-choice basis.

All cows should receive supplemental vitamins A and calcium-phosphorus minerals, containing equal parts of calcium and phosphorus, and cobaltized iodized salt on a free-choice basis during the winter. During cold periods when the mid-day temperature does not go above 30 degrees C, the grain or hay that the cows are receiving should be increased somewhat because they will not be able to eat more straw to fill their increased energy needs.

Are you a Snowmobiler?

If so, you may not have a clear understanding of your rights to use the Eastern Slopes of Alberta.

On July 19, the Government approved a Policy for Resource Management of the Eastern Slopes. This policy clearly states that where incompatible uses exist, they will be phased out in the future. Off-highway vehicle use (including snowmobiles) will be phased out of the prime protection zone, one of eight zones which have been established. This is the zone of high elevation, environmentally sensitive mountainous landscape noted for its majestic scenery, watershed protection qualities and prime wildlife ranges.

In three other zones (critical wildlife, special use and general recreation) off-highway vehicle use will be restricted until more detailed management plans have been developed. These plans will identify suitable trails and other locations compatible with the principal purposes of these zones.

The public is requested:

- not to use snowmobiles in the prime protection zone
- to refrain from using snowmobiles in the critical wildlife, special use and general recreation zones except to gain entry to adjacent unrestricted zones.

Enforcement this winter will apply in Provincial Parks, including Kananasnisk Park, Forest Recreation Areas and Kananasnisk Country — a 2,000 square mile block west and south of Calgary. Snowmobilers are reminded that the provisions of the Off-Highway Vehicle Act will continue to apply throughout the Province.

Snowmobiling trail networks ranging in difficulty from family to expert runs are being developed at Sibbald Flats and McLean Creek within Kananasnisk Country. Facilities that include warm-up shelters, a first-aid shelter, group camping pits, unloading ramps, public parking and toilet facilities are being provided.

Similar facilities to accommodate snowmobile enthusiasts will be provided in other locations throughout the Eastern Slopes.

The public is asked to honour the policies that have been developed for the Eastern Slopes. They were identified after careful evaluation of the physical environment, the existing resources, present land use and the demands and interests of Albertans. The policy for the Eastern Slopes has been designed by the Government of Alberta for effective land management to ensure the benefit and enjoyment of this magnificent area by all present and future Albertans.

Pamphlets are now being prepared on snowmobiling in the McLean Creek and Sibbald Flats areas. Copies will be available in January and may be obtained by contacting the nearest Alberta Forest Service office or the officers located in the two areas. Temporary maps are available from the Forest Land Use Branch, Alberta Forest Service, in Edmonton.

SUCCESSFUL COUNTY BASKETBALL TOURNEY HELD AT GALAHAD

Galahad School was the site of the 1977 County Junior High Basketball Tournament. The weatherman was not very cooperative but all the teams were able to make it in spite of the snow.

The first game saw Killam boys easily defeat Heister 68-9. Hardisty and Dayland girls were evenly matched with Hardisty eventually winning by a score of 18 to 13. The next game saw the local favorites, Galahad, up against the team from Hardisty. Galahad fought gamely but went down to defeat by a score of 27 to 20.

The stage was set for the final. Forsberg girls easily handled the team from Hardisty 26 to 8 to take the County Trophy. The boys final saw Killam play Hardisty with Killam dominating the game and winning by a score of 36 to 18 and repeating as County Champions.

A special thanks to Dan Prybylski, Russell Moore, and Officer Schaefer for their competent refereeing.

The Galahad Staff and Galahad Students' Union would like to express their appreciation to the visiting teams, coaches and spectators for their cooperation and fine behavior.

Riters Ramblings

by Flagstaff Creative Writers

Never a dull moment

"Guit Girl you crazy critter get outta here!" As I ran down the road brandishing a pitchfork I was too angry to contrast that me with the dignified school teacher who some years back presided at a session of the teachers' convention dealing with the encouraging in young children as supervisors of the beauty of correct English usage.

My middle daughter and I had just been hurrying back to our Saturday Cleaning after taking lunch to the four cowboys (cowpunks?) who were moving the main herd from their summer pasture to a field near home when we spotted the milk cow on the road.

I had driven past her and turned the truck around but when we got out to chase her she had whipped down behind the ditch with surprising agility for such an awkward looking creature and gone right past us.

Leaving my girl to find a tick and guard the corner I drove the truck to the nearest approach turned it around, passed the cow, turned the truck around again, got out to chase only to have bovine pass me again. As I backed the truck as fast as I dared my temper was wearing thin. Spying a pitchfork in the back of the half-ton I grabbed it and started for the cow. I was angry enough to jab her with the tines but that cow isn't as stupid as she looks. She saw the fork, turned well out of my reach and headed for home.

After chasing her for a quarter of a mile I hurried back to the truck fearing that the neighbor who was hauling grain from a combine would come by and find no room to pass. Eventually we got the cow into the corral with a stout wooden gate. We went back to the house to resume our Saturday work. The cowboys came back and put their horses out. Finally I got to the sink to wash the accumulated dishes but - I looked out the window.

"Guit Girl! Daddy let the cow out of the corral!" I asked. The answer was no so we dashed out to investigate.

"I wonder if my horse unhooked the gate," said one girl as we rounded the barn. Then we saw the gate. What a mess. It was flattened. Some of the boards were broken. Others were pulled off of the uprights and nails shone pointedly. As we viewed the debris we heard a squeaking sound. There was the cow - her front feet over the wire gate - her back feet tangled, her rump in the air, her head raised for the gate to lose the wire. The girls grabbed sticks and raced out to turn the cow when I let the gate down.

Always take a shopping list and stick to it. If you do not think of an item until you get to the store, you usually do not need it.

Watch out for aisle-end displays. Often they are just displays, not sales. Do not always buy eye-level items. The good deals are sometimes on the bottom shelves.

Be aware of double pricing. If an item has more than one price sticker, the store is allowed to sell the item at a lower price.

Another thing to be aware of is new metric packages. Some companies may try to package goods in smaller metric packages and leave prices the same. Such situations should be reported to the Metric Commission.

Use store-brand goods. Store brands of canned goods, paper products, etc. are usually made by the same companies that produce national brands, but they cost 15 to 30 per cent less because they do not have the same advertising and distribution costs.

If you do not think they taste as good, it might just be in your mind. Do not underestimate the power of advertising.

Wait for genuine specials. All stores have specific items on sale at different times. You can recognize them if you are familiar with the regular prices. Do not let a store lure you into the place with promises of special just to tell you that they have run out of them. Most places will offer you a raincheck for the item at the sale price if they have really run out.

Stores should not limit the number of sales items you can buy unless it is clearly stated in the advertisement that there is a limit because of supply.

Use coupons. Canadian retailers do from 65 to 70 million coupons a year, but they are used regularly by only 10 per cent of the population.

Coupons can save you money. Usually they are worth about 15 per cent of the value of the product. But since they cost money to produce and distribute, they add to the cost of the product. This means that the 90 per cent of the population that does not make use of the coupons is subsidizing the 10 per cent of the population that does.

The tricky thing about coupons is that they are more often found in luxury-type convenience foods than in necessity-type foods.

Flight over-packaging. Packaging represents about 9 to 14 per cent of the cost of food. It is an eyesore and often wastes part of the extra garbage you accumulate. A supermarket in France has been marketing products in plain white packages with only the name of the product on them. These goods sell for 10 to 30 per cent less than regularly purchased goods and have increased that supermarket's business.

The also accounts for 30 per cent of the sales in the supermarket's product category. So consumers do not need, or want, fancy packages.

Remember, the things you buy and do not buy is the only method you have of letting the big businesses know what you want.

KALEIDOSCOPE

THE CANADIAN CONSUMERS SURVIVAL BOOK

If you are worried about your over-increasing grocery bill, you may be interested in reading "The Canadian Consumers Survival Book" by Elise Roman and Phil Edmondson. It is recommended by Alberta Agriculture's district home economist at Stettin, Betty Blevins.

Among other things, the book suggests the following five methods of outwitting the selling tactics used by many supermarkets.

• Be prepared. A wise consumer knows all the old selling gimmicks and does not fall for them. Shop on a full stomach. If you have not eaten in the last five hours you will spend $5.76 more than usual, according to an American Study.

Do not take the kids grocery shopping. The cereal section of the store, for example, is designed mainly to appeal to kids.

Always take a shopping list and stick to it. If you do not think of an item until you get to the store, you usually do not need it.

Watch out for aisle-end displays. Often they are just displays, not sales. Do not always buy eye-level items. The good deals are sometimes on the bottom shelves.

Be aware of double pricing. If an item has more than one price sticker, the store is allowed to sell the item at a lower price.

Another thing to be aware of is new metric packages. Some companies may try to package goods in smaller metric packages and leave prices the same. Such situations should be reported to the Metric Commission.

Use store-brand goods. Store brands of canned goods, paper products, etc. are usually made by the same companies that produce national brands, but they cost 15 to 30 per cent less because they do not have the same advertising and distribution costs.

If you do not think they taste as good, it might just be in your mind. Do not underestimate the power of advertising.

Wait for genuine specials. All stores have specific items on sale at different times. You can recognize them if you are familiar with the regular prices. Do not let a store lure you into the place with promises of special just to tell you that they have run out of them. Most places will offer you a raincheck for the item at the sale price if they have really run out.

Stores should not limit the number of sales items you can buy unless it is clearly stated in the advertisement that there is a limit because of supply.

Use coupons. Canadian retailers do from 65 to 70 million coupons a year, but they are used regularly by only 10 per cent of the population.

Coupons can save you money. Usually they are worth about 15 per cent of the value of the product. But since they cost money to produce and distribute, they add to the cost of the product. This means that the 90 per cent of the population that does not make use of the coupons is subsidizing the 10 per cent of the population that does.

The tricky thing about coupons is that they are more often found in luxury-type convenience foods than in necessity-type foods.

Flight over-packaging. Packaging represents about 9 to 14 per cent of the cost of food. It is an eyesore and often wastes part of the extra garbage you accumulate. A supermarket in France has been marketing products in plain white packages with only the name of the product on them. These goods sell for 10 to 30 per cent less than regularly purchased goods and have increased that supermarket's business.

The also accounts for 30 per cent of the sales in the supermarket's product category. So consumers do not need, or want, fancy packages.

Remember, the things you buy and do not buy is the only method you have of letting the big businesses know what you want.

Killam Library reports busy year

The Killam Community Library Board held its regular meeting November 24 in the school library. Nine members were in attendance.

New member Tom McLaughlin was welcomed into the group by T. Tiffin, chairperson. Reappointed for three year terms also were M. Beutin and Mayor Dutton.

There was considerable discussion with regard to the Northern Alberta Library Development Service (NALDS), a pilot program being funded by Alberta Culture. Two questionnaires were presented — one from the NALDS and one from the Battle River Tourist Association.

Book orders to complete the 1977 grant were to be forwarded by B. Friedrich.

Several notable new books were displayed by B. Friedrich. She has instigated poster contests which are to be open to different grade levels in both local schools, on a monthly basis. Students appear to be keenly interested in this new project. Small prizes are to be awarded to winners.

Finalists for overdue books was discussed briefly. The cost per day for such books remains at 5 cents.

Library hours remain at: 12:30 — 2:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 7:00 — 8:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, 2:30 p.m. — 4:00 p.m. Saturday.

Several books had again been donated by Mr. and Mrs. J. Harvey. It has been requested that donated books be left at the Town Office. The Book Committee can then more easily review and process to make ready for the shelves.

Many hundreds of books, still unprocessed will require many "typist hours" preparing cards in order to complete cataloging. Buying processed books is to become policy to eliminate the uncertainty and difficulty of having cards typed. An attempt will be made to find typists willing to assist with this task.

A committee, with authority to order process and review books was formed. Serving in this capacity is B. Stang, T. McLaughlin, T. Rounbough and R. Friedrich.

In attendance were A. Cleveland, superintendent and D. Erickson, assistant superintendent, representing the Flaxstaff County Board of Education. The Board of Education recommended that the agreement for the operation of a joint community and school library remain in force for a further two year period.

The library will be closed during the Christmas holiday effective Dec. 23 at 12:30 p.m. until Jan. 3, 8:30 a.m.

Election of officers as follows: Chairperson — B. Stang, Vice Chairperson — T. McLaughlin, Recording Secretary — M. Beutin, Corresponding Secretary — F. Schweitzer, Shadow Secretary — G. Blavik, Facilities Committee — T. Tiffin, L. Dutton, Operation Committee — D. Costa, G. Slavia, F. Lackey, Processing Committee — B. Stang, T. McLaughlin, T. Rounbough, B. Friedrich.

Next meeting is to be January 26th.

Keeping In Touch

It's winter; a time for thinking. Most Canadians are well aware that we are consuming more than we are producing. Our government is living beyond our means using borrowed foreign money to support our own supplies. This year's trade imbalance will be $11.5 billion dollars which in human terms means we've lost 862,000 Canadian jobs by failing to adapt to the world market place.

It is time to seriously consider that after driving home in our European cars, sliding into our American made sleepers, turning on our Japanese television sets, and settling back in our English easy chair, we take time out to ponder why our economy is so desperately lagging.

In part, it has been because there is a new economic world order developing around us. The international trade patterns have shifted dramatically in the last 10 years. The big money powers today are the American dollar, the Japanese yen, the European Economic Community centered on the German mark, and the new Middle-East oil power. While extraordinary changes have been taking place in the international trade patterns across the past 10 years, Canada has been preoccupied with internal concerns and questions of identity to the extent that we have not kept pace with the shifts in world powers. Ten years ago Canada had the second highest per capita income in the world, today we are tenth and in ninth place in Luxembourg.

In part, Canada has paid other countries to steal our markets. Does it make sense to close down cheese factories while in England they are rationing Canadian cheddar because so little is available? Does it make sense to export jute to the Orient for a few dollars a ton to buy back jute jewelry at a thousand times the price?

But more importantly, our Export Development Corporation (E.D.C.) has been embarrassing Canada because of its concentration on encouraging new technology in developing and promoting new industries within their countries. Relative to our gross national product Canada spends only half as much in industrial research as the United States. The Japanese strategy is to increase the international sales efforts for existing products and to develop new products through government sponsored research. The Japanese spent 214 million dollars over the past five years to help their computer industry compete with IBM's Series 370. Canada has no similar program but will spend this year approximately 500 million dollars on CDS.

We need a more imaginative international sales effort at the Federal level. We have an abundance of human and material resources. Properly merchandized Canadian produce could help us to keep in touch with the shifting world economy. Canada is behind Luxembourg in per capita income for one reason... we have been looking inward for 10 years and failed to witness a decade of changes in the international marketplace.

TRAIN WRECK — The roving camera of "The Press" enroute to Irma on Saturday took these photos of a derailment at Irma, with the aid of telephoto lens because no one was allowed on C.P.R. right-of-way. The accident took place some time Friday.

Debris was scattered for the full length of track just adjacent to Irma. A number of truck trailers on the rail cars were damaged and their contents spilled out.

Additional Automobile Liability Insurance Required

Provincial Regulations require that effective July 1, 1978 - $100,000.00 inclusive Liability Insurance be carried on all automobiles.
To comply with this regulation, effective immediately, all our policies will carry at least the $100,000.00 inclusive liability.
We strongly recommend that much higher limits are necessary for today's increased settlements.

Hardisty auxiliary about 1978 officers

The December meeting of the Legion Auxiliary was held in the Hall at 8:00 p.m. on Monday, December 8, with 10 members present.

As the new constitutions had been received, some time was spent in discussing them. It was decided to hold a social with the Legion in January, details to be settled at the January meeting.

The following officers were elected for the coming term: President: Mrs. Pauline Gately 1st Vice - Mrs. Barbara Matthews.

2nd Vice - Mrs. Nettie Johnson Secretary - Mrs. Maryann Thompson

Treasurer - Mrs. Dorothy Kroser.

Executive Committee - Mrs. Josephine McClements, Miss Yankiw, and Frieda McGhie.

Weather permitting, Dist. Comm. Allison Barton will install officers at the January meeting.

KILLAM KINDERGARTEN

The Killam and District Kindergarten has been moving right along.

The children have visited the fire hall. After having a tour of the hall and equipment, the children rode on the fire truck and viewed the ambulance.

A trip was made to the post office to mail invitations for the Grandparents Pioneer Day, which was on November 25th. Great preparations went into this day. The children and parents gathered antiques, made hats for the boys and sun bonnets for the girls. Log cabins were made out of popstick sticks for the party decorations. Several mothers served home made, bread, butter and jam to the many grandparents and children who enjoyed the event.

Due to cold weather our workshop of December 8 was unattended.

Kindergarten will wind up on December 16th and commence on Tuesday, January 3 at 1:00 p.m.

Our next meeting will be in January and it would be appreciated if everyone can come.

ANGELICAN WOMEN'S GUILD

Mrs. Lois Lomond was hostess at her home to the Anglican Women's Guild on Wednesday evening. Due to the small attendance, only routine business was carried on. Lois then showed slides of her holiday trip to her home in Cape Breton, which were much enjoyed. A delicious lunch ended the evening.

Hardisty and District

If any Hardistytiles happen to stop in Provost at Dick's Studio you might get a glimpse of Mrs. Ida Timmins who is helping there now.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Horn of Calgary were up to visit the Gerald Sexton at Hardisty Manor, and Audrey's sister Mrs. Rita Moore.

One of my close critics said that the statement of there being only 20 people who attended the Hardisty Stampede - Killian Indiana game was in error as more than 200 people attended. I didn't send that item in either.

June Rose has received word that her aunt by marriage, Mrs. Allen Hobson in Washington State has passed away. She was brought up north of Hardisty as Maggie Burns and was an aunt to Arnold Lawson who is retired from the C.P.R. and lives in Victoria now instead of Moose Jaw, but formerly of Hardisty.

In spite of the dreadfully cold night a number of ladies attended the U.C.W. Christmas party with Barb Hays taking the service.

Mrs. Castillon gave a nice recitation and Doris Powell also gave a Christmas reading. After some sing songs, a contest, Barb read an article on the old-time Christmas concerts in the little schools which brought back many memories to those of us who had taken part in such programs. After an exchange of gifts, a lovely lunch was served by the U.C.W.

Correction regarding the Jockells anniversary. It was Tony Armstrong who presented the purse of money instead of Arne Bink.

Allen, Jean and Neil Nelson took their mother out to supper at Wally's dining lounge to help her celebrate her birthday last Friday.

We are glad to have Hattie Lloyd back home again, after having surgery on her leg. She stayed with the Earl Bones in Edmonton until check-up time, then came to Wainwright to visit daughter Marion's white. Arrived home here just before this Arctic weather hit us.

Also we know that Clifford Bone in Vancouver was very ill, we have just learned of his passing away on Nov. 29th. His wife, the former Ann Turley hopes to have Christmas with her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Turley of Whitecourt. Their dad used to be the section man in Hardisty, also Metiakow.

Born to Eddie and Taya Lloyd of Amisk another little son, Quinton Dean on November 11th, another grandson for Edna Wells.

Roy and Mrs. N. Jackson are grandparents again too. Their daughter Terri and son-in-law Mr. Sawchuk are the proud parents of a young daughter.

Kerri, Mrs. Jackson went up to Edmonton to meet her grand daughter.

We are sorry indeed to report the passing of Bill Hays, son's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Davidson moved into the Hardisty Manor some time ago so our sincerest sympathy goes to the family.

The Strong Ladies held their Christmas party in the U.C.W. hall on Sunday night. After a festive feast, and dishes washed, a quite amateurish ski with Joseph and Mary with the cradle and the view most given was with some Christmas Carolers being sung. Then it was time for Santa to arrive and the excited little ones were soon homebound bound with their gifts.

Does anyone remember when Miss Alice Hyde taught school in Hardisty around 1918 or 1920? Her granddaughter has moved to this area and is interested.

It was with deep regret that your reporter learned of the most untimely death of C.B.C. news reporter, David Halton in the middle east, shot in the back. His father before him, Matthew Halton, was your reporter's favorite war correspondent during the 2nd World War, and if I remember rightly he was an Alberta product coming from the Medicine Hat area.

Take care when putting up Christmas lights. Someone in town has had a nasty fall with slippery roof etc. and the lights aren't worth spending 2 weeks in bed.

HARDISTY TOPS

We started one and a half years ago in March 1976 and at the end of November 1977, a total of 994 people showed up, on the average of 82 lbs. per person. Also had our first no-gain week on December 7, 1977. We had a weight loss contest by dividing our membership in half and seven won award charms. We wish our neighboring TOPS Club at Sedgewick a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

HARDISTY MINOR HOCKEY TEAM AND TURKEY KINGS

The Hardisty Hockey Team and Turkey Kings was very successful Monday night, thanks to all that helped and supported it. Winners of the Hams and Turkeys were: K. Golka, B. Hopfe, M. Harrison, H. Findlay, J. Powell, B. Dyer, E. Matthews, A. Whithead, G. Whitlock, K. Alderice, M. Reber, D. Kroger, M. Granger, M. Madden, E. Krause, R. Whidden, B. McGibbin, E. Peake, M. Little, P. Drever, H. Lougheed and District News Items her daughter Marian, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Looness took her up.

Well I'm adding a little spice to my news this week. It was so cold last week, and the women had to put on warmer clothes to go out or stay home. One husband went into his bedroom before going to work and caught his wife putting his underwear on. The husbands better check their clothes more often. Why not give her thermal underwear for Christmas? Ramis Drager underwent surgery in the Killam Hospital for appendicitis last week. Get well wishes to you Ramis. Harold Haugen and his mother Mrs. Inga Haugen returned home last Thursday after spending 2 lovely weeks in Hawaii. They met up with a few friends from Sedgewick.

Killam woman 107 years young

Mrs. Dochink was born Katherine Kawallak on October 18, 1870 the oldest of five children. In Guelph, Austria.

In 1880 she was united in marriage to Henry Choney of the same village. In 1904 Mr. and Mrs. Choney, their two infant children, her mother, three brothers and one sister immigrated to Canada.

They came by ship and landed in Halifax. From there they travelled by C.P.R. to Wetsakwin, then by horse and wagon to Strathcona, where they stayed in the immigration hall for one month.

From there they went to Round Hill where they stayed with friends for a year and looked around for a suitable place to farm.

In 1906 they fled on a homestead ten miles south of Bruce in the Kasperik district. They had to build a house, dig a well and break some land. Mr. and Mrs. Choney dug the first piece of land by shovel for a garden. They were very busy people as they did not get hungry. They bought a cow, some chickens and raised a good garden.

Things were pretty rough those days, no roads, railroad or towns. For the next few years, they farmed and drove to town by oxen. Mr. Choney and neighbours walked to Edmonton to get work. Mrs. Choney walked seven miles to a country store to get her mail and a few groceries.

There were ten more children born, four died in infancy. One daughter Doris passed away at the age of six years in 1925, and one son John passed away at the age of twenty-seven in 1927. Mr. Choney passed away at the age of sixty-eight in 1936.

Mrs. Choney stayed on the farm and in 1944 married Mr. Andrew Dochink. They sold their land, and bought a house at Bruce where they retired for eighteen years. Mr. Dochink passed away in 1962.

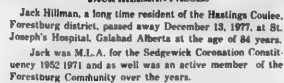

A year later, Mrs. Dochink went to live at the Villa Lodge at Viking where she lived for several years. She has been at the Killam Nursing home for seven years now. She is in a wheel chair now, still comes to eat at the table.

She has six daughters, sixty-eight grandchildren, 33 great grandchildren and 14 great great grandchildren.

Jack Hillman, a long time resident of the Hastings Coulee, Forestburg district, passed away December 13, 1977, at St. Joseph's Hospital, Calgary Alberta at the age of 84 years.

Jack was M.L.A. for the Sedgewick Corporation Constituency 1952-1971 and as well was an active member of the Forestburg Community over the years.

JACK HILLMAN PASSES

Province still keeping on financial restraints

The Loughheed government's policy of stating low ceilings for new spending has died at age two but not without a dramatic end. But Letch indicated that allowances in provincial grants and its own budget for pay hikes will be limited to his preferred 6 to 7 per cent range.

The treasurer said his target is to maintain services at present levels rather than expand them dramatically. Two-year-old warnings were repeated against excesses which the budget, with its heavy reliance on resource revenue, could not sustain after Alberta's oil and gas depletion.

Opposition leader Bob Clark found Letch's abandonment of clear budget guidelines "astonishing" and an indication that the administration has no public spending policy. He called for a conference of business, labor, agriculture and local authorities to establish a program.

NDP leader Grant Notley called Letch's statement "a responsible partisan double-talk," a piece of "rank opportunism" which shows that Conservatives are prepared to use a "goodie bag" and call an election.

LOCAL CONTATA
WELL RECEIVED

The bells sounded loud and clear Monday evening at the Sedgewick Community Hall when Kae Routledge played the opening bars of the Community Choir's Christmas Cantata, entitled "Ring The Bells". The cantata proclaimed the news of Jesus birth. Under Kae's capable direction, the 25 voice choir presented an hour of choral and solo work which was most enjoyable.

The four Sedgewick Minstrels, Rev. Abel, Rev. Nieber, gal. Rev. Chappell and Rev. Conrad each contributed to the evening and card singing was enjoyed by the audience. The collection was given to Mission work.

The Deliverer Born

"Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; Behold a virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel." Isa 7:14.

Let us look at the name Immanuel and note the meaning. "God with us," and it also means Saviour or Deliverer, as brought out in Matt 1:21. "And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sins."

Men and women everywhere need to pause for a time and think of what this season of the year really is. Man has made this a time of making money, and of giving and receiving gifts, but is that what God intended it to be?

The angel announced the Saviour to be born. God saw the human race lost in sin and bound by the enemy (Satan) and in love sent Jesus. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16. Our God is no respecter of persons, but calls all to come and says "Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved."

In Gal 4:4, we read, "But when the fullness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law; to redeem that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons." And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of His Son into your hearts, crying "Abba, Father".

It is also well for us to remember that not only did the Father give His Son to be born as a man, but also planned that He should give the life as a ransom for the sins of the world. He ordained that His love gift, Jesus Christ, should be the sacrificed lamb to shed His blood, and thus bring deliverance from sin and its bondage. John says, "The blood of Jesus Christ, God's Son cleanses us from all sin."

Paul says, "Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God, through our Lord Jesus Christ." Jesus was born a Saviour; to bring deliverance and so give peace. What better gift could one receive than this? The gift is being offered to you but you must receive it.

May this be a most blessed season, and a Happy New Year.

—Pastor Fred Hunter

TALK IT OVER WITH GORDON

When I was first elected to the Alberta Legislative Assembly, I made it a point to meet Mr. Jack Hillman of Forestburg. Mr. Hillman was M.L.A. for the Sedgewick-Constitution Constituency from 1962 to 1971, a total of 19 years. At that time Mr. Hillman gave me good sound advice of what to expect in my new role, what to do in the Legislature and generally who to approach in the Civil Service.

On December 13 J.C. Hillman passed away at the age of 84 years and left a record of solid achievement to his community. He served as Secretary-Treasurer of the Hastings Coulee S.D., No. 46, was Trustee of Forestburg Cons. S.D., No. 46, Councillor M.D. Mel Rose No. 430, Assessor and Agent M.D. Cameron No. 63, Director and Secretary Hastings Coulee Co-op, Credit Society, Adjunct and Agent Alberta Hall Ins. Board, Director and Secretary Forestburg R.E.A., Director Hastings Coulee Mutual Telephone, President Forestburg Board of Trade, Jack was M.L.A. for the Sedgewick-Constitution Const. 1962-1971. He was a member of the advisory board Providence Hospital, Daysland and a Director of the Alberta Safety Council, Past Master of Forestburg Lodge No. 128 A.F. and A.M. G.R.A. and life member of Bethel Chapter No. 36 G.R.A. Royal Arch Masons, Forestburg.

Mr. Hillman was also instrumental in pulling together and seeing Big Knife Provincial Park a reality for his Constituency. And today a plaque in the Park recognizes his contribution.

In a few short years that I knew Jack Hillman, I considered him a good friend and a good M.L.A.

A Christmas Message

"Let Christmas be a bright and happy day; but let its brightness come from the radiance of the Star of Bethlehem, and its happiness be found in Christ."

Christmas is celebration and celebration is something that seems to come instinctively to us. We celebrate with gifts, and trees and tinsel, lavish dinners, music and merriment. Christmas has been celebrated for many centuries, through many threatening circumstances, ever since the angels appeared to the shepherds in the field saying, "Fear not: for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

Christmas is celebration but we must remember that all the festivities lose their significance if they do not reveal the feelings implicit in the heart — the yearning of the human spirit to express faith, hope and love. Without the intentions the gift is bare and the celebration is without meaning. As these three attributes, exemplifying the divine spark in mankind, were present on that first Christmas and have survived throughout the centuries, so they can shine brightly in our celebrations this year.

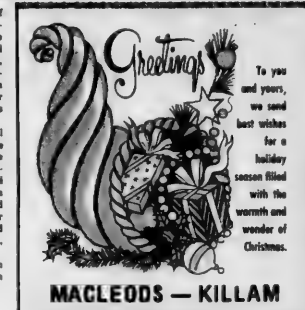

Faith, hope and love, which cannot be bought or sold but only given away are the basis of our Christmas celebration. These are the gifts that are without price and because they have discovered within oneself they are therefore unique. They are not always easy to come by, but they are in unlimited supply. May the gifts of Faith, Hope and Love that are available to each of us become an essential and vital part of your Christmas celebrations this year.

On behalf of the Official Board and Congregations of the Strome-Killam Pastoral Charge of the United Church of Canada, and personally, we extend to you the best wishes for a happy and holy Christmas, and a good and fulfilling 1978 for you and yours. May our good God, who has given us Christ, be with you.

The gifts that we give to ourselves

Have you paused to consider that many of the gifts that you select for others are going to be the gifts that you receive. In other words, many of the things that you give to others are going to come back to you in a different form perhaps, but they will be gifts that you will be delighted to receive.

Let me explain further by quoting from Dr. Paul Tourner's little book entitled "The Meaning Of Gifts." In that book Tourner writes: "I would always like to be presenting gifts to everybody, as well as to myself, but it is this because I want to make others happy, or it is possible that I want to give to others because of the deep pleasure and satisfaction I obtain from giving? When a parent sees a child playing happily with a gift which he or she has received, is it not true that in a way the child is also giving to his or her parents the beautiful gift of joy?"

It seems to me that when someone really appreciates a gift that I give to them, then that same person presents me with a greater gift of pleasure and satisfaction. In fact, I consider this aspect of giving, it almost seems impossible to me to give without receiving more in return. On those unforgettable occasions when the Lord has granted me the incredible privilege of using me as an instrument of His healing and redeeming love, and I have reached out in love to help someone, then I discover that I always receive far more than I was able to give. The joy that surges through me when I see someone touched in such a beautiful way by the love of God, is a happiness that is far too deep for words to describe or express. Whatever gift is given in love, always seems to return changed and more beautiful than when it was first given. Therefore, you see, when you are selecting those gifts to this festive season of celebration, in a strange way you are selecting gifts for yourself, for there is great happiness in giving. Remember that also when you receive a gift, for in the receiving you can make someone very happy, and that is important.

There is, of course, so much that can be written about the giving of gifts, I must therefore confine my thoughts to the fact that what I am able to give as an expression of my love, always returns to me transformed and more beautiful than when it was first given. There is great power and beauty in the giving, and in the receiving of gifts.

O yes, and there is something else that I must add, and that is, of course, that the most beautiful return of all is not a thing but a person of Jesus. When you accept this most treasured of gifts, then you make your Heavenly Father very happy. You see, there is great joy in heaven, over the one sinner who repents. If you have accepted God's gift of His only beloved son, then let me assure you that you have made the very heavens vibrate with rejoicing, for you have made God very happy indeed. To Him, you have in fact become a gift that He delights in. In this beautiful season of Christmas, remember that the gifts you give to the Lord, will be transformed and will return to you more beautiful than you first gave them. Seasons Greetings to one and all.

COME ALIVE

CELEBRATING CHRISTMAS

"Joy to the world, the Lord is come." Yes, Christmas is almost upon us, bringing with it all the hustle and bustle that normally accompanies this time of year. Strains from familiar carols can be heard as shoppers hurry to and fro looking for "just the right gift". Tempting aromas fill the house as Mom busily bakes all those special goodies that seem to appear only at this holiday season. The excitement of children knows no bounds as they gaze with wonder at the beautiful lights and sounds of Christmas and wait with expectancy for "That Day".

During the busyness of the season how often have we stopped to wonder just what we are celebrating? Let us just for a few moments take a brief look at the very first Christmas. How very different was that day of days. Carols were sung by the angels themselves as they proclaimed the good news of Jesus' birth. "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, goodwill toward men." Their praises soared as all heaven rejoiced over the incarnation of God's Son.

When the shepherds heard the wonderful news told them by the angels, they went with haste to see the wonderful thing which had come to pass. The Bible tells us in Luke 2:8 "And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen."

Remember for a moment the wise men. They came bearing gifts . . . costly gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh. And yet the One to whom they brought their gifts was Himself a gift. God's gift to mankind. "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16. The Bible also tells us that the wise men "fell down and worshipped Him."

The Nativity story suggests three ways to celebrate Christmas: to praise and glorify God as did the angels and shepherds and to worship, as did the wise men. As the Christmas season draws nearer, let us remember the true meaning of Christmas and say from the bottom of our hearts "Thanks be unto God for His unshakable gift." II Corinthians 9:15.

Greetings

Sing out, ring out Christmas carols . . . tidings of comfort and joy. It's time

and babies squirmed with delight. The mothers and fathers, and babies there too, were waiting to see what their young ones could do. The curtains were closed except for a crack where anxious eyes were looking for Mack. He was late, and they couldn't start. He just had to be there. The door opened quickly and he rushed in and then they were ready for the fun to begin.

A grandmother played the violin as they marched up to sing "O Little Town of Bethlehem", in childish voices sweet, a little off tune maybe but they thought it was best.

A singing little girl dressed for Christmas sang, "All I Want for Christmas is my Two Front Teeth." Two boys then discussed their secrets as Christmas day was near. Their gifts were safely hidden so they had naught to fear.

A drill of girls in fairy dress went marching round about. What matter it that fairy three forgot which way to go. And fairy five near fell from stage looking for her mom. She just had to be there for together they had come.

The elves clumped round until they formed a Merry Christmas sign. Then each elf said his piece aloud and thought that he'd done fine. But "T" for tinny speeches stood forgetting what to say, until a silent whisper helped him on his way.

The lights were dimmed till all was dim and then the curtains were drawn. A baby lay in manger crude, upon the fragrant hay. A mother and a father too were by the manger bed. The cows and sheep looked mildly on as Wise Men brought their gifts. The choir behind the curtain led, sang songs about the Star. "Don't move, keep still, be not afraid," the teacher softly said. "She lit a match, blue light flared up making the tableau clear. "O Holy Night," the choir sang, as flickering lights grew dim. The curtains closed, the lights turned up and the choir sang out with joy. "Hark the Herald Angels Sing, Glory to the Newborn King."

Then came the play, exciting for all as each one had a part. With only a snicker or two the dialogue had begun. And finally "T" Tim exclaimed, "God Bless Us Every One."

The curtains closed, the play was over. 'Twas time for Santa's sleigh. Waiting for his bells to ring they all began to loudly sing. "Jingle bells, jingle bells, jingle all the way." 'Till finally twinkling bells were near and they were waiting for him to appear.

He bounced through the door with a "Ho Ho Ho and Merry Christmas, too." The children shrieked a welcome but the babies cried with fear. He asked the children if they had been good. He kissed the brave ones who came near before he handed out the gifts and candy bags galore. And then he bowed himself right out the opened door.

The teacher sighed as she thanked them and bade them all goodnight. She scarce had strength to mumble low, "May your Christmas Day be bright."

NEW YEARS EVE DANCE

Sedgewick

Guests at the George Hagen home during the weekend were Marcia's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Maier and children of Calgary and her mother, Mrs. June Bone, of Hardisty.

Mr. Doug Hall of Hanna picked Mr. Pat Leeb up last week and they spent a couple of days in Edmonton.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Storbacken on the occasion of their 50th Wedding Anniversary. A program was put on in the Community Hall on Sunday afternoon and Open House was held in their honor. A host of friends and relatives from many different places were there to wish the Storbackens a very happy Anniversary and to offer their congratulations.

Mr. Edward (Ted) Lister spent a few days here last week visiting with his father, Mr. Ted Lister and his sister, Mrs. Doreen Conrad. Mr. Lister is an Inspector in the Vancouver Police Force but has been loaned to the Solicitor-General's Department for a year so has been working in Ottawa.

Mrs. Thelma Taitson and son David are in Climax, Sask.

The Bethania Sunday School held their Christmas Concert at the church on Sunday evening. A full house enjoyed the program and afterwards lunch and fellowship.

I hear that the Conrads have a new grandson, as their son and his wife Mr. and Mrs. Richard Conrad of Edmonton had a baby boy last week.

Another Sunday School Christmas Concert took place on Sunday evening as the Anglican Sunday School youngsters entertained their parents, grandparents and friends. As at the other churches, lunch and fellowship followed.

It's hard to find news this week as it seems everyone is home getting ready for Christmas. May I, through this news column, extend my best wishes to all for the Christmas Season and all through 1978. And please don't forget I'm here at 384-3877 waiting for your news each week.

Joan Fitzgerald heads C of C

There was a good attendance at the annual meeting of the Hardisty and District Chamber of Commerce held in the Parkland Manor, on Wednesday, November 23rd. Secretary, Mrs. Shari Irving read the minutes from the previous meeting, then the minutes from the 1976 annual meeting. When the correspondence was read, there was a letter of thanks from the Francis Lake area. A letter regarding a circus coming to Hardisty during the summer was discussed at length. Reports from the various committees was given on the year's activities. Nominations were then held with Rick Saut-jens acting as chairman. 4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

MORNA 4-H LIGHT HORSE CLUB

The second meeting of the Morna 4-H Light Horse Club was held on Monday, Dec. 12. The meeting was called to order by Vice-President Deb Elzey. The secretary, Fran Beattie, read the minutes of the last meeting. Mike Doody made a motion that the minutes be adopted as read. The treasurer's report was then read by the treasurer, Teresa Parsons. She reported that we now have $180 on hand.

The club discussed the potluck supper and the table party that had been tabled at the last meeting. They decided that we should leave both the potluck supper and the table party until January because the Christmas rush, hockey, curling and so on interfered with the club plans. They will discuss it

TEST THE LIGHTS

Be sure to test your Christmas tree lights before last-minute trimming of the tree or you and the children may be in for some disappointment. Do this before Christmas Eve. If you're buying new lights, shop early before stock and selection become limited.

May the spirit of Christmas be on ever-present joy to you.

The Jockells are happy to announce the arrival of a great grandson born to Susan (Barry) Larsen and her husband in a Saskatoon hospital.

Mrs. A. Parsons had her daughter Sadie McEwen as a with her, to do a little Christmas shopping.

Mrs. Maryon Drager attended the wedding in Edmonton Dec. 10th, of her grandson Trent, eldest son of Barbara and Pete Stoltz.

A grave misfortune has been sent in, in sending sympathy to the Bill Davidson family. It was Bill's grandmother and not his mother who passed away. Please accept my sincere apologies Mrs. Davidson. We are happy to have you with us.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted O'Dell had coffee with Lash McEwen after the Bingo. Sad to relate not many places serve coffee anymore at that time of night.

The winners of the Strong Ladies draw were Gladys Selbranes and Belinda Goodrich.

Helen and Arne Busk have Mrs. Rita Hill with them now as Rita cannot be left alone after the accident. The Dr. says it will be a long time to get over such a serious thing but we hope that Rita will improve enough to get around on her own power.

Perry Powell is in hospital after his fall but he has good chore help with Ivy and Claud May.

Karen Kells is now employed in Loughbood.

STAMPEEZ BINGO

The Hardisty Stampeder Hockey Club recently held a raffle and turkey bingo. The winners of the bingo were Lena Hopfe, Hardisty; Mrs. Art Armstrong, Loughbood; Hasselthum, Camrose; Phyllis Downie; Thelma Fisher; Betty Hopfe (2); Christine Wells; Joe Johannessen; Darlene Rine; Gerrie Watkins; Killam; Lynn Miller; Mrs. Tishom; Eleanor Moody (2); Madeline Brown; Pat Krowack, Loughbood; Pauline Gately; Winnie Goodrich. Lougheed W.I. yearly re-cap

The December meeting of the Lougheed W.I. was held at the home of Miss M. Fernyhough. This was the annual meeting and Christmas party, and for the occasion the room was prettily decorated. In spite of the frigid weather, all members were present, and were warmly greeted by the president, Mrs. J. Johnson, as she opened the meeting. After repeating the Creed, the minutes of the last meeting and the annual report were read by the secretary, Mrs. M. Skoberg. This was followed by reports from all the executive and other committee convenors which showed that it had been a very active and successful year in every way.

A slate of officers for the coming year was presented and approved, as follows: President, Mrs. J. Johnson; 1st. V. Pres, Mrs. H. Probst; 2nd V. Pres, Mrs. V. Storbacken; Secretary, Mrs. W. Frost; Treasurer, Mrs. D. McClements; Directors, Mrs. W. Paterson; Mrs. J. McClements.

Mrs. P. Soethun. The outgoing members of the executive were thanked, and the president expressed her sincere appreciation to the executive and members for the support given her during the year.

A delicious lunch of samples of Christmas baking brought by each member was enjoyed, after which the opening of "Silent Sister" gifts and "guess who" caused much merriment. It appears there is a suspicious heart in store for the lucky one, as 11 members "haha'd a close".

An executive meeting is to be held on January 4th to draw up a program for the coming year. The January meeting will be at the home of Mrs. H. Probst. The following are the secretary's and the library chairman's annual reports:

Secretary's Report 1977 Since the last annual meeting Lougheed W.I. have held 10 regular and one directors meeting with an average attendance of 12 members and 2 visitors. Money donations were given this year as follows: Arena fund $50, United Church for use of meeting room $30, Prov. office fund $65, Lougheed Childhood Services (Kindergarten) $250; 4-H Foundation Fund for 60th Anniversary Battle Lake project $50; Special prizes for 4-H projects at local fair $25; Scholarships to Lougheed School and Central High $30; a total of $455.

Regular projects undertaken were: supervision of the Community Hall kitchen; W.I. Library; Cemetery caretaking; responsibility; special prizes at the Fair; Money coupons for the Burgess School for the Rotated; in Canmore, based used clothing sent to the Unitarian Services Committee.

In January our library was moved from the Town Office to its present location at the rear of the post office building, with a rental fee of $20 per month which is paid by the Town Council. Many improvements have been made to date, and it is open on Thursdays from 2:30-4:00 p.m., and on Friday mornings from 11:15-1:00 a.m. when it is visited by the Kindergarten Class for a story read by a volunteer librarian. W.I. members rotate services for each day the library is open. In January we also started a rental fee for use of W.I. tea towels. Program this month was Citizenship and Education by Mrs. W. Frost who read an article on Cancer research by an American, Dr. Schultz, questioning the research program.

February program was by Mrs. W. Routledge entitled, "Money, Master or Servant?" Also used jewellery was collected and sent to the Windward Stewart School in Edmonton for use by their lapidary class.

Lougheed W.I. yearly re-cap

In March we served a luncheon for the Flagstaff Unit of the Cancer Society delegates Conference held in Lougheed at which time the W.I. received a certificate honoring us for work in the Cancer Society. This is framed and is hanging in the library along with our "Over the Top" certificates from the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Name tags were designed and made for each member for the Constituency Conference - these are to be kept for future Conferences as well. Canvas was conducted for the Can. Red Cross and Can. Cancer Societies. Program for this month was entitled "Agriculture on the Threshold of the Space Age" convened by Mrs. M. Skoberg.

April gave us a guest speaker in the program on "United Nations" in the person of Mrs. H. Redman from Hardisty. Mildred gave us highlights from their trip to Africa and the Canary Islands. This program was convened by Mrs. G. Marlow.

May saw two delegations, Mrs. J. Johnson and Mrs. D. McClements off to Prov. Convention at Olds. Program by Mrs. H. Probst introduced Diane Bourne, District Home Economist from the County Office in Sedgewick, as guest speaker. Diane spoke to us of the work of Preventative Social Services in our county, and also mentioned the advisability of hearing Richard Cohen speak to us at some future date. He is director of P.S.S. in the County of Flagstaff.

June-annual Convention report by Gayle and Jerry - 80th birthday of the founding of W.I. in Canada.

In July W.I. members helped the United Church Women and Legion Auxiliary with a picnic at Sherwood Park for Senior Citizens.

October meeting was at the home of Mrs. W. Routledge where our guests from England entertained with pictures and stories of their country and W.I. work there.

In November a grant of $108 was received from the local Recreation Board to the library and was spent on kindergarten chairs and lights for the library. The chairs were purchased from Horizons Unlimited in Wetaskiwin for $5.00 each. A "Verdant Valley" history book was donated to the Provincial W.I. Library of History Books.

Help was given the annual 4-H banquet, also a $5.00 award to a deserving 4-H member. This was received by Marilyn Wylie this year. Mrs. W. Paterson and Mrs. H. Probst attended a District 3 workshop in Wetaskiwin and reported a very worthwhile informative session. Mrs. G. Marlow and Miss M. Fernyhough attended the Annual Meeting of Flagstaff Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society in Sedgewick. At present the Society is asking for pocket books, magazines, used nylon stockings and pantyhose for use of patients in hospital. Interesting roll calls this were: "Inspiriting thoughts or words of wisdom"; "Something new I planted in my garden"; "A 4-line poem about the community"; "A pantomime of an idea drawn from a hat"; "An incident pertaining to the War Years". In November we were presented with a "Round Tuit" button. Members can no longer say, "I never got around to it." A "Silent Sister" program has been carried on throughout the year and at our Christmas party we guessed who our "silent sisters" were. Those not guessing correctly must "pay the price".

Library Report for 1977 We received word from the Town Council in January that they needed the Town Office for their secretary and that we would have to move. The Mel Larsons offered us the use of the back half of their building and we would partition it to divide the barber shop from the library. With volunteer help from some men and a lot of work from the women we soon had the partition up and were moved across the street into our new quarters. Even had a rug down. Thanks to some our husbands we soon had a sign up, a new step installed and three new fluorescent lights hung. Also this fall Doug Nie-has donated a door and it was installed by H. Probst and V. Storbakken; the day before it showed the first time. V. Storbakken, H. Swainson and W. Frost got a sidewalk laid from planks Mel had gotten for us. Mel Larson bought paint for us last spring to do the walls and ceiling, so our president got us organized and in a week the job was done. J. Johnson and H. Swainson painted the ceiling, S. Marlow did the floor around the rug with some paint we had bought, and L. Frost did some of the walls. With more help from G. and S. McClements we got the shelves back, a new rug put in and the books on the shelves, also a curtain hung. Last January R. Storbakken, H. Swainson and L. Frost went to Camrose to buy books. There was not much choice, but did get some Canadiana books. We went an order to a book and novelty company in Calgary and were not too happy with the results.

This fall we were asked if we would read to the Kindergarten Class every Friday morning and have the library open for them. This has been done every week with volunteer readers from outside the W.I. as well as members plus a member to check books in and out.

We had a $100 grant coming from the Rec. Board which had to be spent on furnishings so we got 12 chairs for the Kindergarten class. They cost $72 and the rest of the grant went to the price of one of the fluorescent lights.

This fall we also got a new desk and 2 chairs which added to the appearance as well as the ease in handling books and papers. Also this fall we sent an order to the U.S.A. for books from Publisher Central Bureau. These came in a month, over 100 books. A group of us got together in the library one afternoon and carded and catalogued them. Also Mrs. R. Riddick, representative from the Town Council was there to look at all our new books and to see how and what we were doing so she could report to the Council meetings.

The Town is paying Mel Larson $20 per month rent for our quarters, we also get $106 grant from the Town, $100 grant from the County and $750 grant from the Government of Alberta, plus the $108 grant from the local Rec. Board. This financial help is much appreciated and makes our work that much easier. —Mrs. W. Frost

The Christmas holiday is a time to be with loved ones and friends. Below are two recipes which are easy to make and will add that something extra to your entertaining.

FREEZER CHEESE BALLS
1/2 lb. sharp Cheddar cheese
1 - 8 oz. pkg. cream cheese
1/2 lb. blue cheese
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts or pecans

Assorted crackers or wafers
Allow cheeses and butter to soften outside the refrigerator for several hours. Shred or cut the Cheddar cheese into small pieces and put into a large bowl of an electric mixer. Add cream cheese, blue cheese and butter; beat until blended. Cover and chill cheese mixture for about 8 hours or until firm enough to shape into balls. Divide in half and shape each half into a smooth ball; wrap in clear plastic film, then overwrap in a plastic bag. Refrigerate or freeze until needed. Allow frozen cheese balls to thaw in refrigerator 4 hours before serving. Sprinkle nuts on a piece of waxed paper and roll each ball in about 1/2 cup of nuts, pressing in lightly. Serve with crackers or wafers. Makes 2 balls, each about 3 inches in diameter.

HOT SPICED PERCULATOR PUNCH
600 ml pineapple juice
500 ml cold water

500 ml cranberry juice
15 ml whole cloves
7 ml whole allspice
3 sticks of cinnamon each 3 cm
1 ml salt
125 ml brown sugar, lightly packed.

Place pineapple juice, water and cranberry juice in bottom of 10 cup perculator. Put remaining ingredients in the basket. Assemble perculator. Bring to a perk and gently perk for 5 minutes. If using a Corningware Electromatic Perculator, connect the perculator and allow it to go through the complete cycle. Serve Hot.

On behalf of the Alberta Agriculture staff, I would like to wish each of you a safe and very happy Christmas.

MURRAY & BEEB CLUB

The Murray and Beeb Club met for the 2nd meeting of the year, at the home of Charlene Buchholz on December 16th. There was a good turnout of members.

The meeting was brought to order at 8 p.m. by President Colin Gamroth. There was a discussion on the trophy night. Ron Buchholz, Cathy Gamroth, and Clint Posen volunteered as a committee to look after details. Discussion was also held on a Christmas Party which was left up to the Social Conventions to plan. Our leader Mr. Christensen helped us with our problems in the record books. We then decided that the meeting should be more exciting with games, etc. We finished off the meeting by making rope halos with the help of Mr. Christensen and other parents.

Lunch was served. The next meeting will be held on January 4th, 1978 at the home of Mrs. A. Buchholz.

When Sankey Sang

"Until you're born this day in the city of David a Savior" Luke 2:11.

The story is told that on Christmas Eve of the year 1875, Ira D. Sankey, Dwight L. Moody's gospel singer, was travelling by steamboat up the Delaware River. It was a calm, starlit evening and many passengers were gathered on the deck. Mr. Sankey was asked to sing and he complied. He stood leaning against one of the great funnels of the boat as his eyes raised toward heaven in a quiet prayer. He wanted to sing a Christmas Carol but felt strangely constrained to sing the Shepherd Song.

"Behold like a Shepherd lead me."

Much we need thy tender care In thy pleasant pastures feed me For our use thy folds prepare Blessed Jesus, Thou hast bought us. Thine we are.

"We are thine, do thou befriend us. Be the guardian of our way: Keep thy flock from sin's defiled us. Seek us when we go astray: Blessed Jesus, Hear, oh, hear us when we pray."

When he finished a deep stillness settled over the listeners as the music floated out over the deck and the quiet river. Suddenly a man with a weather-beaten face hurriedly came up to Mr. Sankey and said, "Did you ever serve in the Union Army?"

"Yes," answered Mr. Sankey, "in the spring of 1860."

Can you remember if you were doing picket duty on a certain bright moonlit night in 1862?"

"Yes," answered Sankey, "I was surprised."

"So do I," said the stranger, but I was serving in the Confederate Army. That night I saw you standing at your post. I thought to myself: That fellow will never get away from here alive. So I raised my musket and took aim. I was standing in the shadow completely concealed and the full light of the moon was on you. At that moment you began to sing and you raised your eyes toward heaven. Music, especially song, always had an unusual power over me and I took my finger off the trigger.

"Let him sing his song to the end," I said to myself. "I can shoot him afterwards. He's my victim at all events, and my bullet cannot miss him."

"But the song you sang then was the song you sang now. I remember the words perfectly: We are thine do thou befriend me."

Be the guardian of our way."

"Those words stirred memories in my heart and I began to think of my childhood and my God-fearing mother. She had many times sung that song. But poor woman did not live too long. If she had my life might have been different."

When you finished your song it was impossible for me to take aim again. Then I thought: The Lord who is able to save that man from certain death must be great. My gun dropped to my side.

"Since that day life has taken me far and wide. Tonight when you lifted your eyes toward heaven and sang that song, I recognized you as the same man, and my heart tonic waits the God you serve. Would it be too much if I asked you to pray for me?"

Mr. Sankey, overcome by the story he had just heard and now the request for prayer put his arm around his new found friend and led him to Christ.

It is an interesting Christmas story. One, I am sure, Mr. Sankey told many times. I've been wondering, if in the providence of God, you and I might be used of God to lead some person to the Savior this Christmas season. We then could have our own Christmas story to tell.

A bit of mistletoe for love A precious touch of holly And then some lovely winter's snow.

To make the season jolly, A Christmas tree all wondrous fair

A star to shine above And then a heart that knows the joy Of wondrous Christmas love. These are my Christmas hopes for you

For precious dreams unending A happy smile to warm your heart The season's best I'm sending. Life's richest blessings ever more

In all you chance to do, A Merry, Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year, too!

Greetings to you all from your reporter, Molly Ferneyhough.

A message of Joy

Have you looked around you lately? The beauty of the trees, the mantle of snow and frost has made a wonderful setting for this most wonderful time of year. No artist has or will capture the splendor of the setting in which we are honored to live.

As well, mankind cannot really express its feelings for one another at this most holy season. I just would like to ask you to open your hearts to the "Babe of Bethlehem" and in doing so have a blessed, peaceful and joyous Christmas.

What the world needs now is "Love". This year let's give the gift of love in the name of the author of love, "Christ".

—Richard L. Conrad

Women can never have enough pushhose or stockings. Check her style and color preference and size, then give her a dozen pair wrapped up in a pretty box.

If any of the ladies on your list have pierced ears, you can purchase an earring that holds all of her favorite loops and ear studs in order. There are a number of handy little cosmetic trays on the market that will keep a woman's make up and odds 'n ends neat and orderly.

TROPHY WINNERS — Sedgewick 4-H Beef Club held their trophy night recently. Rob Shaw (left), on behalf of the club, presented

The meeting was held at the Lutheran Church hall and a pot luck supper for the trophy donors and the leaders, 4-Hers, and parents was enjoyed by the capacity crowd.

A Gift to Receive

Here we come once again, in this festive season, celebrating the birth of our Savior, celebrating this great measure of God's love to the world.

God coming as this Jesus of Nazareth, coming to shake the very foundations of our world, coming to bring a promise of hope, when despair was the mood of the day as it ours.

This Jesus was born in a stable because the world had no room for him, and we still have no room for him.

This Jesus was born to teach us truth, born to preach a message of good news, born to perform miracles where the blind see, and the lame walk.

This Jesus was born to die. We could not take the truth that he spoke, so he was nailed to the cross, to bring him to a bitter end. We still try to nail him to a cross. We still deny him. We still crush him in many ways.

That suggests we manufacture and devise our own merit. But the grave couldn't hold him. He rose for you and I. He brought an age of forgiveness into, an age of new creation, new hope, changed lives. He came so that we could cast off our guilt ridden lives and become free to be human as God intended us to be. He came as a gift to us, so that we can cast our eyes off of ourselves and look upon our fellow persons as God looks upon us. What a world this could become if this was filled in us.

God comes to us in the person of Jesus Christ to present to us a wonderful gift of hope. A gift of himself to us. So, as we receive many gifts from family and friends, may we also be willing to receive the greatest gift of all, our Saviour, Jesus Christ, who made this day possible.

I am sure many of you are familiar with the carol, "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen." What is significant to this song is the comma between "Merry," and "Gentlemen." The song does not say, "God Rest You, Merry Gentlemen." The carol has a comma between "Merry," and "Gentlemen." The difference is that deep down merriment is not coming from anything we contrive. Rather, God himself makes us merry because he comes with a gift of himself. Are we willing to receive this gift of merriment? We are celebrating a fact that is true no matter what has happened to us - God has come into our world. That is good news - the merriment of the New Testament. The words of the song read:

"God rest you merry Gentlemen."

Let nothing you dismay, Remember Christ our Savior
Was born on Christmas Day;
To save us all from Satan's power.

When we were gone astray,
O Tidings of Comfort and Joy!

May you find Peace and Joy this Season and always in the Christmas message of Salvation!
Merry Christmas!

Daysland High report

Student's Union Executive President, David Hike
Vice-Pres. Diane Loeach
Secretary, Annette Bransen
Treasurer, Audrey Lorenz
Soc. Convener, Nae Paulgaard
Sports Reps. Joan Koehl, Bill Elmes
Room Reps. Colleen Hamilton, Kevin Carlson, Mary Mitchell, Rita Mitchell, Penny Poepping, Lorene Reist and Caroline Renney.

This year's hard working Executives have come up with many projects and social events to please all of the Student body. A General meeting was held in the gym on November 25th to discuss the following projects, of which many were suggested by concerned parents. We appreciate the concern and all the suggestions we are given.

Community Christmas Card: is a fund raising project, by buying a ticket your name is placed on the card in Daysland. Hostess and/or Stewards, wishing seasonal greetings to all community members. The funds from this project go to the children (orphans) of Bethany Home. It has been brought to our attention that the children might appreciate a gift presented by a school Santa. The Students feel this is an excellent idea and have expanded it somewhat. We are looking at the possibilities of hiring a bus, filling it up with Christmas spirited High School students armed with gifts, lunch, cameras and lots of color film. See that your name and business becomes part of our card!

King and Queen contest: this is also a fund raising project, for covering expenses and making Graduation Exercises as enjoyable as possible. Each of the three Senior High grades elect a King and Queen rep. from their peers. The grade which raises the most money in the allotted time gets their representatives crowned at a wrap-up dance. Candidates are: Grade 12, Patrick Hayes and Patricia Fankhanel, Grade 11, Richard Fankhanel and Betty Loesch, Grade 10, Rudy Wieschorster and Sandra Turvey.

School Canteen: this counter would be open approximately two days a week, selling such items as fruits, nuts, juices, cheese, soups, chocolate milk and ice cream. The canteen would be open to all students and staff of Daysland School. Along with this project we are looking for an inexpensive 2nd hand fridge with an ample freezing compartment. If you have one meeting our requirements, please contact the school.

Dancing Lessons: willing parents teach interested people, not necessarily students, one night a week for approximately six to eight weeks in February to March of '78.

Graduation Exercises: this year our year end exercises will be on May 5th and 6th, 1978. More details later.

Hayride: sponsored by Grade 11 King-Queen, Dec. 18th, 7:30 p.m., Daysland School, lunch Pre-New Years Dance: teen dance on Friday, December 30th. Playing will be Flash-landing, admission is $2.75 or $5.00 per couple.

In Senior High Volleyball, the boys went to the Regionals in New Sarepta but unfortunately they were defeated by New Sarepta. The girls also went to New Sarepta, but lost to Bawli in the semi-finals. Team members are, for the boys: Jerry Gandish, Brian Carlson, Ken Hill, Elvin Karpovich, James Lang, Bob McNaughton, Ron Robinson, Gary Sommer, Brent Sommer, Kevin Tulloch, Dean Walker, Rudy Wieschorster, Dan Zimmer, Kelly Zimmer, Larry Zimmer and coach, Brian Chave.

TRIE SAFETY

Keep in mind that a dry Christmas tree can be destroyed by flames within minutes, thereby threatening the entire home. Remember to keep the tree well-watered at all times and dispose of it when the needles begin drying and falling easily from the branches.

JIFFY YULE LOGS

Have you ever made jiffy yule logs to give your brightly colored flames in your fireplace during the Christmas season?

Alberta Agriculture's district home economists laboratory suggest that you use 2 pounds of coarse salt; 2 ounces each of one or all the coloring salts: strontium nitrate (red), calcium nitrate (yellow), calcium chloride (orange), potassium chlorate (violet), borax (green) and copper sulphate (blue); 2 pounds of blotsox and paraffin wax.

Combine the blotsox, coarse salt and the desired coloring salts in a cardboard box such as an oatmeal carton. Then, using a wooden spoon, put a small portion of the mixture into colored paper baking cups. Do not fill the cups more than two-thirds full. Melt the paraffin wax (old candle stubs can be used) over hot water. Cool it to lukewarm, and pour a layer of about a quarter of an inch thick over the contents in each cup. If the wax is too hot when you pour it into the cups, it will spoil their shape.

The above ingredients make about 90 jiffy yule logs.

An alternative way of making colored flames is to pour a small tin of soot remover (available from many hardware stores or cleaning chimneys) over the wood or coal in your fireplace.

Some predicting a provincial election

While chances of a provincial election in 1978 remain about nil, preliminaries for the next one have already begun as the opposition parties prepare and rate their prospects as respectable.

Premier Peter Lougheed has ruled out a contest next year. Conservatives won 69 of the 75 Legislative seats only 38 months ago and he said in an interview he wants to honor Alberta tradition of voting each four years.

But NDP leader Grant Notley predicted an early campaign. He said Tories will be tempted by euphoria that a big budget, a healthy economy and the Commonwealth Games and a royal visit in Edmonton will create by next fall.

Notley, seen NDP M.L.A., said his party's membership is high, relations with labor and farmers are excellent and half its full slate of 79 candidates for the redistributed, enlarged house will be ready by mid-1978.

Social Credit, the official opposition with four M.L.A.s, has already nominated seven candidates including party leader Bob Clark, who says more are waiting in the wings.

At a well-attended late fall convention in Red Deer, Clark pronounced Social Credit healthy again. "Don't underestimate us," he warned, vowing to "take our government back to the people."

The smallest provincial Liberals also claim to be a factor. At their year-end convention, party leader Nick Taylor suggested that Conservatives are declining, Social Credit is dying and the NDP is fading across Canada.

Notley says Tories have forgotten Alberta's real needs for decent social services, education and health care while gathering power into the hands of bureaucrats, entrepreneurs and politicians in a closed-shop government.

Clark maintains that the administration has ignored social problems, the financial and planning needs of the cities, farmers and tourism while devoting itself to resource development.

Lougheed said he was "sure" he will probably lose some support. But he refused to concede points to critics and suggested losses would stem from short-sighted misunderstanding of his administration and Alberta's needs.

He traces his biggest problem to an embarrassment of riches, an ironic combination of apparent wealth and a program of conserving money from depleting oil and gas with budgetary restrictions which are hard to sell.

"The reason [for potential losses at the polls in 1978 - "no way" will an election be called in 1978] is we've taken decisions that really haven't been popular in the short term."

"Having restraint when we have the Heritage Fund (about $3.2 billion by next spring) is probably as politically unpopular a situation as any government can undertake."

COME ALIVE

by Thomas McLaughlin
 United Church of Canada

On this, the first week of 1978, it is my privilege to bring a message to you through the good graces of the Community Press. In trying to think of what to say, and how to best express my feelings at this particular time, a New Year, I came across a poem written by John B. Clark, which I believe sums up my thoughts.

"A New Year's Wish" by John B. Clark
 That you may have not a new God, but a new realization of Him who is from everlasting to everlasting.

That you may have not a new Saviour, but a new consciousness of Him who is the same yesterday, today and forever. That you may have not an abiding sense of guilt and unworthiness, but one of divine forgiveness, peace and joy.

That you may have not a burdened and shut-in life, but a daily experience of the life more abundant. That you may have not a feeling of incompetency before your life's requirements, but the conviction "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me."

In closing, I commend to you the words of Minnie Louise Hixson.

"And I said to the man who stood at the Gate of the Year: 'Give me a light that I may tread softly into the unknown.' And he replied: 'Go into the darkness and put your hand into the Hand of God. And it shall be to you better than a light and safer than a known way.' And so I went forth, and finding the Hand of God, I tread softly into the night. And He led me towards the hills and the breaking of the day in the lone east."

WAX ON YOUR TABLECLOTH?

One of the most common problems during the Yuletide season is how to remove candle wax from the tablecloth, washable fabrics.

Harden wax by rubbing with ice cubes. Remove excess with a dull knife. If safe for fabric, pour boiling water through wrong side or place stain between two clean white blotters (or several layers of clean tissue or paper towel). Press with warm iron. Dry stain can be removed with alcohol or bleach. Launder.

UNWASHABLE FABRICS
Harden wax with ice cubes and remove excess. Sponge remaining traces with cleaning fluid. To remove dry stains, sponge with alcohol (dilute with 2 parts water for acetate; test for colorfastness).

For more information on how to remove stains, write: Alberta Agriculture, Box 570, Sodegwick or phone 384-3737 and ask for the free pamphlet, Spot and Stain Removal.

RITERS RAMBLINGS MUSIC

by Flagstaff Creative Writers

The record begins to play. Music pours out of the machine. It reaches out and tenderly grasps me, invading my body.

My ears are warm and humming where the music enters. It gently pushes out worries and frustration, leaving a tranquility. My mind is clear and free of problems. Concentration is upon the music only. There is a vague pulsating sensation in my brain. My head is slowly heating. My eyes find themselves closing and my nostrils twitch slightly as the music makes its way downward. A smile implants itself on my lips.

The music, gaining momentum, enters the bloodstream. It flows with the compasses of the blood and increases the heartbeat as it slides past. My body is warming rapidly now.

My arms are raised into the air by an invisible force, as though they are feather-like wings. From the shoulders to the tips of the fingers the veins and arteries bubble and dance.

The music travels into my legs. The thighs twitch warily, they know they are vulnerable, and the ankles shake joyously. As the music penetrates the feet, from the heels to the toes, they begin tapping. Suddenly they seem to awake and come alive. They leap into the air carrying the body of the music. My whole body, feeling reborn, twists and twirls lightly around and around and around. I dance!

At a dance, feelings and emotions come out so wildly, mixing with the magical sounds that fill the room. The music, now at its peak, is everywhere - stopping time, reaching out and invading all people and leaving nothing behind.

There is a harmonious attraction, like the force of a magnet on metal, between the people and the feelings the music inspires. A pervading feeling - is it love? - lingers in the air.

The music creates a mood. I am completely in the time and space. At first, I am on the ground but as the music fills the room which now serves as my entire world, I feel I am floating up and up - and twirling.

Everyone sees this beauty. It is mind-blowing - like drugs. The movements my body makes are sensual and uncontrollable. My body bawls with delight. Dance!

Round and round the music plays, booming out and then whispering softly. I feel a unique, new freedom. I can view a scene I've never ever imagined. It is all wonderfully bright and alive, the colors vivid and exciting, and then subtle and calm. The small waves lapping again at a shore. The scene blends together so that I can't see any one thing clearly but I see everything as a whole. There is a fragrance drifting in the coolness of the air - floral and delicate. I can even taste the music. It is light and fluffy and darts quickly as I reach out to get it. Dance, dance, dance!

Everyone is lost in individual dance and rhythm. We are all clinging to the marvelous sounds that have taken over our bodies and brought us all together to share this experience.

The melody of the music is simple yet in other ways, it is the most intricately beautiful sound we've ever heard. It speaks of... love. Love reigns! We are much higher than any drugs could ever take us. The small waves lapping again at a shore. The scene blends together so that I can't see any one thing clearly but I see everything as a whole. There is a fragrance drifting in the coolness of the air - floral and delicate. I can even taste the music. It is light and fluffy and darts quickly as I reach out to get it. Dance, dance, dance!

NEW FILM FEATURES

CORRIE TEN BOOM

"Corrie: Behind the Scenes with The Hiding Place," a new full-length color release from World Wide Pictures, will be shown at Killam Baptist Church, Killam, on Sunday, January 8, 1978. A single showing is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

The Hiding Place, a true story filmed in Holland and other European locations, is based on the experiences of Corrie ten Boom, who, with her father, sister and brother, provided refuge for countless Jewish families. A secret room was constructed in their home as a hiding place for use during Gestapo raids. The ten Booms' activities were discovered, and they were sent to prison and concentration camps. Corrie was produced to give people who have seen The Hiding Place or read her many best-selling books an opportunity to hear her share many of her memories about her life in Holland, her family, and her lifetime of service to others.

The film offers a great lesson in the perseverance of a personal faith in a very dark and trying period of world history. Corrie ten Boom, now in her eighties, has a tremendous vitality, a deep spiritual commitment, and a profound love for her fellow human beings. She believes we have succeeded in transmitting a part of her soul, personality, and source of strength through this film.

Bert Nieuwenhuis, pastor of Killam Baptist Church, stresses that the showing of "Corrie" is open to the public free of charge. "We encourage families to plan to attend together, for what we believe will be a memorable experience," he concluded.

WINTER COURSES FOR FARMERS

What rights have I in oil and gas wells leases?

Am I required by law to treat for water?

How do I go about getting a license to drill my property?

What rights have I as a tenant or a landlord?

If you want answers to these and other questions, our Farm Law Seminar may interest you. This 3-day course scheduled for 14, 15, 16 February covers the whole range of farm law including livestock inspection, trespass, motor vehicles, firearms, the new 2 year machinery warranty, brands, surface rights, County By-Laws, farm leases, etc. Amongst our speakers is one of the top agricultural lawyers in Alberta. These sessions (which run from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in Sodegwick) will be summarized in a handbook of farm law available to all participants. Registration fee is $5.00.

Another seminar which may interest oilseed growers is our Rapeseed Course scheduled for Forestburg in February. Issues such as the new Blackleg Disease coming in from Saskatchewan, the suitability of Canola, Regent and Tower varieties, and weed control methods will be discussed. Representatives of the major processing companies will also be on hand. Watch the newspapers for further details.

FUNDING GUIDES REQUESTED BY A.T.A.

The Alberta Teachers' Association is disappointed by the Alberta government's decision not to announce 1978-79 percentage increases at this time, says ATA president Mac Ryanowski.

"This will cause problems for school boards, forcing them to prepare next year's budgets without the benefit of guidelines as to possible grant increases," he said.

"I do not, however, see this influencing wage negotiations with the teachers," he said, adding that "WFA's reported inflation rate of 9.1 percent for November, the government's suggested 6 to 7 percent increase for public sector wage settlements is extremely unrealistic."

Mr. Ryanowski questions whether there still will be limits on the amounts of supplementary requisitions, since they were not mentioned in the statement Monday by Provincial Treasurer Mary Leitch.

"If not, that would be welcomed as a move toward reversing the decision making to school boards, giving them more opportunity to determine funding allocations for local programs."

Furthermore, the ATA is hopeful that the announcement also means restraints will be removed from capital expenditures. "We would like to see money made available for replacement of some of the older schools in the province. This would be in addition to creating new schools," said Mr. Ryanowski.

F. & G. MEMBER BANDS 30 BIRDS

The Iron Creek Fish and Game held a successful Pot Luck Game Supper on Nov. 28, 1977. After a good meal of various game dishes, two interesting outdoor films were shown. The door raffish were won by Bill Baker and Eber Walte. The club has been busy putting out more nesting sites for geese. Twelve of the large round flat straw bales were put out, six in the area southwest of Merna, two north of Forestburg, three northeast of Sedgewick, and one north of Sedgewick. These bales were supplied to this year by Alberta Parks, Recreation, and Wildlife Division, funded through Bucks for Wildlife from your hunting license. Thanks to the club members who used their vehicles and took time to put these bales out.

At the regular meeting in December, Eric Homberg reported that he had banded 50 Blue Birds and 75 Tree Swallows. This was not a complete banding of all birds that nested in the Blue Bird boxes this year, as all boxes couldn't be checked. Now is a good time to check out your Blue Bird boxes in preparation for next year. More Blue Bird boxes will be available in the spring.

The annual meeting of the Iron Creek Fish and Game Club will be held on Jan. 10, 1978 in the Legion Hall in Loughheed at 8:00 p.m. See you there.

Gerry Matthews of Rocky Mountain House spent a couple of days with grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Barney Matthews.

Howard Matthews of Red Deer spent Christmas with his parents.

A special Christmas thrill for the Matthews was a phone call from their son Frank in Egypt.

He says he is now wearing a light jacket, it is so warm. He and his wife enjoy the life there, so many new sights and experiences.

Eve Cookson received a letter from Mrs. Perkins and also sent greetings to all her Hardisty friends.

The Sunday before Christmas Bill Davies answered his phone and to his great surprise it was his sister, calling from Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Davidson have returned to the Manor after attending first, Mr. Davidson's aunt's funeral and later his mother, Mrs. Davidson passed away in the Fairview Auxiliary hospital, so they had and experience while away from Hardisty.

We were stunned to hear over T.V. the sad news of Roydell McKinnon's accident and we offer our deepest sympathy to his family and relatives.

Over twenty some years ago Raynold drove the N.A.D.P. cream truck and called regularly at your reporter's home to pick up the cream and deliver the cream cheese.

After not seeing him for many years it was a pleasure to see him and his family at the turkey bingos in Loughhead.

We just never know what will happen next. We never know too, just how far news in this paper goes either. After attending the Norman Lifeson 50th wedding anniversary, Mrs. Lifeson read what I had written about it while at her daughter's in Kelowna and was going to get her granddaughter to type a copy of for her.

Congratulations to the new-lyweds who are likely in Hawaii by this time. Paul Drager and Jeannette Moran.

We see where Jayme Morrison was the lucky winner of the cake doll raffled by the Hardisty Agricultural Society. Congratulations. His mother Joyce is learning the banking business, so will be a regular there, replacing Carol Reid.

We were surely sorry to learn that Mrs. Joe Kost had fallen in the basement stairway and broke her ankle quite bad.

Ab Martin heads P.C. association

The Vermilion-Viking Progressive Conservative Association held their annual meeting on December 2, 1977 in the Kinross Hall, Kinross, Alberta.

Following a delicious supper, M.I.A. Tom Lyons introduced the guests: the Honourable Merv Leitch, and several of the mayors from surrounding towns, who each brought greetings from their respective towns.

Honorable Merv Leitch, Provincial Treasurer then gave the address, which was followed by a lively question period. The quality of the questions was most interesting.

The newly elected executive is as follows: President - Ab Martin; Loughhead: First Vice - Gus Probst, Loughhead; Second Vice - Tom Burton, Loughhead; printed as reminders to ski-doo operators and one is that no person shall operate a snow vehicle within any school grounds in the County of Stettler.

One complaint that your reporter was told about was so many operators in the Hardisty schoolyard that T.V.s were turned off and sometimes a T.V. is an order person only form of entertainment.

Alberta Union of Rural Electricification Associations Ltd. President Al McGhan of the Alberta Union of Rural Electricification Associations Ltd. reports a very successful two-day Board Meeting was held recently.

Cabinet Ministers Warrack and Harle attended the meeting briefly for discussion of rural power matters, also present with them were two assistant Deputy Ministers.

Government and Power Company personnel were in attendance during the second day of the meeting.

Discussion centered around the proposed re-organization of certain sections of Government Departments concerned with rural utilities.

Reports were received and discussed regarding the underground installation of power lines, amalgamation of several R.E.A.s into larger units, costs of re-contruction, adequacy of Deposit Reserve Accounts for this purpose and other items stemming from resolutions passed at the Annual Meeting held in Red Deer last June.

Mr. McGhan reports that this type of meeting is very fruitful for all rural power consumers and will continue to be held for discussion of mutual concerns.

Sedgewick and District News Items

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Sinden of Red Deer were New Year's guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Matthews.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Baker of Singapore on the birth of a 6 lb. 12 ounce daughter. Carole Jean arrived on January 2nd in Singapore.

So Jim and Alece are grand-children to Mrs. Jeanie Baker in a great grandmother for the first time. And Mrs. L. Gonnell is a great grandmother again. Alece says that all is well with the new mother and baby and she sure wishes she could get to the hospital to visit them!

Do I ever wish the news came in every week as well as it did that!

At the Bob McBride home Cathy said that all the "kids" were home either on Christmas or Boxing Day or both. A friend of Lena, Mr. Norman John Stone, enjoyed the Christmas festivities with the McBrides.

Get well wishes to Mrs. Clara Bilow and Mr. Dwayne Bilow and all other local folk who are patients in the Killam Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Laddie Webb and Mr. and Mrs. Jules Lacourriere all of Edmonton were Christmas guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Leach.

Spending Christmas Day at Willowmore Farm as guests of the William Hallum family were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hallum of Camrose, Mrs. Jean Barry of Killam and Mr. and Mrs. James Hallum.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Webb motored to Edmonton on Saturday (24th Dec.) morning and travelled with son John to Whitecourt where they spent four days over Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Dale Groat (nee Nettie Webb) and family.

A former resident of Sedgewick, Mr. Adam Bayle of Lacombe, passed away on Christmas Day.

M.L.A.'s limited to 6% raise

by Kevin Peterson

Vowing to set an example of restraint, all M.L.A.s, cabinet ministers and Peter Lougheed have decided to limit their annual pay raises to six per cent during 1978.

Conservatives adopted the limit in December when Provincial Treasurer Mary Letch declared that the next budget will allow wage increases of only six to seven per cent for public employees, Lougheed announced.

The premier reported that the restriction may be a factor influencing a "fair number" of his ministers who plan to decide whether to seek re-election again this summer.

Lougheed said some veterans are feeling the strain of their offices and find themselves making considerable financial sacrifices in politics.

Among ministers understood to be reviewing their futures are Don Getty of energy, Deputy Premier Hugh Roper, Allan Warrack of utilities, Solicitor-General Roy Narra, Helen Hinley of social services and possibly Letch.

The premier estimated that M.L.A.s were entitled to an 8.8 per cent hike as of April 1 while ministers could claim about 12 per cent under pay legislation passed after the last election in 1975.

After the six-per-cent raise, M.L.A.s will receive $18,225 including the tax-free expense allowance of $8,075 which legislature members of all ranks are granted. The new rate represents an overall hike of $1,082.

Cabinet ministers and opposition leader Bob Clark will not

Lougheed's salary reaches $51,811, up $2,916.

M.L.A.s had also previously accepted restrictions, when the federal government imposed wage controls and Alberta agreed to join the anti-inflation program. Payments were originally scheduled to reach $18,709 for M.L.A.s, $49,186 for ministers and the opposition leader, and $58,113 for the premier.

Lougheed declined comment on other politicians' salaries but the M.L.A.'s decision was a sharp contrast to City of Edmonton practice. The provincial capital's aldermen have voted themselves a 60-per-cent hike to $19,200.

N.D.P. leader Grant Lolley accepted the limit along with Clark and the Social Credit caucus, and Gordon Taylor (Ind.-Drumheller). But Lolley said the rule is "Cosmo" and that ministers' raises should be limited to $2,400.

Clark said the rule should also cover the politicians' special assistants. The Socred chief, Noddy and Taylor said their office staffs are affected.

Clark said the Lougheed cabinet should cancel an order-in-council of December that granted the minister's executive assistants a $200-a-month, across-the-board raise.

The assistants' hike, retroactive to last August, ran from 6.5 per cent to 21.5 per cent, depending where it applied on a grid of three salary ranges. But they are not considered regular civil servants and the raise was $2,400 a year, the guideline for professionals.

Lougheed said politicians' wages have to be restricted to give credibility to the government's conclusion that most public spending must continue to be restrained in 1978-79.

Hardisty win tournament

In spite of the cold weather on New Year's Day good crowds were on hand at Killam's annual hockey tournament.

The first game was between Killam and Dayland with the latter winning by a 5 to 4 score in overtime.

The second match saw Sedgewick and Hardisty pitted against each other. The last three minutes of the third saw Hardisty scoring three goals to win by a 7 to 6 score.

The final between the powerful Hardisty team and Dayland was fast and end hockey. The final score of 7 to 3 for Hardisty was not a good indication of the fine calibre of hockey.

The Lions Light Juggling night was December 21st. The judges finally decided as follows:

First - Joe Hope
Second - John Golia
Third - Doug Harrison

Honorable mention goes to Harry Hahn, Norman Macer, Allan Nelson, Percy Powell, and the judges also felt the Town of Hardisty had Main Street night in. The Lions and McGies had their usual outstanding displays.

The Lions Club would like to extend their thanks to the Judges: Rick Sutjens, Louis deKorck, and Gilbert Tilmar.

The evening also included a Turkey Dinner for Lions and guests after which there was entertainment by Hardisty's Melody Masters. The group was given a $25.00 donation and, a big thank you for a very enjoyable program.

Also on hand to accept a cheque for $882 was Bill Bourque (right), representing the Arena Management Board. The cheque covers partial payment on the ice tractor and was presented by Bill Davidson.

Pete Staszko retires from Strome mill

A long-time employee of the Strome Mill, Pete Staszko, has retired after nearly thirty years on years of service.

He came to Strome in 1941 and began working for Sterling Flour Mills under the ownership of Mac McQuig. The Mill was in full swing milling flour at that time and Pete worked as a trucker, hauling flour to many parts of the province. He also hauled coal for the operation of the Mill from the mine at Forestburg.

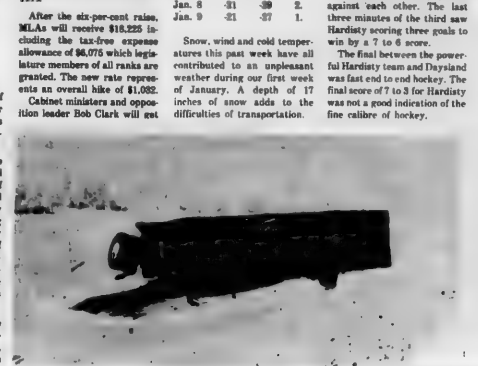

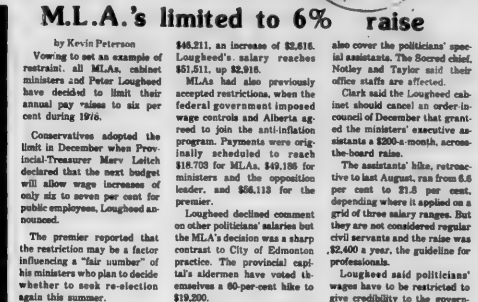

In 1942, two men from Okotoks, Van Humbek and Jim Congrove bought the Mill and Pete continued working for them for six years. During this time the change over from coal to electrical power was made at the Mill.

In 1948 Byers Flour Mills of Camrose took over as new owners of Sterling Flour Mills. After a few years the milling of flour was shut down and they went into the full business of mixing and grinding flours for livestock with Cecil Short as manager, followed by Roy O. Neil and Don Flury.

By 1965, Pete accepted the position of manager. The Feed Mill expanded into the selling of veterinary supplies. He worked for Byers for nearly twenty years when the Sterling Flour Mills was purchased by the Blaine-Bron, Ed and Ray of Killam and Strome. The business changed to the name Strome Feed Service, and Pete continued as manager until his resignation on Dec. 31, 1977.

Over the years he has made many acquaintances with various business firms and others, as well as serving the farmers in and around Strome district. He is grateful for everyone's co-operation and wishes the Strome Feed Service continued success.

BAD WEEN - Last week was a bad one for Stets Trucking of Strome. Last Wednesday one of their grain trucks was in collision with a train at the Strome crossing. The driver, Ray McKenzie was killed. On Tuesday morning another grain truck overturned on Highway 36 at the Bulwark road turn off.

HUMAN OR INHUMAN RULES

The New Year is often a time we re-evaluate our life style. I felt this would be an appropriate time to share an article written by Nadine Vester, Alberta Agriculture's Family Living Specialist.

Were you aware we all live by rules, regardless of how chaotic our lives may appear?

There are the "house" rules we all have in our heads: "I should be more patient," "I should save $80.00 a month," "I should have supper ready at 6:00 p.m.," "I should never be angry," "I should love my mother," "I should not resent my baby when I have to get up for that 3 a.m. bottle." Our rules are as cliché as there is always room for one more; waste not, want not; penny wise and pound foolish; children should be seen and not heard; it is better to give than to receive; a stitch in time saves nine; you cannot teach an old dog new tricks; and smile and the world smiles with you.

Rules are necessary for the smooth operation of our highways and our lives, but rules can be "human" or "inhuman." What does that mean? A "human" rule is one that meets your family's needs when you use it. Conversely, an "inhuman" rule is one that does not meet your needs. In fact, it may even hinder your meeting your needs.

We all know people who lived through the "dirty thirties" who never threw anything away because "it might come in handy." It is an "inhuman" rule when it interferes with living space.

Having supper at 6:00 p.m. is a "human" rule if it allows your family some time together, pleasantly satisfies hunger and is convenient for your evening activities. It is "inhuman" if you have supper at 6:00 p.m. but you are always had it at that time in your parental home, regardless of the inconvenience.

Beware of rules that come from other people. "I never let my kids with babysitters" has been heard on the lips of female forbearers. Perhaps grandmas were willing to babysit and, cheaply, perhaps money was scarce for gardening around; perhaps these people denied themselves the need for a break from motherhood; perhaps they "should not".... The rules that are "human" in your family may be "inhuman" in your family's future. This is a challenge to examine the rules your family live by. "Human" or "inhuman"?

REMEMBER: There will be a Flagstaff 4-H District Meeting on January 11, 1978 at 6:00 p.m. This meeting will be held in the Council Chambers of the County Bldg., Sedgwick. Each 4-H Club should send at least one representative.

Flagstaff Lodge News Items

Berry not to have had news in last week but the flag caught up with me and I did not feel like writing any. Nice way to start a New Year out.

Thanks to the GIMG girls of Killam for entertaining us at the Lodge with their singing and the Baptist ladies for bringing a lovely lunch.

Jennie McInnis was out for supper at Stuart's Cannovs home the Christmas and stayed the night. On Christmas Eve she had a very pleasant surprise when she returned home from her nephew Tom Kelly who lives in Philadelphia. She spent the night with Kay and his brother Frances. It was nice to hear from them. She spent Christmas Eve and Christmas Day with her son Jack, Billy and the boys. They all went up to Maurice Hart's who live in Killam on Christmas Eve. Jennie also spent a couple of days at the George Anderson home at the New Year. She had a good time at all the places she visited over the holidays.

A lot of the guests in the Lodge spent Christmas with their families. There was about sixteen left here for dinner.

On December 31, 1977 the Polka Kings of Loughheed were here and played us some nice dance tunes. It made us feel like kicking up our heels.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baxter of Calgary, Alta. and Myrtle (Baxter) Jack of California were down visiting their many friends in the lodge.

Blanche Hagler of Foreburg was visiting Uncle Ben Hagler. Bert and Freda Jackson of Hardisty were in to see Mrs. Baxter and Hazel Brewster.

Hester and Helen White of Loughheed were in visiting their many friends and brought us some goodies. On his drive home, Edith Eckstrand brought us some goodies for the Christmas holiday and they were sure good. Thank you ever so much.

Many Albert and Bill Gordon of Loughheed were in to visit Ann and Cliff Bowden of Chahak, Alta. were in to visit Mrs. Ben Weber and Mrs. Gwen Weber.

Under The Spell

The lights from a passing vehicle broke the spell and brought me back to earth. With a startled exclamation I came to the realization that it was bitterly cold and my face felt stiff as a board. I briskly rubbed my cheeks. How long had I been standing out here? Time had ceased for me. I couldn't tell if it had been 5 minutes or 25 minutes since I had closed the car door and had stood gazing up spellbound by the activity of the Northern Lights.

A shimmering luminous arc spread across the entire sky for a few magic moments before rapidly disintegrating as if saying "Goodnight" to me. I held my breath. The twinkling stars in the night sky waited too. Nothing happened. Was the snow over for the night? Could I go in now and get warm? I could see my breath as I breathed out. But now teasing filaments rippled here and there and slowly flickered into a broad blue streamer raced to meet the horizon and changed before my eyes into a feathery fan that heaven gently closed. I could not draw myself away from the night's sparkling spectacle.

DOES WINTER WEIGHT LOSS IN COWS MEAN LIGHTER CALVES?

Healthy beef cows, five years and older, can lose 100 to 200 pounds during the winter without affecting the weaning weight of their calves.

This is the conclusion reached by P.G. Hery and J. Hodges of the University of British Columbia after investigations involving eight commercial cow-calf ranches.

The cows in all but one of the eight herds studied consistently lost weight each winter and regained it the following summer. The research results showed no valid reason for reducing winter weight losses.

In one herd it was found that the two year-old heifers were of average-sized calves, while the three and four year-olds in the same herd weaned smaller calves. Since it was also found that the three and four year-olds had gained more weight than the heifers over the summer, the researchers concluded that it could be advantageous to preferentially feed young cows during the winter following their first and second calving to prevent them from losing weight.

REMEMINDER: If you gave your cows an injection of ADG before fall, now is the time to inject. Because of the increased demands of pregnancy over the next 8 months this injection is particularly important.

REMEMINDER: The deadline for bringing your contributions to the Western Grain Stabilization Fund for 1977 up to the maximum 2% is January 15, 1978.

waiting and frolicking in wild abandonment across the sky. We may see a rippling streamer reflecting off brushfire's brilliant armor or a luminous band that is a glimmering gown worn by one of the warrior maidens who are called the Valkyries. We know Valhalla's roof is made of shields when Odin's fireproof mirrors it in the form of a rhapsodic arch over our heads.

My imagination is fired by floating hares and gay goddesses when I am under the spell of the Northern Lights. By going outside on a clear night and gazing upward, you, too, may discover this magic and find yourself as entranced that time will mean nothing. From experience, let me caution you to please dress warmly.
